Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Avalos

=====
From: David Baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Baker

=====
From: David Bandy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Bandy

=====

From: David Barco
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Barco

33125

=====

From: David Barnes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Protect Net neutrality. Don't turn more over to corporations.

David Barnes

64724

=====

From: David Bartkowiak
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Bartkowiak

=====
From: David Basinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Basinger

=====
From: David Bayes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Bayes

=====
From: david baylor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

david baylor

=====

From: David Blanco
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Blanco

=====

From: David Blank
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Blank

=====

From: David Boudreau
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content No Time Warner merger!

David Boudreau

=====
From: David Brame
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Brame

51652

=====
From: David Brayfield
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Mr Wheeler-

Net neutrality means an equal playing field for all. I do not want to see the internet become a place where the richest corporations effectively govern, where vested interests will dictate quality of access. To paraphrase George Orwell, I am not in favor of an internet where some are "equaler" than others.

Make your pioneering and immigrant forefathers and mothers proud- support net neutrality.

David Brayfield

David Brayfield

61821

=====
From: David Britton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Britton

=====

From: david Brodzeller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david Brodzeller

=====

From: david brown
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some conten. Net freedom is the only way the world will ever get past the stupid ideas and hatred bread into us by our own parents and culture.

david brown

48509

=====

From: david carlson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david carlson

=====
From: David Caskey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Caskey

=====
From: David Castellon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Castellon

=====
From: David Christie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Christie

=====
From: David Claver
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I'm writing you again to remind you how important it is to have an open internet where the content is not controlled by a few large corporations. I have worked in the communication business for over 20 years and I have seen what happens when you give a few large corporations the kind of control you are thinking about doing with a pay to play scheme they would like to have. So I urge you to keep the internet open to all of it's diverse users. We should have a goal of having an affordable internet that all people can connect to not an exclusive one that only the wealthy can use.

David Claver

92688

=====
From: David clendaniel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David clendaniel

=====
From: david cole
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david cole

=====
From: David Collins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net Neutrality and security are the most important issues for the FCC to protect.

Please make sure you protect the citizens of the country, and not the media corporations.

David Collins

40207

=====
From: David Conover
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Conover

=====
From: David Cooley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

When we say net neutrality, we mean exactly that. Not your version which allows big business to manipulate internet speed access for higher profit. Mister Wheeler you should resign. You can not be trusted.

David Cooley

55331

=====

From: David Cox
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Without the internet, there's no way my wife would have been able to do the patent searching, learning what is required to obtain a patent, etc. that has enabled her to obtain a patent on a type of specialized apparel for the handicapped, which enables them to dress themselves without the aid of others, thus contributing to their independence and comfort. Her LLC, which is in process of establishing, in USA, manufacturing will provide needed jobs and economic growth. Please protect Net Neutrality form the ills of any privatization or favoritizing.

David Cox

47172

=====

From: David crawford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David crawford

=====

From: david creagh
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

david creagh

38107

=====
From: david cruzen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david cruzen

=====
From: David daavies
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David daavies

=====
From: David Dail
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Dail

=====
From: David Dalton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Ending net neutrality is not about a faster internet. For me. it means a slower internet and more money for cable and telcom companies who already charge outrageous $ for undependable service. Preserve net neutrality.

David Dalton

27403

=====
From: David Dalton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Dalton

98374

=====
From: David David
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David David

From: David Davis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet should remain open to all and not controlled by just a few.

David Davis

66007

=====
From: David DeBruyn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David DeBruyn

=====
From: David Deshler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

To me net neutrality means that all users, those with lots of money and those with little should be on a level playing field when it comes to using the internet. Paying more for fast lanes just to allow the media to steal more profit is not net neutrality. There should never be two or more lanes that allow those who have money to be have an advantage.

The internet should be democratic and not the playing field for the rich.

If this proposed ruling goes forward, I will hold your vote as a dagger to the heart of democracy.

David Deshler

98367

=====
From: David Deutsch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net neutrality is consistent with the public good. It is not consistent with private interests. You are there to serve the public good. So do it.

David Deutsch

92115

=====
From: David Dighera
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Dighera

=====
From: David Driver
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Driver

=====

From: David Eager
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Eager

=====

From: David Eaton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Eaton

=====

From: David Elk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Corporate greed has become a spreading cancer on the life of 90% of this country. This is corporate dictatorship. Breaking net neutrality is controlling information so people can't learn what monster these corporations are. They are not people. They are run by people who are addicted to power and wealth. Wealth is power and they want to consume all. Destroying net neutrality is just a step along the road to dictatorship. If it doesn't stop I hope there are enough gun, bullets and 75mm mortars shells to send a message of another kind...aimed at their mansions, families and ways of life!!!! Goddamn your merger or your way of life!!

David Elk

73012

=====
From: David Ellison
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Ellison

=====
From: David Epp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Epp

=====
From: David Erikson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Erikson

=====

From: David feinsmith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David feinsmith

=====

From: David Floyd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Floyd

=====

From: David Fowler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Fowler

=====
From: David French
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet --- PLEASE PROTECT NET NEUTRALITY

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Todd Wheeler,

I think it's clear the people have spoken. Net Neutrality is an important foundation to freedom of expression on the internet and many people's livelihoods and work depend upon a fair and even playing field. We can not let the interests of the few trump the rights of the many. I urge you to do the right thing, and protect NN. If the FCC does not follow through on the clear voice of democracy, then I fear many more citizens will become disengaged and apathetic towards our nations prosperity and progress. We can not sacrifice that future.

David French

78745

=====
From: david frost
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david frost

=====
From: David Garrett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Garrett

31410

=====
From: David Gentry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Gentry

=====
From: David Gephard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

As a disabled person, I am unable to work. My only income comes from my Social Security check. What will happen to me and others in a similar situation when we can not afford a priority delivery of email?

David Gephard

06409

=====
From: David Gerke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Gerke

88301

=====
From: David Getsinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Getsinger

=====
From: David Glaser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It is essential for a democratic-republic to have an informed citizenry. By not preserving net neutrality the FCC will allow the monied interests to control our access to information.

David Glaser

10014

=====
From: David Glasser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

How does NET NEUTRALITY equate to "FOR THE PRIVILEGED FEW?"

David Glasser

91406

=====
From: david golas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david golas

=====
From: david Gomez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david Gomez

=====
From: David Gotshall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Gotshall

46012

=====
From: David Graves
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Graves

=====
From: David Guleke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Guleke

19013

=====
From: David Hacker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Hacker

22042

=====
From: David Hamilton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Hamilton

=====
From: David Hand
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality, means I won't have to read adds for products I already own. Net neutrality means i won't spend more time waiting for adds to load than it takes to read the content.

Net neutrality means the providers will have to stop providing minimal access at maximum cost, and figure out the technical answers, instead of focussing on only the bottom line.

If they don't have the pride to provide better service they should not be rewarded with a monopoly. Why are we being forced to buy access to free content with mediocre download speed, and unreliable service.

We went to the Moon with a slide rule, Where is the will to provide real broad band for the whole nation.

David Hand

11772

=====
From: david handell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I strongly believe the internet should be regarded and regulated by the government as a common utility and should be free and open to all citizens without throttling of any content. I know you will recall during the 1970's and 1980's the high cost of long distance telephone service which, at the time, Congress was told by the telecom industry the high rates were justified to wire the nation to provide high speed internet. That did not happen, so where did the money go??? Now, 30 years later, the United States is no longer a technological leader in internet connectivity. The greed and profiteering of the internet service providers continues unabated. It must stop. Americans should not be held hostage by the service providers. Net neutrality is a must for the future of our country.

david handell

46373

=====

From: David Hanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Hanson

=====

From: David Harchelroad
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet has been the greatest tool for freedom ever invented. Now corporations are trying to pervert it by bringing in money and corruption. Please protect net neutrality. It is one of the most important decisions you will ever make.

David Harchelroad

35209

=====

From: David Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

For democracy - what's left of it.

You know the Founding Fathers would've been in favor of a free internet.

David Harris

93003

=====

From: David Harwood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Harwood

=====

From: David Henderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Henderson

=====

From: David Henthorne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Henthorne

=====

From: David Henton Sr

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Henton Sr

=====
From: David Herman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Herman

19027

=====
From: David Hicks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Hicks

=====
From: David Hissey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Hissey

73054

=====
From: David Holliday
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Holliday

=====
From: David Howell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Howell

32713

=====
From: David Howerton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Howerton

30052

=====
From: DAVID HUERTA
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

THIS PUSH BY THE BIG TELECOMS AND TECH BUSINESSES IS WHY THINGS ARE SO BAD IN THE US NOW!!! THERE IS NO FAIRNESS IN BUSINESS THESE DAYS AND BILLS SUCH AS THESE MAKE THAT EVEN MORE APPARENT!! I AM A SIMPLE LABORER AND GENERALLY DONT COMMENT ON THINGS LIKE THESE BUT THIS IS GETTING OUT OF HAND!!! PLEASE, PLEASE LEAVE THE INTERNET THE WAY IT WAS CREATED..AND LETS KEEP A SENSE OF FAIRNESS IN ALL OUR PRACTICES...

DAVID HUERTA

78239

=====
From: David Huff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

While I have the thoughts to go into great detail here, I have neither the time nor the energy, so I'll keep it brief.

The internet must remain open. Access to the internet is widely considered a basic human right in the modern era, and in the US it's become an integral part of the first amendment. Allowing anyone to prioritize, block, slow, or otherwise control access to it interferes with that right and is inherently unacceptable. Internet 'fast-lanes' would tear apart the internet as we know it and leave it dominated by those who can afford to control it, and the potential for censorship is obvious and abhorrent.

I don't want to live in a world where corporations can legally purchase means of stomping upstart competitors, and I don't want to turn down a road that could ultimately lead to the legal silencing of dissent from any corner. The internet must remain free and neutral.

I urge the FCC to assert its authority under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility.

David Huff

83440

=====
From: David Hughey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Hughey

=====

From: David Hughey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Please verify your email address to join my trusted email community

<https://sendio.com> HYPERLINK "<https://sendio.com/solutions/opt-inbox/>"Sendio Opt-Inbox

Your email to David Hughey <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> is almost there!

We need to verify your email address.
Click the button to instantly become a trusted sender.

HYPERLINK
"<https://sav.sendio.net/ashmorebros.com/sav?ua=dhughey&sa=OpenInternet%40fcc.gov&id=1409925886.22211.01.00.234fffb0.ac32>"? Verify me
<https://sav.sendio.net/static/img/sav-img.png>

(To view this message as a web page, HYPERLINK
"<https://sav.sendio.net/ashmorebros.com/msg?ua=dhughey&sa=OpenInternet%40fcc.gov&id=1409925886.22211.01.00.234fffb0.ac32&un=David%20Hughey&on=Ashmore%20Brothers>"click here.)

Thanks for your email. Ashmore Brothers is using Sendio's Opt-Inbox technology to ensure they do not receive unwanted email. Verifying your email address will ensure that all future email from xxxx@xxxx.xxx will be delivered directly to David Hughey's inbox without delay.

Verification using the button above is instantaneous but if you prefer, simply
HYPERLINK
"<mailto:verify-1409925886.22211.01.00.234fffb0-dhughey%40ashmorebros.com?subject=Verify%20me&body=No%20text%20needed%2C%20just%20send%20this>."sending a reply to this email will also work.

Need help, or want to learn more about how Opt-Inbox verification works? HYPERLINK
"<https://sendio.com/solutions/opt-inbox/verification-process/>"Click here.

If you did not send a recent email to xxxx@xxxx.xxx, please disregard this message.

Thanks,

Team Sendio

=====
From: David Hulsey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Hulsey

=====
From: David Jackson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Jackson

=====
From: xxxxx@xxxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: David K James
Email: xxxxx@xxxxx.xxx
Address: Farmers Branch, TX
Zip: 75234

Dear Chairman Wheeler

Just don't do it. Remember: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it!"

Please don't break the Internet. Don't abandon the Hands off the Net approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built today's broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title II's draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&T's government-created monopoly. They're a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We don't buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling today's bipartisan "Hands off the Net" approach. You can't have just enough Title II any more than you can be slightly pregnant.

Title II would hurt startups most: they can't cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCC's powers over the Internet. Remember, you won't be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you don't intend.

Yet, as you've noted, Title II wouldn't even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban fast lanes.

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called "vigilant restraint." But remember Kennard's digital mantra, too: "First, do no harm." If you conclude that existing laws aren't adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCC's authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim whether that's Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: David & Janet McConnaughey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David & Janet McConnaughey

=====
From: David Jensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Jensen

=====
From: David Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Johnson

=====
From: DAVID JOHNSON
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DAVID JOHNSON

=====
From: David Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Johnson

=====
From: David Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Jones

91311

=====
From: David Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet's strength has been it's openness. Because of this openness it has been an engine for economic growth. Net Neutrality will enable the internet to continue to be an engine for growth. To allow the telecoms to discriminate, pick traffic winners and losers, we destroy the very thing that has made the internet a success.

Likewise the Comcast/Time Warner merger needs to be blocked. We need more competition not less. There is nothing to be gained by this merger except higher prices and worse service. FYI, I am currently a Time Warner customer and dreading what Comcast would do to my already marginal service.

If anything, the internet needs to be declared a utility. This is because that is exactly what it has become.

Thank you.
David Jones

David Jones

47170

=====
From: David Jutt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Big Telecom has been raping the public for years. Everyone holds their noses as they pay their monthly internet/cable/phone bill. Many other countries offer better service at a far reduced cost than what is offered in the U.S. We can do better.

David Jutt

10583

=====
From: David Kanter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Kanter

20637

=====
From: david kehlenbrink
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david kehlenbrink

=====
From: David Kellin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Kellin

=====
From: david kissinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

david kissinger

08330

=====
From: David Kissinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Kissinger

97404

=====

From: David Klutts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

You know Mr Wheeler, this is getting old, very old. The American people should not have to beg an employee of theirs (you) to do the right thing. It doesn't take a genius to figure out that the internet is a utility, no different from telephones, gas or electricity. People must not be inhibited from receiving the full benefit of the internet and one more time, be put at the mercy of the giant corporations.

While we're on the subject of big corporations, isn't it concerning to you that these days corporations are treated as citizens and the citizens are treated like nobody cares about them. This won't work Mr Wheeler, we're talking plutocracy here. That's why added to the list of non-starters is the merger between Comcast and Time Warner. That's purely against the interests of the American people and you damn well know it. At this rate Saudi Arabia will have more independent sources of information than America. So, my question to you sir is what is taking you so long to see the obvious unless you're trying to find some bs way of selling us out that you think we won't notice? Not at all likely sir.

Do the right thing Mr Wheeler, and come down on the side of the American people, not transnational corporations.

David Klutts

92054

=====
From: David Knapp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Knapp

=====
From: David Kreiss-Tomkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear FCC board:

Net neutrality is critical to our democracy. If more wealthy companies can get faster service, the information they provide will be more privileged. This privileges the voice of the wealthy over the voice of those without wealth. This bias in our conversations will then disrupt our ability to conduct the difficult task of educating ourselves properly when discussing the political choices we ask of our government. Because of this you must enforce a strictly neutral internet. Thank you.

David Kreiss-Tomkins

99835

=====
From: David Lacey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Lacey

80209

=====
From: David La Fountain
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David La Fountain

=====
From: David Lahr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Lahr

=====

From: David Laing
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet MUST remain open, PERIOD!

David Laing

04981

=====

From: david lamb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david lamb

=====

From: David Lamborn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Lamborn

=====

From: David Landskron
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Landskron

33884

=====

From: David Lane
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The FCC can determine who controls the internet -- people or corporations, and I, for one, am requesting that you make a decision for we, the people. The FCC already has the authority to regulate the internet as a public utility under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934. Please assert that authority to benefit all users of the internet, not just wealthy corporations.

Thank you,

David & Patti Lane

David Lane

97520

=====

From: David Larrimore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

keep net neutrality

David Larrimore

=====
From: David Larson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Larson

=====
From: David Legg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Legg

97267

=====
From: David L. Gilchrist
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David L. Gilchrist

=====
From: david lindberg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Corporations already have too much power without ceding the internet to them also.

david lindberg

53233

=====
From: David Loewy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is a must. With all the mergers going on in the telecom industry we cannot afford to allow different speeds based on cost. What would happen to voice calls on a standard Telcom if the same was proposed? Those 8n the fast lane would have no problem having a clear call while those in the slow lane would have stuttering conversations. This is what would happen to the internet, which would give companies that paid more unfettered access to Internet communications while those stuck in the slow lanes would not be able to watch a video without long pauses and mass frustration for viewers. Net neutrality is essential to allow e erroneous equal access to content.

David Loewy

61755

=====
From: David Lukitsch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Lukitsch

=====
From: David Lusty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Lusty

=====
From: David Lutz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content
David Lutz
97035

=====
From: David Lystrom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content
David Lystrom
80439

=====
From: David Maben
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Maben

=====

From: David Mackett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Corporations have already taken a huge chunk out of the American economy for the benefit of a few plutocrats and to the detriment of the 99% rest of us. Corporations now have so much influence on our government that we can already assume we're living under a fascist system.

The internet was developed by the tax payers and should remain to the benefit of the taxpayers not to usurper cable companies. If you allow these corporations to effectively control the internet you'll be destroying one of the rare vestiges of democracy still remaining in the USA and contributing to the problem not solving it.

THE PROBLEM ISN'T THAT CABLE COMPANY CEOS NEED MORE MONEY ... THE PROBLEM IS THAT WE NEED AS MANY PEOPLE AS POSSIBLE WORKING EFFICIENTLY AND ECONOMICALLY ON THE INTERNET, THAT THEY HELPED BUILD, TO HELP GET THE ECONOMY HUMMING AGAIN FOR THE 99%

KEEP NET NEUTRALITY!

David Mackett

89147

=====

From: David Makinster
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Preserve Net Neutrality! We have already seen the disastrous consequences for democracy, responsible reporting, and civil dialogue, when a small number of people can control the public's access to information. This may be the most important crisis for American democracy to happen on your watch. Do the right thing!

David Makinster

01035

=====

From: David Maloney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Maloney

=====

From: David Manley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Manley

=====

From: David March
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David March

54026

=====

From: David Marco
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Marco

=====

From: David Marcus
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net neutrality has been working just fine. Why fiddle with success? The arguments against net neutrality are specious. The companies involved are just looking out for themselves. Don't be taken in.

David Marcus

02143

=====

From: David Markham
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No to a censored internet!

David Markham

87415

=====

From: David Marr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Please do not allow the merger between Time Warner and Comcast to go through.

I am very active on the Internet and already pay more than I can really afford to Comcast for the bandwidth that I have. This proposed merger could only make matters Worse.

Please come out in support of Net Neutrality so we the people can enjoy the Internet Without having to pay exorbitant fees.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
David W. Marr
Norwich,CT

David Marr

06360

=====
From: David Mason
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Mason

=====
From: David Matteson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet could help to increase democracy -- if we can continue net NEUTRALITY.

David R Matteson, Ph.D.
Crete IL USA

David Matteson

60417

=====
From: David McDonald
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David McDonald

=====
From: David McIntosh
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify Please keep the internet neutral and unbound by corporations. They are Large enough and don't deserve more favors. Protect democracy like you are supposed to.

David McIntosh

48025

=====
From: David McLean
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David McLean

=====
From: david merrill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

david merrill

03887

=====
From: David M Gitchel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David M Gitchel

=====
From: David Mocsny
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Mocsny

=====

From: David Morrow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Morrow

=====

From: David Murphree
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Murphree

=====

From: David Murphy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Murphy

53085

=====

From: David Murray

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Murray

=====

From: DAVID Musselman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DAVID Musselman

=====

From: David Nebel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Do not let this merger happen! A megga cable company will defeat the free enterprise system.

David Nebel

30277

=====

From: David Newsome
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Newsome

=====

From: david nickerson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david nickerson

=====

From: David Nicolson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Nicolson

=====

From: David Niimi

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Niimi

=====
From: David Noble
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

in my experience, as a homeowner in both Baltimore and N.Y., and as someone who has travelled to other parts of the world, a Comcast /Time- Warner merger is unthinkable.

In Baltimore, Comcast is (ever so slightly) better than Verizon, but still too slow to support the "high Def" option and service drops are frequent.

In N.Y., Time Warner is worse.

I got better internet service in the middle of Krueger Park. In South Africa. Maybe it was a fluke of the weather, maybe I was just standing at the confluence of every cell tower in the country. But I remember wondering why it is not this good in America.

And these companies want to merge. They are keeping the whole country down with their greed.

You are considering this as an option? The only answer is "NO merger"

Then sue them both...and ATT internet...for non delivery of services, and obstruction of the rest of America's possible maintenance of primacy in access to what should be basic services in the year 2014.

And please. Stop considering the corporate pleas for throttles on the internet. They are barely delivering services as they are. Imagine what it would be like if they were allowed to pick and choose (and charge) who got bandwidth.

Thank you,
David Noble

David Noble

21209

=====
From: David Norris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Norris

=====

From: David Norton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Norton

=====

From: David Oberste
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Stop the merger! We don't need another monopoly in big business. The phone companies, the airlines; these mergers haven't helped the way they were supposed to help. The two most poorly rated companies are just going to make one big poorly rated and hated company. And probably cost a lot of people to lose their jobs.

David Oberste

60148

=====

From: David ODonnell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

This matter is undoubtedly of paramount importance to the majority of Americans.

To side with corporate interests over the masses would be disastrous for not only us and our freedoms and our country, but for you as well.

David ODonnell

63367

=====
From: David Ogilvie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Ogilvie

=====
From: David Ordaz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Ordaz

=====
From: David Ornstein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We as a Nation need Net Neutrality. Business as usual, allowing the big to get bigger at the expense of the small, will destroy the amazing economic engine that the Internet has become. Please do not let the Internet go the way that least benefits "We the People." Thank you.

David Ornstein

32312

=====
From: David O'Sullivan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I produce an all volunteer, independent, satirical radio show that also broadcasts on the Internet (koehfm.com) . The fact that Big Telcom might be able to block my feed because they dislike my content is extremely worrying as it is for other small artistic endeavors that strive to speak out. Please do not allow this to happen.

David O'Sullivan

55423

=====
From: David Paine
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Paine

=====
From: David Paul
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

It's simple. REAL Net Neutrality. NO Comcast/Time Warner merger. Stop thinking like a lobbyist.

David Paul

95380

=====
From: David P Creed
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David P Creed

=====
From: David Peters
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler,
I urge you and the FCC to strengthen the neutrality of the internet by protecting it from corporate manipulations of speed and availability. The internet is an essential part of modern life. I rely and millions like me rely on it everyday. I operate a small business as a design consultant. I cannot compete with others who exploit a privileged hierarchy of access. I also rely on it for learning, during emergencies, when traveling, and yes for entertainment too. Accelerating corporate control of its speeds, access and operations is a terrible idea that would become even more exclusive and harmful in the decades to come. Please do everything in you powers to keep one of America's greatest inventions (paid for by us taxpayers) and real gifts to the world open and neutral, now and into the future.
Sincerely and respectfully submitted.
David Peters

David Peters

94117

From: David Peterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Peterson

=====
From: David Pilgrim
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Pilgrim

55108

=====
From: David Pistner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Pistner

14626

=====
From: David Plucker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Plucker

=====
From: David Popalisky
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I strongly support net neutrality.

Consider what the net has done for all of commerce in the US and of course the opportunity for all citizens to access important information about critical issues facing our country and the world.

It is critical that we maintain net neutrality so it does not begin to contract freedom of information or favor the wealthy businesses over the smaller ones seeking to offer goods and services at a competitive price.

Saver Net Neutrality!

David Popalisky

95126

=====
From: David Pottinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net neutrality is important to me. I am retired and living on a fixed income. I can not afford having only a few companies control the internet in regards to price and speed. Please have the same rules for everyone. I can not compete with billion dollar companies for time on the internet if the speed is dependent on how much you pay. I have already paid for my part of the internet through the taxes I pay and have paid throughout the years. Also, I do not want companies deciding what content I can access over the internet. The internet is a public service and necessity and should not be up for sale to the highest bidder. Thank you.

David Pottinger

48703

=====

From: David Prentice
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

One of the main reasons the internet has grown and prospered is because all users are treated equally. Right now big money does not equate to more say on how the internet is run and why do we want to change this? Why should we allow big money to determine what is available for average users? Why does this country seem to think that because someone has more money than another that they are somehow superior and deserve better or preferred treatment in a public forum? People are people no matter how much money they have and all people have a right to equal treatment in this public media so I implore you to keep the freedom of the existing internet open to all users on an equal and unbiased basis by preserving the current net neutrality.

David Prentice

15237

=====
From: David Prutch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Corporations are not people. Do your job and stop the monopolies and greed.

David Prutch

85346

=====
From: David Radens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Why must elections be bought and sold like pork bellies. We (you & I) own the air ways, we lease their use to the networks, lets require open access to anyone who can muster up a certain number of signatures free time. The use of this public utility (the air ways) is what winds up costing millions of $, (net work profits) and is totally like stealing.

David Radens

33705

=====

From: David Raisman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The issue here is really not too important within itself. But most of the steps taken by the Nazis to destroy freedom in Germany were also not very threatening. But small steps were followed by still other small steps and by the time all these little steps came together to form one big powerful mass, it was too late to stop it. Let's not wait for it to get that bad in America. Let's stop the move to less freedom while we are still able to stop it. When any communication system functions so one group has more power to use it than another group, we are headed for less freedom and not more. I strongly urge you to look at the big issue and to keep the power one has to use the Internet equal for all. Thank you.

David Raisman

11209

=====
From: david ramirez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david ramirez

=====
From: David Randall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Free and open communication is the only way to have a true democracy. I want a true democracy. It does not appear that our government wants a true democracy. Mr. FCC, are you bought off? Are you a traitor? We will find out with your ruling. Oh, and by the way, no matter what, you cannot shut the people up. We will not give up our power.

David Randall

99203

=====
From: David Randall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Randall

=====
From: David Rayhill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Rayhill

=====
From: David Reed
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Reed

=====

From: David Reinsmith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Reinsmith

18018

=====

From: David Reisch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Reisch

19805

=====

From: David Reno
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Reno

60062

=====

From: David Richards
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Richards

=====
From: David Richardson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Richardson

=====
From: David Richmond
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please stand up for all of the people you are supposed to be representing, not just the big telecom companies.

With corporate media controlling almost everything but the Internet, it is critical that net neutrality be preserved in fact, not just in B.S. from corporations and agencies.

Thank you.

David Richmond

Portland, OR

David Richmond

97212

=====
From: david rico
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david rico

=====
From: David Roecker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Roecker

=====
From: David Rosmer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Rosmer

23518

=====
From: David Ross
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

It is contrary to our Constitutional guarantee of equality to tilt net neutrality in favor of the wealthy. It is imperative to maintain free and open access to the Internet to maintain freedom for all citizens.

David Ross

01923

=====
From: David Rossi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Rossi

=====
From: David Roy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Roy

61723

=====
From: David Rubin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet must remain open. I firmly believe this. Its nature and character will change into something nobody except corporations will like if it doesn't. I urge you to declare it a utility. At the least, keep it open to all on an equal level, as it has been since its inception. It has worked phenomenally well this way. Why change it?

Sincerely,
David Rubin

David Rubin

93035

=====
From: David Rusonis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Rusonis

15237

=====
From: david russell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The transfer of public resources to private hands in the field of communication is an outrage. To think that compromising net neutrality is a benign act is naive. To change the rules of engagement because of past loyalties and future favors is unprincipled. To abrogate the policies of our allies when the US has been the leader in establishing free unfettered access has implications that are decidedly undemocratic. There is simply no way that you can decide against net neutrality that is not anything more than commercial gain. It is time to declare the internet a public utility and regulate it appropriately. If that is objectionable to service providers who claim the burden of supporting the system is too heavy, then have those assets sold into the public market and establish a national grid just like the electric grid and charge the service providers for access. And finally, consider the sources of those trying to tier service. Do they appear to be in financial trouble?

IT IS TIME FOR PUBLIC OFFICIALS TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC AND STOP USING THE PUBLIC DOMAIN AS A PRIVATE PRESERVE FOR EXPLOITATION.

david russell

05151

=====
From: David S.
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet should be for everyone and not just the rich or rich corporations.

David S.

31088

=====
From: David Saiia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I have started a small non-profit that has the potential to create thousands of jobs for returning veterans and others that might never have a chance to run a business(www.reuseeverything.org) . Starting this organization would be impossible with a corporate controlled internet. The WWW is the MOST important PUBLIC utility of our generation. You must use your position to keep it open and neutral for all users - the economic impact of this decision is inestimable for our country and the world. There is far more benefit to society economically, politically and socially with an open and equally accessible internet. The citizenry and history are watching YOU - do the right thing. DO NOT ALTER NET NEUTRALITY - keep this service a public utility.

Sincerely,

Dr. David Saiia

David Saiia

15228

=====
From: David Samarripas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Samarripas

From: David Sanders
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Sanders

=====

From: David Savala
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Savala

=====

From: David Schreiber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Fascism should rightly be called Corporatism, as it is the merger of corporate and government power, a statement often attributed to Benito Mussolini, would be a very accurate description of a broad trend in this country of which this FCC proposal is a part. This is yet another example of the legal structures of the US being remolded by and for the benefit of corporate power and at the expense of the people.

The internet must be treated like our public roadways, as a utility with equal access for all and all operating under the same rules. Granting the ISPs and telecoms the ability to charge differing rates for greater speed and bandwidth as well as the ability to effectively censor content will result in hampering the development and growth of new ideas and new businesses.

David Schreiber

02474

=====
From: David Schultz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

All people deserve to have internet speed that is equal. Towns and states should also be able to set up their own community systems without monopolies trying to prevent it.

David Schultz

80010

=====
From: DAVID SCHUTTE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

DAVID SCHUTTE

63303

=====
From: David Scott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Scott

61008

=====
From: David Shaw
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Shaw

25177

=====
From: David Shelton

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Simply put, if it ain't broke, don't fix it.

David Shelton

28020

=====
From: David Sherson

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Sherson

49202

=====
From: David & Shirley Webb

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David & Shirley Webb

=====
From: David Shreeve
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Shreeve

=====
From: David Shulman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I see no public good in throttling the internet for the big dogs of the world. The internet is a public entity. Keep the playing field as level as possible

David Shulman

10475

=====
From: David Shumway
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Shumway

=====
From: David Sjostrom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Sjostrom

33037

=====
From: David SMITH
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

As a retired college prof have a tiered band-with Internet would cause harm to all education in the US. Your the one who must protect a free net neutrality! This is most important to me.

David SMITH

33021

=====
From: David Snow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Snow

From: David Sokol
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Sokol

=====

From: David Sosnowski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Sosnowski

=====

From: David Spealler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Spealler

=====

From: David Spoonemore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

We want a free and Neutral Internet.... No Control by the Greedy for Profit Crowd!!!

David Spoonemore

47302

=====
From: David Stanford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Stanford

=====
From: David starkey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David starkey

=====
From: David Steen

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Steen

=====

From: David Stein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Stein

=====

From: David Stevens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Stevens

=====

From: David Stevenson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Stevenson

17044

=====
From: David Stinchcomb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Stinchcomb

=====
From: david stone
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

david stone

31522

=====
From: David Stratford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Stratford

=====
From: David Straub
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Straub

=====
From: David Straus
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The idea that there should be multiple speed 'lanes' on the Internet is stupid. The internet belongs to all of us and there should be maximum speed for all of us; the U.S. is SLOW compared with other countries, a problem the FCC should address. The FCC should determine that the Internet is a Telecommunications Service and FOLLOW THE LAW.

David Straus

12525

=====
From: David Strock
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Strock

=====
From: David Struthers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Neither your proposed rules or public speeches represent the will of the majority of people, or President Obama's position on the function of internet providers relative to our national needs. The public has overwhelmingly testified against the Comcast / Time Warner merger. Comcast at present does not serve the public's interest of providing high speed internet across our nation at a reasonable cost/mps. Its tiered cost speed plans lock the majority of people out of having speed that can be used for expansive knowledge purposes or entertainment. $100. per month is beyond the reach of most young families low income household and or seniors. The suggested merger of Time Warner/ Comcast would create a near monopoly whose component entities already fall short of national service, and yet intend to create haves and have nots when it comes to internet speed. Media businesses should not be given preferred speed status in a tiered business offering. Instead, public utility status should be assigned to the net with citizenry receiving first consideration.

David Struthers

98626

=====
From: DAVID SUNKLE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DAVID SUNKLE

From: David Surbrook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: No to Comcast merger and yes to net neutrality.

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please do not allow Comcast and Time Warner to merge. The result would be a virtual monopoly, with all of the problems inherent with a monopoly and very little benefit to the public. And the internet belongs to everyone and allows the general public unfettered access instead of having to pay to additional fees to enjoy the benefits we should all have.

David Surbrook

31558

=====
From: David Sutton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The greed has got to stop somewhere, and it might as well be with saying NO to the giant cable/internet corporations. Please protect true net neutrality and leave the internet as it is.

David Sutton

76112

=====
From: david talleagle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

david talleagle

77355

=====
From: David Taylor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Taylor

=====
From: David Theard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Theard

=====
From: David Twible
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Quite simply, money and power must not be the controlling influence of the free access to all internet users. Individuals, small business and large corporations must have equal and just access to a free internet, period.

David Twible

34209

=====
From: David Udall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Udall

=====
From: David Underwood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chair Wheeler:

Please don't sway from net neutrality. It is basically what we have had all along. Let's keep it. Just because some ultra rich asshole thinks he can buy the net and use it for his sole advertising space doesn't mean we all just give up....It means we all band together and fight this privatizing crap.

David Underwood

73110

=====
From: David VALLER
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David VALLER

=====
From: David Vance
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We don't need another standard oil monopoly of the cable companies. Prices are high enough. There is not enough competition in the industry to keep the prices realistic. Plus a 1st class functioning internet for every one of this country citizen shouldbe everyone's right. Not just the super rich. So don't sell out to the Koch brothers or mega corporations. I can not believe this issue is even coming to a vote.

David Vance

48240

=====
From: David Victory
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

There's nothing wrong with the Internet. There is no way an honest person can claim that net neutrality is bad for the American people. Likewise, another huge media merger would not be in the public interest, as it would reduce competition in a market that already offers few choices in terms of providers. I know you would never let your past work as an industry lobbyist influence you in any way, so please, maintain net neutrality and deny the Comcast / Time Warner merger.

Thank you,

David Victory

David Victory

3060

=====
From: David Volkel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Volkel

80121

=====
From: David Wagner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Wagner

=====
From: David Walker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Walker

=====
From: David Wallace
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Wallace

From: David Ward
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
To deny net neutrality, is to encumber e-commerce and the potential for e-commerce.

David Ward

13165

=====
From: David Warren
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please do not allow the providers to determine priority or even what is allowed over the network. As it stands, most localities are either served by a monopoly or at best two or three carriers. As I have no recourse to switch to an unbiased carrier, it is your responsibility as the overseeing agency to ensure I have equal access to all content independent of the size and ability of the provider to pay my carrier to not be slowed down..This is particularly true as I pay the provider for a specific speed of access. It should the be a breach of contract for them to not provide that same speed to any provider regardless of who the provider is.
If they are not willing to do this, they should not be allowed to carry any communications traffic including, voice or data. In our current environment, data networking (and voice) needs to be considered a utility, just like electricity.

David Warren

98119

=====
From: David Warrender
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

A free and neutral internet unfettered by moneyed interests is vital to our democracy. Please keep the internet open and free.

David Warrender

95472

=====
From: David Watkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Watkins

=====
From: David Waymire
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Waymire

=====
From: david webb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, david webb

From: David Wedding
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Wedding

=====

From: David Weiss
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Weiss

=====

From: David Welch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Welch

=====

From: David Welsh
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is critical to future innovation and fair access to public exchange of information and ideas. Please do not allow today's big players to buy access, suppressing tomorrow's innovators.

David Welsh

48103

=====

From: David Wheeler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No "fast track / slow track." Keep the internet open and equal for all.

David Wheeler

06268

=====

From: David whiddon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David whiddon

=====

From: David White
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David White

=====
From: David Whiteside
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

In order to preserve net neutrality, the FCC needs to ban Big Telecom from creating these so-called "fast-lanes" which only large companies could afford. Start-ups and independent sites like Daily Kos would be left behind and crushed.

The FCC has tried protecting net neutrality twice before, and been defeated by Big Telecom in court both times. In order to legally prevent Big Telecom from destroying net neutrality once again, the FCC should assert authority it already has under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility. This legal argument offers the most protection for real net neutrality to prevent ISPs from controlling content speed and blocking websites.

David Whiteside

22042

=====
From: David Whitham
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Whitham

=====

From: David Wilds
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Wilds

=====

From: David Wilson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Comcast is the only provider in my area that offers service at "broadband" levels. There is no competition. No options, no choices. Just high prices and poor service quality - anyone who has had to call Comcast service knows, even during an outage they are more interested in selling us something than addressing the outage.

Addressing the ridiculously high price has led to many people "cutting the cord" or dropping cable TV services and sticking with just Internet. Doing this allows them access to content they mostly want, minus a few things here and there of course. This of course means Comcast takes in less money per month per potential sub.

A "cord cutter" may now subscribe to Netflix or any other potential video on demand service that offers the content they want at a price that is more reasonable. 200 cable channels of mostly reality TV shows or ad spam at over $100 a month or $15 a month with exactly the shows we are looking for. Comcast doesn't want this competition as it would mean competition in a new modern business based off customer access vs fed content chosen by corporate deals favoring profit margins over customer satisfaction/demand.

Comcast seemingly makes a move to cripple speeds and add data caps limited the amount of bandwidth used via these streaming services, unless of course the cable subscriber is using Comcast's own streaming shows... which are plagued with commercials, crippled in that one can't fast forward, etc. But those shows, running down the same data lines and over the Internet magically don't count towards data caps.

Comcast further seeks to pull in revenue by charging service providers access to their customers - which companies like Netflix already pay for and maintain access to the Internet. Therefore Comcast is making Netflix (and others) pay twice to reach. To me, this is a typical mafia like shakedown where the mob wants it's share cause you happen to have a business in "their hood".

Comcast reps as well as people on their side keep bringing up "Broadband competition" being a thriving market. From my point of view, that's a blatant lie. I have one option. That's it. So either they are lying or they are being lied too. In either case, there is no competition where I am.

I've also heard that some in Washington don't want to bring in more Government rules to stifle innovation. I agree, but I need to see "Innovation" first. All I see is new and innovative ways of raising prices and passing services on to us we don't want. I want a free market. I want to be able to pick up the phone and call no less than five different service providers and choose the best deal for my money. This crony capitalism Comcast operates under stifles innovation. A point, areas that have Google Fiber coming to them, or areas that have Community Broadband have lower prices, no data caps and so on. These areas are thriving thanks to competition.

We need rules to offset the crony capitalism "rules" in place. Until we get real competition at the consumer level, we're at the mercy of high prices and poor services.

Net Neutrality is a must going forward. We must protect our Internet from the greed factor of corporation wishing to cash in on our future. Comcast must not be allowed to merge with Time Warner. And we as America should be enforcing the strictest Net Neutrality rules/laws in the world - to be a beacon of equality and free speech/free ideas and a true democratic example.

Reject Comcast and it's merger. And enforce Net Neutrality.

Please, and thank you.

David Wilson

64029

=====
From: David Winsberg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Winsberg

94303

=====
From: David Wolf
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Free speech must not become an abstract concept in our country. The disastrous rulings of our Supreme Court (Citizens United, etc.) have elevated the value of speech for those who can afford to spend millions for it above that of speech for the rest of "We The People". Free and neutral flow of information is paramount to the survival of a democratic society. A free and neutral internet is the best hope for survival of America's great Democracy Experiment.

Our country is currently way down in the worldwide ranking of internet bandwidth availability, with many third-world nations leaving us in the dust. This has been aided by unfairly-favorable regulatory treatment for the shrinking number of ISPs in this country, creating an information monopoly. Despite obscene profits that they are already raking in, these monolithic empires have refused to improve their infrastructure sufficiently, creating an artificial "shortage" of quality bandwidth. Now they want to have the ability to throttle back that already-deficient bandwidth for those who are unwilling or unable to pay extra?

The internet, as we know it, would never have existed without the support of the tax dollars of We The People. To allow these corporate interests to co-opt what the public helped create, and then hold it for ransom, is beyond obscene.

Please do not allow these internet providers to strangle this awesome technology with "pay-to-play" fee structuring. Allowing them to prioritize content or certain information will destroy the information superhighway for those who need its open capabilities most desperately - those of us who can't afford to buy up and control newspaper, magazine, TV, and radio empires.

David Wolf

48329

=====
From: David Wootten
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Wootten

=====
From: david worthen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Chairman Wheeler,
Please keep net neutrality in place so that my cable and cell phone bills won't increase from the cost that ATT will pass on to me to use the internet.

david worthen

76559

=====

From: David Wrobel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

David Wrobel

13205

=====
From: David Yoakum
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, David Yoakum

=====
From: dawan hannah
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dawan hannah

=====
From: Dawanna Carson

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawanna Carson

=====

From: Dawn Chattin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net neutrality has been the default state of the internet since its invention - internet service providers load all websites at the same speed. Now, Big Telecom wants to change the rules so they can extract more money from websites by making them pay to be served to customers at faster speeds.

In order to preserve net neutrality, the FCC needs to ban Big Telecom from creating these so-called "fast-lanes" which only large companies could afford. Start-ups and independent sites like Daily Kos would be left behind and crushed.

The FCC has tried protecting net neutrality twice before, and been defeated by Big Telecom in court both times. In order to legally prevent Big Telecom from destroying net neutrality once again, the FCC should assert authority it already has under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility. This legal argument offers the most protection for real net neutrality to prevent ISPs from controlling content speed and blocking websites.

Frankly, I have been an internet user from day one that it was available, and worked in the industry in start up companies that programmed innovative applications. The internet culture began on the philosophical ideal that all users were equal, in fact, even upper case letters were banned, especially in signatures. The virtual world was endeavoring to create a forum where each person's input was treated equally, as users would not be able to distinguish a social status but each would be given a chance to be evaluated on their reasonable contribution. It was hopeful that we could create a truly democratic dialogue with no social barriers. Were you aware of this history? Do not sell out net neutrality.

Dawn Chattin

5301

=====

From: Dawn Clary
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawn Clary

=====
From: Dawn Echevez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
Net neutrality is right every individual should have and NO to any mergers between Comcast & Time Warner!

Dawn Echevez

10014

=====
From: Dawn Foster
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

To whom this may concern:

I live in rural New Mexico and currently have Comcast as a telephone and Internet supplier. It is no wonder to me that Comcast can afford to purchase other companies, as their subscriber rates for these and other services are outrageous. We need MORE competition, not less. Without the necessary competition, rates will continue to go up and already poor service, will continue to get worse.

Further, it is vitally important that the Internet remain "open" without some corporate entity deciding for me what will readily be available and what will not. The ability for new businesses to be innovative and provide alternatives to mainstream services and products, not be stifled by a tiered system of blocking, slowing down or prioritizing is extremely important to me as an individual in America and for citizens of the world as well.

Please keep the Internet open....PLEASE, please, please protect net neutrality. Thank you.

Dawn Foster
Placitas, NM

Dawn Foster

87043

=====
From: Dawn Froehle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawn Froehle

=====
From: Dawn Gomez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Protect net neutrality because censoring public information to benefit elite groups is what we criticize other countries for. A cable company or its paying clients should not get to decide what information we have access to; and free speech is one of the tenets this country was founded on.

Dawn Gomez

80918

=====
From: Dawn Grib
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet is by all definitions a public utility and should be free and open to all to use. The rich should NOT be allowed special Internet privileges.

Dawn Grib

17019

=====
From: Dawn Hopkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawn Hopkins

=====
From: Dawn Hupfer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawn Hupfer

=====
From: Dawn Lawrence
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawn Lawrence

=====

From: Dawn Lynn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dawn Lynn

=====

From: dawn thies
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dawn thies

=====

From: dawn woityna
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dawn woityna

=====
From: dawn woodhull
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dawn woodhull

=====
From: Day Jolliff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Protect neutral access to the Internet

The Internet does not belong to anybody and no one should be able to use it preferentially. Everyone all over the world can use this communication media as long as the appropriate technology is in place. In America, this technology is not a problem. Allowing telecom or anyone else to control access to this is unconscionable. Net neutrality is as important to our country as a free Press. Corporate control also has no place in our society. The market must remain competitive for ISPs. It is dangerous to allow any Corporation or bloc of Corporations to try to control it at the expense of Users.

Where business use is concerned, neutral access to new startup companies, very small business, and highly competitive businesses is critical. Many companies, voices and sites be damaged if neutrality was eliminated. Blogs, interest groups, and others would have a difficult time being heard, or even found.

Allowing anyone to block, slow access or give preference to any site is what is done in countries that are not free. In a free society, we must ensure that access to everything on the Internet is available to users neutrally. Only Users should make these choices on an individual basis in a free country. Government has an obligation to protect this neutrality and ensure that all Users must be able to access whatever they choose without restriction. Anything less is censorship. Without neutrality, Users' ability to surf would be directly influenced by who lines the pockets of telecom the best, or what telecom 'decides' is best. This is a horrible thing to even consider and has no place in a free society. By prioritizing, slowing or blocking access to information, the Internet would no longer be free any more than impeding access to the Press would result is a free Press. This idea of non-neutrality is as wrong minded as an idea can get.

Day Jolliff

85268

=====
From: Dayle Claflin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dayle Claflin

=====
From: Dayna dillon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dayna dillon

=====
From: Dayna Fitchwell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dayna Fitchwell

=====
From: dayris marrero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dayris marrero

=====
From: d. baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Mr. Wheeler, net neutrality is essential for people on fixed incomes particularly as most industry is now using it as a preferred way of communicating with clients.

Mr Wheeler, you need to come clean and explain what the personal payoff to yourself is if you make a decision which benefits only a few large industry players, and is detrimental to the majority of internet users

d. baker

27313

=====
From: D. Chalfin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It's a public utility.

D. Chalfin

01702

=====
From: D Davidoff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Without internet neutrality internet providers will gradually slow down content that isn't making money for them. This slowdown will start slowly, but gradually increase until dissenting voices will be throttled.

D Davidoff

11357

=====
From: Deake Powers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deake Powers

=====
From: Deana Gay
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deana Gay

=====
From: dean a. zollinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dean a. zollinger

=====
From: Dean Catalano
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dean Catalano

32738

=====
From: Dean Cho
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I urge you to support true Net Neutrality. Users of the internet should all be able to participate on a truly level playing field. Allowing wealthier companies to have faster internet access threatens to stifle innovative start ups of the future which would have a strongly detrimental effect on commerce, our economy and basic progress. Please don't sell out to the monied interests -- Support true Net Neutrality!

Dean Cho

11375

=====
From: Dean Egger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Egger

=====
From: Dean Eickman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Eickman

=====
From: Deane Morwitzer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deane Morwitzer

=====
From: Dean Hausladen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The lack of options to get on the internet is bad enough. Getting as bad as phone companies.

Dean Hausladen

55014

=====
From: Dean Herron
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Herron

=====
From: dean keller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

dean keller

52342

From: Dean Koehler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If you don't understand the basic concept of net neutrality with a level field then ask someone to explain it to you! Not mentioning it just means you've been bought and paid for by moneyed interests.

Dean Koehler

97007

=====
From: Dean Muehler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Muehler

=====
From: Dean Muesing
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

As a worker in the Telcom industry, I understand the importance of an open marketplace for better access to all content.

I ask you to please preserve Net Neutrality.

Dean Muesing

56001

=====
From: Deanna Lowe

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deanna Lowe

=====

From: deanna mccarty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, deanna mccarty

=====

From: Deanna Oessenick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -

DON'T interfere!

Deanna Oessenick

18091

=====

From: Deanna Schuetz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deanna Schuetz

=====
From: Deanna Stillings
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please save the internet. It now works fine for students, parent and grandparents. Do not let greedy big money businesses take it away.
Thank you.

Deanna Stillings

01741

=====
From: Deanna Woodard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deanna Woodard

=====
From: Dean Peppard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We need net neutrality to keep a level playing field for all websites. This is better for individual user and that is who pays for the access.

Dean Peppard

90240

=====
From: Dean Romines
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dean Romines

98544

=====
From: Dean Seigneur
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Seigneur

=====
From: Dean Swindell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

What we have here is the country's least liked company with the worst customer satisfaction rate who's already eaten up most of their competitors, many of whom were fine service providers, much loved by their communities, about to gain control over the internet in the United States, supposedly the most free country in the world. This is A. A monopoly, B. The whole internet run with incompetence, indifference and preferences to those with the most money and political beliefs beneficial only to Comcast and the country's second most disliked company, Time/ Warner.

Dean Swindell

94501

=====
From: Dean Turner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Turner

=====
From: Dean Weih
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dean Weih

=====
From: Deb Bair
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Just once, I would like to see our government do what it was built for..protecting the citizens, NOT the dollars

Deb Bair

27330

=====
From: Debbie Barksdale
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Barksdale

=====
From: debbie bukovan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

debbie bukovan

43068

=====
From: Debbie Chaney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Chaney

=====
From: Debbie Cruciotfi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Cruciotfi

=====
From: Debbie De La Cruz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie De La Cruz

=====
From: debbie delo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, debbie delo

=====
From: Debbie Gonda
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Gonda

=====
From: Debbie Gonzales
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Gonzales

=====
From: Debbie Griego
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Debbie Griego

=====

From: Debbie Junkermeier
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Junkermeier

=====

From: Debbie LaFleur
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie LaFleur

=====

From: Debbie Lowder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Lowder

=====
From: Debbie Murphy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Murphy

=====
From: Debbie Reynolds
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Vote for Net Neutrality. Keep the Internet FREE! No FEES!

Debbie Reynolds

46168

=====
From: Debbie Reynolds
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Reynolds

=====

From: Debbie Robie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Robie

=====

From: Debbie Sierras
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Sierras

=====

From: Debbie Sommer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Sommer

=====
From: Debbie Stotts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie Stotts

=====
From: Debbie turner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debbie turner

=====
From: Debb Swain
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debb Swain

=====
From: Debby Kelley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debby Kelley

=====
From: deb dusseau
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, deb dusseau

=====
From: Deberah Haferkamp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is, in my opinion, a right. Big business does not need to control my rights!

Protect net neutrality. We shouldn't even be talking about this. My rights are not for sale.

Deberah Haferkamp

63136

=====
From: Deb Holte
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Sirs/Madams:

When Phones, TV, electricity, water/sewer became so common in peoples lives they became regulated public utilities.....I feel the same should be done for the internet. My children can not even apply for jobs without doing it on the internet.....This is too important to our society. thank you.

Deborah Holted

Deb Holte

13830

=====
From: Debi Turner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve Net Neutrality. The average person will not be able to afford Internet if the big conglomerates are able to control the Internet.

Debi Turner

28739

=====
From: Deb Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deb Jones

=====

From: Deb Lepinski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am a retiree. I am on limited funds and I rely on the internet for a lot of my activities. From reading for fun, my news, games, keep track of my grandkids and communicate with my kids. I love reading articles from the independent news sources. Twitter is faster than the Television news and more factual. My whole day is centered around my computer and the internet. I communicate with relatives all over the country. If Control of the internet is given to private companies the people who will lose the most are people like me, students, my grandkids and people on lower incomes. Big business should not be in control of who and what kind of an internet the general public is allowed. I do not understand how this can even be considered. Big business should not take precedence over the families in this country. Stop and think about this before it is too late. Greed should not be catered to under any circumstances. It is just wrong to allow big business to control the internet....it should be long to the people...all people.

Deb Lepinski

55033

=====

From: Deborah AbdulRahim
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah AbdulRahim

44112

=====

From: Deborah Addor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Addor

=====
From: Deborah Bailey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah Bailey
97045

=====
From: Deborah Biles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Biles

=====
From: Deborah Bradshaw
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Bradshaw

=====

From: Deborah Coffey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

As a retired high school math teacher, and as an active citizen, I feel I must remind you that the Internet is a PUBLIC utility and a PUBLIC necessity in the 21st century. We count on the federal government and the FCC to protect us and our democratic rights from corporate giants that would like very much to control everything in this country, including poor public education and unlivable wages. We the people, need your help in holding these giants at bay.

We must have net neutrality to foster engaged citizenship and quality public education. Please help us retain our democratic practices in the United States of America. We will not survive the creep of Fascism/Plutocracy without your assistance.

Thank You for Your Help,
Deborah Coffey
Palm Coast, FL

Deborah Coffey

32137

=====

From: Deborah Cooney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please stop kowtowing to industry and declare the internet a public utility, thus ensuring net neutrality.

Please make the internet and all communications safe for the public, by banning harmful radio frequency and microwave radiation, which has been scientifically proven to have killed and injured people who have been exposed.

Thanks,

Deborah Cooney

92117

=====
From: Deborah Givens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If you don't protect net neutrality, you are condemning the less affluent to less affluence!

Deborah Givens

10044

=====
From: Deborah Gresham
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,
I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government
didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Gresham

=====
From: Deborah hebert
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah hebert

60062

From: Deborah Keech
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Keech

=====

From: Deborah King
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah King

31904

=====

From: Deborah Kohn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Kohn

=====

From: Deborah Larkin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah Larkin

40422

=====
From: Deborah Larkin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah Larkin

46601

=====
From: Deborah L Taw
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am very concerned about the ability of telecoms being able to block, or slow down our access to information on the internet. We are a small co and the internet enables us to reach our customers and various other small businesses.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if our FTC personnel decided every municipality should have similar access as Chattanooga, TN tied to their local utility co via Federal assistance...and at 1gb of incredible speed for $20/month.

Too much to realize as the FTC seems to only work with the top corporations to make it harder for the 'little' guy to get ahead and continually charge us more.

We have such a great democracy unfortunately it is overrun by big telecoms.
Mrs. D. Taw

Deborah L Taw

53565

=====
From: Deborah Manaois
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear sir, I depend on the Internet to get my education. When I have earned my degree, I will depend on the Internet to earn my living. Corporations want to control the internet to make more money than they already have. My voice will only be heard if I add it to other voices, as a group, maybe someone will listen to us. Please don't give them the control to destroy a technology that is only beginning to see it's potential. Thank you Deborah Manaois

Deborah Manaois

80234

=====
From: Deborah Martin Shorter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If you really want to foster innovation, competition, and development you MUST protect a level playing field. Allowing an "all animals are equal but some animals are more equal than others" approach in terms of internet neutrality will allow the playground bullies to protect their own interests by crushing others' access. Big Telecom - Comcast, AT&T, Time Warner, Verizon - does NOT have the public interest at heart, only its own. Access to the world and its information through the internet should be a public right, and a public utility, not another giveaway to the rich and powerful at the expense of the rest of us. Please, please, for all our sakes - protect this important right and keep access neutral!

Deborah Martin Shorter

98125

=====
From: Deborah McIntire
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah McIntire

=====

From: Deborah Mohamed
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please don't make it any harder on the American people than it already is. Some cannot afford internet as it is. Small business would be unfairly handicapped. Greed is not good.

Be proud of the actions you take and give the American people a break.

Deborah Mohamed

95608

=====

From: Deborah Monicken
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No monopolies. it will be hard to assure any options much less security if options continue to be limited and companies are so big that they write the rule. Assure net neutrality and limit mergers to assure competition for customers!!

Deborah Monicken

54016

=====

From: Deborah New
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler,
Please protect real net neutrality. We all depend on the internet for our work and play, for staying informed and staying connected. Big Telecom is big enough. Let the people have the access they need.
Thank you.

Deborah New

05673

=====

From: Deborah Pearce
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Pearce

=====

From: Deborah Peck
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Peck

=====

From: Deborah Peterman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Peterman

=====

From: Deborah Roberts

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content If you are committed to maintaining the integrity of the original intent for the FCC..... you will PRESERVE the neutrality of the NET

Deborah Roberts

87571

=====
From: Deborah Shelby
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet is not a fad, it is fundamental to many businesses and individuals in this country. Don't let large corporations ruin this by giving them control. We can't afford to make such a horrible mistake.

Large company's own too much of how this country is run, don't let them take over access to the Internet!

Regards,
Deb

Deborah Shelby

5465

=====
From: Deborah Stevens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Stevens

=====

From: Deborah Vallette
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deborah Vallette

=====

From: Deborah Walsh
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Deborah Walsh

55082

=====

From: De Bowles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, De Bowles

=====

From: Debra Arbuckle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Debra Arbuckle

94501

=====
From: debra boggs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, debra boggs

=====
From: Debra Bongiovanni
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Debra Bongiovanni

15216

=====
From: Debra Brown
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Brown

=====

From: Debra Cosentino
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

I have worked under contract as a designer for 30 years. I work with various giftware, tabletop companies. The business is very competitive. Having timely access to the Internet for research is of utmost importance. And sometimes my sources lie in obscure sites - sites that may not have the resources to compete with Big Telecom.

Likewise, many less privileged souls may rely on their Internet connection as their only hope to elevate their standing in this ever-shrinking world. It is the last bastion of equality. Please consider this as you make your decision.

Thank you!
Debra Cosentino

Debra Cosentino

33903

=====

From: Debra Edson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Edson

=====

From: Debra Fitch

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Fitch

=====

From: Debra Foster
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Foster

=====

From: Debra Franklin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Franklin

=====

From: Debra Gerold
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Gerold

=====
From: Debra Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I pay my ISP to provide access to the Internet. ISPs should be common carriers. I pay for the bandwidth; it is none of the ISP's business what content is in that bandwidth.

Debra Harris

60076

=====
From: debra jaranowski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

debra jaranowski

29732

=====
From: Debra lewis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Lewis

=====
From: Debra-Lou Hoffmann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am disheartened that our airwaves have been given away to the highest bidder and now we citizens will lose even more if we lose net neutrality. Keep the rights of average citizens to communicate with each other so our democracy has a chance to survive and flourish.

Debra-Lou Hoffmann

95942

=====
From: Debra L. Watson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Debra L. Watson

69341

=====
From: Debra Matz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Matz

=====

From: Debra Neff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Neff

=====

From: Debra Schuler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Schuler

=====

From: debra Sechrest
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, debra Sechrest

=====
From: debra warner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, debra warner

=====
From: Debra Worthington
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Debra Worthington

=====
From: Deb Regone
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deb Regone

=====
From: Deb Schumann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am completely astounded how a federal agency charged with public protection of a resource which is fast becoming an important part of functioning in this society can totally ignore the public good

Why would having the big corporations dictate what I can or cannot see serve the public good? How does letting Comcast and others slow down and block my access serve the public? It serves only big corporations. So..public opinion cannot be heard unless there is enough money to buy access? Where does the public right to know fall into that?

The FCC needs to block this destruction of net neutrally..NOT aide the corporations that want to do it.

Deb Schumann

34472

=====
From: Deb Steppe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deb Steppe

From: Deb Towles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: FCC Should Hold Hearings Across the Country on Net Neutrality

To the FCC Commissioners

It has been more than five years since all five FCC commissioners left Washington, D.C., in an official capacity to hear how the agency's policies affect real people. The public is invested in the future of the Open Internet where there is equal access for all and no discrimination. The American public wants to have a voice in this debate. The public has provided more than one million comments, a record number of public comments, on the Open Internet rulemaking and prior to the rulemaking more than 03 million took action for Net Neutrality. The FCC was unable to handle all the phone calls it received from the public and the comments on the rulemaking crashed the FCC's system. Reclassification of the Internet so it is a public utility where there can be no discrimination is an issue where the public wants to be heard.

Give the public a real opportunity to meet with you face to face. Please schedule meetings in communities throughout the country before you vote on this plan.

--
Deb Towles
xxxx@xxxx.xxx

=====
From: Decker McAllister
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear FCC Chair Wheeler,
Thank you for taking the time from your busy schedule to consider this email. I am a voter who votes. Net neutrality is the only current option that allows the end user freedom of choice. To negatively affect this will skew the medium in favor of monied interests (pro rich and anti individual). It will have dramatic impacts on education (paid results creating a paid for reality), competition, innovation, jobs, and it will become a tool to breach anti-monopoly laws that major monied interests have tried for decades to undermine. Your decision will have real and tangible impacts on our country. Free of speech, freedom of choice, and providing for the common welfare are out the window. This is your "truth is stranger than fiction moment. You have a science fiction-esque magnitude decision to make. Please, re read the preamble of the Constitution and make a decision for the common good. Thank you for your attention and consideration.

Decker McAllister

94131

=====
From: dede salier
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dede salier

=====

From: Dedric White
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dedric White

=====

From: DeeDee Hood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DeeDee Hood

=====

From: Dee Glover
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dee Glover

=====
From: dee money
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dee money

=====
From: deevony peebles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, deevony peebles

From: Deidre Pickett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deidre Pickett

=====
From: dejon harvey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dejon harvey

=====
From: DeLanah Huyett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DeLanah Huyett

=====

From: Delbert Hyland
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delbert Hyland

=====

From: Delbert Zerjav
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delbert Zerjav

=====

From: DEL CASE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DEL CASE

=====

From: Delia Morales
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delia Morales

=====

From: Delia Nimmo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delia Nimmo

=====

From: delisia hairston
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, delisia hairston

=====
From: Delissha Burrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delissha Burrell

=====
From: Delma Phebus
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delma Phebus

=====
From: Delmar Adamson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delmar Adamson

=====
From: Delmer Russ Russ
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delmer Russ Russ

=====
From: Delores Denny
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delores Denny

=====
From: Delores Feeken
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delores Feeken

=====
From: Delores Neveux
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delores Neveux

=====
From: Deloris Clubb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deloris Clubb

=====
From: delphine derroisne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content delphine derroisne

=====

From: Delree Carias
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Delree Carias

=====

From: demetria parker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, demetria parker

=====

From: Demonte Cole
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Demonte Cole

=====
From: Dempsey Coleman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dempsey Coleman

=====
From: Dena Wilson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dena Wilson

=====
From: denecha fields
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, denesha fields

=====
From: Denesha Farrar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denesha Farrar

=====
From: denis coakley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, denis coakley

=====
From: Denis DellaLoggia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Tom Wheeler is a miserable excuse for a public servant.

Denis DellaLoggia

=====

From: denise barnett
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, denise barnett

=====

From: Denise Bennett
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Bennett

=====

From: Denise Birlin
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content Keep the internet free and open to all!
 Do NOT let big telecom take it over!

Denise Birlin

=====

From: Denise DesLauriers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We need a neutral and open internet. One where we all have the same access to information and the ability to share our information and products with others without being limited by our ability to pay.

Denise DesLauriers

57717

=====

From: Denise Diamond
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Diamond

=====

From: Denise Doportto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am a senior who uses the Internet almost daily for email to keep in touch with friends and family. I also check on my credit union account, read news items, and read attachments from friends and family.

With my years winding down, the slowing of the internet would be a big, huge mistake. I surely don't need the aggravations of taking longer to open and read whatever I am interested in reading just so some major companies can make "a little more money" gouging we ordinary citizens.

It is a no-brainer for me and pisses me off that the choice made by you or someone else will damage what is now a common mode of communication and education world-wide by slowing down the internet speed. What kind of damage could that possibly do? How about we all rebel and stop using the internet?

Other countries are not going to do this for their citizens. Why would this new proposal for internet changes be positive? I don't need to get corporate ads at super speed. Already pop-up windows interfere with my use of my computer not to mention cookies and other advertising gimmicks. Give us a break and keep the internet just like it always has been. New is not better.

Denise Doporto

95821

=====
From: Denise Hawkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Denise Hawkins

48076

=====
From: Denise Jacobs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Jacobs

=====
From: Denise Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

FCC Chair Wheeler:

The USA invented the ARPANET/internet. Don't be the guy who RUINED it in front of the world for the USA!! SAVE NET NEUTRALITY from, as John Oliver says, cable company fery!!!

Comcast and Time Warner are the most hated companies in American business, and Comcast already has a history of extortion with Netflix, and Comcast is second only to Northrop Grumman in campaign contributions to members of Congress.

This is a massive conflict of interest and you will not be remembered well by history if you let net neutrality disappear.

Denise Jones

98004

=====
From: Denise K
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise K

=====
From: Denise Karle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Karle

=====

From: Denise Kirkendoll
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Denise Kirkendoll

37915

=====
From: Denise Leonard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Denise Leonard

48198

=====
From: DENISE LUMPKIN
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

DENISE LUMPKIN

44113

=====
From: Denise Mack
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please protect net neutrality. I am a minister and educator and value free speech. When communication media is owned by too few people the information is limited and controlled by the owners.

Denise Mack

14609

=====
From: Denise Maurer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Finally schools are on line, with grades homework and projects expected and now the government wants to hand it over to the Corporations...is nothing left in this country for the people. Access is horrible now and costly and I can only imagine it getting worse and our children falling even more behind other countries that are not driven by big corporations like we are.

Denise Maurer

8620

=====
From: Denise Sacks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Denise Sacks

08015

=====
From: Denise Sager
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Sager

=====
From: Denise Simmons-Bolden
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Don't give one more advantage to big business. I'm sick of it!

Denise Simmons-Bolden

48335

=====
From: Denise Teague
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Teague

=====
From: Denise Viafore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Viafore

From: Denise Wright
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Denise Wright

90044

=====
From: Denise Wright
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denise Wright

=====
From: Denisse De la Cruz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denisse De la Cruz

=====
From: Dennis Appell

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Appell

=====

From: Dennis Asnicar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

In order to preserve net neutrality, the FCC needs to ban Big Telecom from creating these so-called "fast-lanes" which only large companies could afford.

Dennis Asnicar

80538

=====

From: Dennis Beckley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Beckley

=====

From: Dennis Bourret
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The Internet is the civilized voice of the people. That is why major corporations want to control it. If you cave in to big money and let them take it away--the people will have no choice but to resort to less civilized means of protecting themselves. They will not only find it necessary to protect themselves from those major corporations but from their government as well.

Dennis Bourret

85710

=====
From: Dennis Brainerd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Brainerd

=====
From: Dennis Coburn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Coburn

=====
From: Dennis Coeland
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content It's time to be real democratic and not sell the democratic world to the newly created people(corporations)

Dennis Coeland

76513

=====
From: Dennis Cook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet has become the freeway on which we do so much of our living. We are all better for it. Don't make it a toll road. It will hurt the country, it's businesses, and average citizens. Keep net neutrality!

Dennis Cook

13030

=====
From: dennis cunningham
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dennis cunningham

=====
From: Dennis Dawson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Dawson

=====
From: Dennis Dew
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Dew

=====
From: Dennis Donnels
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Donnels

=====
From: Dennis Dudley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

In 1984 I was working for MCI, now part of Verizon. The big telecom news that year was the breakup of AT&T and the start of EQUAL ACCESS for all competitors, so no one would have to dial a special number and access code to make their long distance call, and so people could save money. The AT&T rate for a coast to coast call was 74 cents for the first minute and 49 cents for each additional minute, billed in full minute increments. The MCI rate was 43.02 flat rate for all minutes, and higher volume users could be billed in six second increments. The savings on a typical three minute business call was about 25%. Now, with competition, long distance rates are so low most carriers don't bill for individual calls. What rates do you think we would have without EQUAL ACCESS? When everything is EQUAL, everybody wins.

Dennis Dudley

95608

=====
From: Dennis Finn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Your job is to promote competition - not stifle it!

Dennis Finn

13345

=====
From: Dennis Fritzinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis Fritzinger

94704

=====
From: Dennis Galanti
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve net neutrality. Do not allow Big Money to buy the internet.

Dennis Galanti

33060

=====
From: Dennis Garland
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Sir,

I am a sixty five year old disabled man. A birth defect finally crippled me and caused me to develop neuropathy. I am pretty much bedridden and do almost all my purchasing on the internet. I also depend on the web for all my news sources and entertainment.

While I am against the loss of net neutrality as a matter of principle, I am so dependent on it now that it's loss would seriously hamper my ability to acquire basic needs.

It would seriously interfere with my ability to wander the internet, finding all sorts of podcasts, blogs and interesting sites. Wandering the world wide web is my only way of staying in touch with what is going on in the world. Please do not take this away from me.

Keep the net open to everyone equally. Please. I can't tell you how important this is to me.

Thank you for your time.

Dennis M Garland

Dennis Garland

62629

=====
From: Dennis Goldberg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Goldberg

From: Dennis Gunn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Protect Net Neutrality! Keep it like it is NOW!

Dennis Gunn

50322

=====
From: Dennis Hastings
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Hastings

=====
From: Dennis Hawkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Hawkins

=====
From: Dennis Hellmann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Hellmann

=====
From: Dennis Hester
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Hester

=====
From: Dennis Holz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis Holz

92024

=====
From: Dennis Horne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Horne

=====
From: Dennis Krug
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Krug

=====
From: Dennis Loving
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Loving

=====
From: Dennis Malone
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Malone

=====

From: DENNIS MURPHY
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DENNIS MURPHY

=====

From: Dennis Nordley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Nordley

=====

From: dennis ober

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

dennis ober

17872

=====
From: Dennis OBrien
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis OBrien

54501

=====
From: Dennis Peeling
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis Peeling

11941

=====
From: Dennis Peters
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Peters

=====
From: Dennis Peterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

What are You 05 who voted this in, thinking?

You should be trying to eliminate money from politics and elections!

I thought America was supposed to be a democracy not a plutocracy!

Dennis Peterson

90503

=====
From: Dennis Prather
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Prather

=====
From: Dennis Radford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please do not approve Comcast's proposal that will raise the fees charged content providers.. I am a Comcast customer now and would move to a more customer sensitive cable/internet option if I had one available. Destruction of net neutrality will only make Comcast more powerful and less responsive to the needs of customers. Prices will rise.

Dennis Radford

01561

=====
From: Dennis Raines
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
T.W., Wake up and smell the coffee! We need a one-speed internet -- FAST, FAST! Git
'R Done!

Dennis Raines

27929

=====
From: Dennis Ritchie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I wish to explain the reason why I don't think that allowing the so called Internet Fast Lanes will work. As our limited number of providers continue to buy up media producers. Content that is not "approved" by the powers that be will become harder and harder to find. With the result of defacto censorship. Please don't allow that to happen. Enforce Net neutrality, make the providers become a utility.

Thanks

Dennis Ritchie

60056

=====
From: Dennis Rushforth
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis Rushforth

98335

=====

From: dennis schiveley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dennis schiveley

=====

From: Dennis Schreuer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Schreuer

=====

From: Dennis Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Smith

=====
From: Dennis stevens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis stevens

46940

=====
From: Dennis Therriault
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis Therriault

04240

=====
From: Dennis Turechek
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is an essential component for 21st century democracy. Any move to eliminate same is a move to eliminate democratic practices.

Dennis Turechek

13825

=====
From: Dennis Vieira
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

This military veteran says, I served my country to protect a Democracy, -not a plutocracy!

Dennis Vieira

02747

=====
From: Dennis Ward
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Ward

=====
From: Dennis Warren
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: FCC Should Hold Hearings Across the Country on Net Neutrality

To the FCC Commissioners

It has been more than five years since all five FCC commissioners left Washington, D.C., in an official capacity to hear how the agency's policies affect real people. The public is invested in the future of the Open Internet where there is equal access for all and no discrimination. The American public wants to have a voice in this debate. The public has provided more than one million comments, a record number of public comments, on the Open Internet rulemaking and prior to the rulemaking more than 03 million took action for Net Neutrality. The FCC was unable to handle all the phone calls it received from the public and the comments on the rulemaking crashed the FCC's system. Reclassification of the Internet so it is a public utility where there can be no discrimination is an issue where the public wants to be heard.

Give the public a real opportunity to meet with you face to face. Please schedule meetings in communities throughout the country before you vote on this plan.

--
Dennis Warren
xxxx@xxxx.xxx

=====
From: Dennis W. Hodges

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis W. Hodges

=====

From: Dennis Wilcox
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dennis Wilcox

=====

From: dennis wollen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dennis wollen

=====

From: Dennis Woolley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dennis Woolley

44515

=====
From: denny louallen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, denny louallen

=====
From: Denny Spears
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Denny Spears

=====
From: Denys Cope
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Denys Cope

87507

=====
From: depak thapa
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, depak thapa

=====
From: De Parrott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, De Parrott

=====
From: Derek Clark
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Derek Clark

=====
From: Derek Green
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Please potect net neutrality.

Derek Green

47725

=====
From: Derek Kendrick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Derek Kendrick

=====
From: Derek Quinn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Derek Quinn

=====
From: derek shaw
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, derek shaw

=====
From: Derek Simpson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Derek Simpson

02145

=====
From: Derick Patterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Derick Patterson

=====

From: Derrill LAnger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Derrill LAnger

=====

From: Desfosses Zahne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Desfosses Zahne

=====

From: Deshawn Washington
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Deshawn Washington

=====
From: Desirae Ramsey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Desirae Ramsey

=====
From: Desiree Mills
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Desiree Mills

93644

=====
From: desiree moreno
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, desiree moreno

=====
From: Desmon Henderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Desmon Henderson

=====
From: destini Hamilton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, destini Hamilton

=====
From: Destiny Krueger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Destiny Krueger

=====

From: destiny martinez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, destiny martinez

=====

From: Destiny Tucker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Destiny Tucker

=====

From: deusdedit rodriguez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, deusdedit rodriguez

=====
From: devale johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, devale johnson

=====
From: Devin Ferreira
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please do the right thing. Corporate control of the internetâ\200\224that is, more than already existsâ\200\224would tip the balance of power even further towards those who really don't need any more of it. Very rarely does an individual or a small group of individuals have the opportunity to effect positive change by mitigating the crises of common people such as ourselves. To waste such an opportunity, to succumb to the persuasion of those corporate agents whose most basic drives are self-interest and profit, would be to fall prey to a weakness of will. Please do not allow the subtle dismantling of our most democratic system.

Devin Ferreira

2482

=====
From: devin Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Devin Johnson

=====

From: Devin Kaiser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Devin Kaiser

=====

From: Devin Nalle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet has become of incalculable importance to so many people that it, like water or electricity, should belong to everyone. It is a tool of great economic and entrepreneurial value, and one that has been funded largely by taxpayers, via the military. The United States already has the slowest internet speeds of any industrialized nation on earth, and we pay more for it. Please do the right thing by the largest number of human beings possible.

Thank you.

Devin Nalle

65555

=====

From: Devin Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Devin Smith

=====
From: devin thomas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, devin thomas

=====
From: Devon Harrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Devon Harrell

=====

From: DeWayne Youts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

DeWayne Youts

39183

=====
From: Dewey Brett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No changes. please. The internet works well just the way its founders wanted it to. The big boys are doing just fine without having to screw over the rest of us. Leave it alone, please.

Dewey Brett

20850

=====
From: dewey corio
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dewey corio

=====
From: D.E. Whitcomb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is essential to the free flow of information. Please categorize the Internet as a "public utility" and end the idea of giant telecom companies regulating how and what we see. I am disabled. I rely heavily on the Internet to maintain my quality of life.

D.E. Whitcomb

85705

=====
From: dewi de jarnett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dewi de jarnett

=====
From: Dexter Lovett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Don't allow mega corporations to control internet access and speed. Allow more competition by denying the merger of Comcast and Time-Warner!

Declare the internet a public utility!

Dexter Lovett

35801

=====
From: d fassman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

d fassman

11590

=====
From: D Grove
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

D Grove

80207

=====
From: Dhyana McCraig
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dhyana McCraig

92127

=====
From: Diana Becker Mullins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Internet Neutrality

WHAT DO YOU NOT UNDERSTAND ?
Dancing around the issue is chicken.
Americans DO NOT WANT Time Warner or anyone else Owning internet service or anyone else Trying to charge for speed on the internet

Diana Becker Mullins

55427

=====

From: Diana Cavazos
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Cavazos

=====

From: Diana Cirillo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Cirillo

=====

From: Diana Dashnaw
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Dashnaw

=====
From: Diana Day
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Day

=====
From: Diana Dee
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

There are first amendment issues at stake here. In addition, it would be a nice change for government to be "for the people" as opposed to "for the corporations/power brokers/etc.

Diana Dee

91606

=====
From: Diana Domingues
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diana Domingues

20878

=====

From: Diana Dougherty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Dougherty

=====

From: Diana Gutierrez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Gutierrez

=====

From: Diana Henderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

To Mr Wheeler, Honestly, what I know is that our regulators (the FCC, the body you Chair) have now decided to build rules that make large corporations larger and more profitable. These establishments already horde the majority of money IN THE WORLD, and by skewing the rules you make it harder for small businesses to get ahead

Whatever happened to capitalism, no monopolies, and the American way? Gobbled up by corporations who pay our policy-makers to look the other way, or worse, bastardize we the people into a few people.

Please recall why it is that the FCC even exists, and I hope that won't immediately take you to receiving gifts large and influential benefactors. Diana Henderson

Diana Henderson

22802

=====
From: Diana Houfek
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Houfek

=====
From: Diana Howard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Howard

=====
From: Diana Jackson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear FCC Administrators,

The arguments big business uses to take away net neutrality are ridiculous. The fact is that if the Internet Service Providers chose to use enough server strength, there would be enough high-speed Internet for everyone.

Other countries have shown this to be the case. Millions more people have access - extreme high-speed low cost access - than we do in the US. In fact, having become frustrated and angry with big ISPs' brush off, small and/or remote towns have begun setting up their own Internet and cable facilities, which have also proven to be better than what most US citizens get.

It's all just big business manipulation and control. And if we don't want full-blown fascism in this country, the FCC had better take steps now to tone it down. Now.

Thank you,
Diana Jackson

Diana Jackson

80920

=====
From: Diana Kubie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Kubie

=====
From: diana pinkley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, diana pinkley

=====

From: Diana roulette
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana roulette

=====

From: Diana Rozmen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Rozmen

=====

From: Diana Rutherford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I think you are hoping to give the big telecoms what they want without people understanding what is happening. Well, we do understand. Don't sell out to the big telecoms. A FREE and OPEN internet is just that, FREE and OPEN. You will be creating hardship for millions just so your rich friends can make even more money. It is time to get real. Who's side are you on? Big telecom? or Americans?

Diana Rutherford

98198

=====

From: Diana Schantz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Schantz

=====

From: Diana Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

As a biomedical researcher for the University of Colorado and the VA I cannot stress enough how important UNBIASED ACCESS TO INFORMATION is in coming to a valid conclusion. Allowing wealthy corporations, individuals and groups including political groups and Big Pharma to buy faster/better means to send out information and propaganda ruins our ability to get balanced information and may well prevent us from even seeing information and ideas they do not favor. You must preserve net neutrality to prevent this from happening. Please do not help wealthy corporations, groups and individual to further distort our views of reality.

Diana Smith

80220

=====

From: Diana Somerville
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

As a professional freelance writer, I depend on the internet to do my work. Internet access allows me to live in an affordable small town yet keep in touch with what's happening in the world.

Internet access helps small entrepreneurs and rural communities survive.

Net neutrality is a political, economic and social justice issue. Countless ordinary citizens are counting on you to protect their interests against the onslaughts of gigantic corporations. Please don't let us down.

Thank you

Diana Somerville

98362

=====
From: Diana Stakey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diana Stakey

11779

=====
From: diana vargas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, diana vargas

=====
From: Dian Avery
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dian Avery

=====
From: Diana Walker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Walker

=====
From: Diana Wiley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Sir: Since you haven't declared that you FAVOR a free and open internet I fear you might not fully understand what is hanging in the balance. The internet is the only way we "little people" can get unbiased access to news. Without a free high speed Internet we will have to depend on pundits to "spin" the news we receive--which is obviously biased. Particularly in the face of the Supreme Court's wrong-headed position that corporations are PEOPLE. (I hope a corporation gets tried for murder someday soon...like BP!

By allowing the purchase of the internet to ANYONE, you will have reduced the Internet to a corporate-owned commodity which will then be limited to only those who can pay to play.

And what about our ability to do research? How about students who use the internet to get BOTH sides of history questions? And those of us who want to research other things? While it took a while I was finally able to verify whether or not First Lady Obama had called someone a whitey. I finally found the actual tape wherein she said, "Why'd he...?"

I'm 68 now. I remember the past. Whatever happened to the ban on monopolies? By allowing the Internet to become a commodity we will no longer be able to promote small, competitive businesses to flourish. They can be blocked by any corporation who sees them as a threat.

And look ahead years from now: What if the future holds a slow Internet such that young people no longer use it? Won't that result in an even greater effort--that in my opinion already exists--to further dumb down the American citizenry?

I urge you, I beg you, PROTECT THE INTERNET from these corporations who fully intend to MAKE MONEY rather than move in the direction of either the will of the people or our best interests.

Diana Wiley

76107

=====
From: Diana Wise
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diana Wise

=====
From: Diana Wyman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

This internet is so integrated into our personal lives and business lives. Let's guard it and keep it reasonable, please.

Diana Wyman

46825

=====
From: Dian Drach
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dian Drach

=====
From: Diane Aboud
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Aboud

85020

=====
From: Diane Bayait
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Bayait

=====
From: Diane Bentley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

We, the people of the United States, need to count and be counted. Your decision regarding net neutrality will effect all of us across the generations. Somehow the perfect union envisioned by our forefathers has failed us. Instead, "institutions" and those that run them (read: corporations, oligarchies, and monopolies and their executives who are compensated with exorbitantly over-the-top salaries) have somehow gained an elevated position and are promised priority access to information. Is this deserved and in the best interest of all? Why have they been given full reign to value profits over such ideals as freedom and liberty. Why is it that they should be allowed to fashion and filter information at a quicker rate and lower cost than every citizen? We the people will no longer be equal next to the monstrosities of unbridled power. We will be relegated to the slow lane, never able to catch up with the more favored and privileged corporate powers. This is not just, this is not right. I call on you to rethink your position. What convinces you that we can we trust Big Telecom? Is bigger really better? I for one am not ready to surrender my First Amendment rights. I am a life long educator who has spent my life promoting inquiry and research. Do you honestly believe anyone has the right to prioritize what I need to see/know/hear? Sir, I ask you to protect the people and preserve our rights.

Yours sincerely,

Diane Bentley

Diane Bentley

07068

=====
From: Diane Bonacci
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Bonacci

=====
From: Diane Eberly
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Eberly

=====

From: Diane Evans
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Evans

95405

=====
From: Diane Garcia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Garcia

=====
From: Diane George
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane George

98025

=====
From: diane griffin-bluebell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, diane griffin-bluebell

=====
From: Diane Harper
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If I could only afford a slow lane, my Internet use would be at risk. The connections I have on the Internet are very important to me since I am a disabled senior citizen.

Diane Harper

90814

=====
From: Diane Harper
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I'm a retired, disabled widow. I depend on the Internet for many activities. If we lose Net Neutrality, I could not afford to pay higher prices and if stuck with slower speeds, many things I do now (videos, movies) I could no longer do.

Diane Harper

90814

=====
From: Diane Johnston
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Johnston

=====

From: Diane Knott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

So many of my clients depend on the access to the internet to stay informed about health and other issues related to maintaining an independent life. If this goes away for them I fear more will end up in nursing homes and cost the taxpayers more money. Plus it will greatly reduce their quality of life.

Keep the net neutral.

Diane Knott

55102

=====

From: Diane Loewen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Loewen

=====

From: Diane Lopez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Lopez

=====
From: Diane Lovullo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Lovullo

=====
From: Diane Martin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The open internet represents to me a socially created good. From the time when CERN allowed the code on which the World Wide Web is based to enter the public domain, this public resource has allowed many of us to feel pride and a sense of "We built this" as we use the internet. Please don't let big money take everything.

Diane Martin

54481

=====
From: Diane Mitchell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please protect net neutrality. It is unfair to have a fast lane on the internet that only rich people can afford. Poor people will be disenfranchised. The internet should remain a free and open source of communication . Also, there should be more free tv channels,. Everyone isn't rich or even wealthy, or even making ends meet. Things like tv and internet that make us aware of the news, our communities, and provide some entertainment are the only vacation or down time most Americans are getting these days. Internet and tv should be made less expensive, not more so. We developed the internet. Shouldn't the citizens of this country benefit from the probably tax-\payer funds that created the net? Focus more on jobs and helping those American citizens less fortunate. Don't allow anymore work visas until everyone who wants and needs a job here has one here first. Stop immigration in its tracks until policy is enacted to protect our borders. We all do better when we all do better. We cannot save the world when we cannot save ourselves.

Diane Mitchell

23221

=====
From: Diane Nowak
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Nowak

86324

=====
From: Diane Oliphant
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Oliphant

=====
From: Diane Patterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Patterson

=====

From: Diane Petermann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Petermann

=====

From: Diane S
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane S

=====

From: Diane Sanders
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I have written several times on net neutrality. Your recent speech did not address it. Why you would consider large telecom corporations who have the worst Customer service and have raised their rates repeatedly above inflation to be the gate keeper of the net is just wrong.

Diane Sanders

77057

=====
From: Diane Schwarz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net Neutrality is very important. I want to be able to access whatever website I choose, whether it is a large company or a smaller, local company. I should be able to do this. The small, local companies should have the same ability to reach potential customer.

Please keep the internet equal to all.

Thank you,
Diane Schwarz

Diane Schwarz

60404

=====
From: Diane Sheppard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Sheppard

From: Diane Snyder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Snyder

11209

=====
From: Diane Swanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Swanson

80017

=====
From: Diane Tworoski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Tworoski

55013

=====
From: Diane Warren
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve net neutrality. The internet has always functioned like a utility, equal to all. This has contributed to many high tech innovations. It also makes activism equal, and contributes to democracy by by empowering the communication of citizens. Please preserve this essential tool that is essential for innovation and freedom. Thank you, Diane Warren

Diane Warren

95066

=====
From: Diane Wilkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Diane Wilkins

=====
From: Diane Wynne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diane Wynne

45420

=====
From: Diane Wynne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: FCC Should Hold Hearings Across the Country on Net Neutrality

To the FCC Commissioners

It has been more than five years since all five FCC commissioners left Washington, D.C., in an official capacity to hear how the agency's policies affect real people. The public is invested in the future of the Open Internet where there is equal access for all and no discrimination. The American public wants to have a voice in this debate. The public has provided more than one million comments, a record number of public comments, on the Open Internet rulemaking and prior to the rulemaking more than 13 million took action for Net Neutrality. The FCC was unable to handle all the phone calls it received from the public and the comments on the rulemaking crashed the FCC's system. Reclassification of the Internet so it is a public utility where there can be no discrimination is an issue where the public wants to be heard.

Give the public a real opportunity to meet with you face to face. Please schedule meetings in communities throughout the country before you vote on this plan.

--
Diane Wynne
xxxx@xxxx.xxx

=====
From: Dianna Gardner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dianna Gardner

=====
From: dianna goodson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dianna goodson

=====
From: DIANNA GOULD
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DIANNA GOULD

=====
From: Dianna Hamilton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Why are these companies afraid of open communication? Because if you control the information available to the public, you control the public. This is one more nail in the coffin of a free society.

Dianna Hamilton

32216

=====
From: dianna odam
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dianna odam

=====
From: Dianna Platz-Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dianna Platz-Smith

55014

=====
From: DiAnne Crouch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DiAnne Crouch

=====
From: Dianne Gruber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dianne Gruber

=====
From: Dianne Lueder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet is an essential utility for communication and education. It should not be owned or controlled by corporations. Corporations are users of the Internet much like they are users of the highways and airways and seaways. The FCC should regulate and control the Internet as a public utility.

Net neutrality is essential because without it the large, wealthy corporations will control our access to information and our freedom of speech according to their corporate policies--not according to the Constitution. Without net neutrality educational institutions and libraries will become second class information providers. Free online courses that may help reduce the problem of the high cost of a college education will have to fight with corporate entertainment for bandwidth. The small entrepreneurial companies who may bring the next great product will not be able to compete financially for the bandwidth they need to promote and develop their products.

Dianne Lueder

54849

=====
From: dianne warren
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am not educated enough to know the full ramifications of too much power over the internet (and ALL that implies) in too few hands.

Too big to fail....We never saw "that" coming, ring any bells?

The current system works in a more egalitarian fashion when left up to the devices of those using them, as long as "those" represent a wide variety of concerns and interests.

Understanding the pervasiveness of all things technological, extreme care must be taken when dealing with the source of control of the engine running the world.

The internet must truly opertate for the good of all or you fill in the blank.

Dianne Warren

dianne warren

34232

=====
From: Dianne Winter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dianne Winter

=====
From: Dian Wanner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is the modern equivalent of free speech and I feel it is necessary to compete in today's world. Please keep our 'net' neutral for our children and grandchildren.

Dian Wanner

98801

=====
From: Dibert Yeagley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dibert Yeagley

=====
From: Dick Dierks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dick Dierks

54911

=====
From: Dick Griffin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dick Griffin

=====
From: Dick Hall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dick Hall

=====
From: Dick Moats
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dick Moats

=====
From: Dick Myers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please keep free open internet available to all people. There should be no charges to older people like myself for the use of this service. It cost enough right now.

Thank you

Dick Myers

Dick Myers

97374

=====
From: dick pettus
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dick pettus

=====
From: Dic Simandl
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairperson Wheeler,

I have written to you about this before, and have read your reply. I feel compelled to write again, to clarify my position, and to ask you to revise yours.

As things stand, if you do nothing, the largest telecom companies will be able to charge more for using new 'fast lanes' of higher speed internet for customers who will pay more for the service.

This of course will mean that for the vast majority of internet users, common people, who like myself cannot afford another "utility" price increase simply to maintain what we have now, will be forced to endure slower service for the same price.

If there were a national emergency of some sort, I and millions of other Americans would be willing to pay more for the same level of service, to help our country in its time of need. But the only reason for this huge change in the basic rules is for a handful of giant corporations to squeeze more money from the middle classes!

I ask you to back the citizen people over the corporations, and defeat this proposal!

Thanks for reading,

Richard Simandl

Dic Simandl

78041

=====
From: diego ona
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, diego ona

=====
From: dillon sherwood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dillon sherwood

=====
From: Dina Peoples
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

WHy are monopolies suddenly a-okay perfect in today's world? These companies are bad enough with customer service and actual services, and yet you want to reduce competition (even if it is competition in lip-service only!) even more?! WHAT IS WRONG WITH YOU. WHAT MAKES YOU THINK THIS IS OKAY.

Dina Peoples

12553

=====
From: Dina R
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dina R

60613

=====
From: Diona Butler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Diona Butler

93612

=====
From: Dipl. -Ing. Vishwanat Bhagawat
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dipl. -Ing. Vishwanat Bhagawat

=====
From: Dixie Girdner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dixie Girdner

=====
From: D J Boykin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Don't destroy our Democracy by eliminating Net Neutrality!
D J Boykin
76021

=====
From: DJ Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DJ Johnson

=====

From: DJ Schroeder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

DJ Schroeder

52404

=====

From: DK Bolen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please use Title II common carrier status to protect net neutrality and make the internet a public utility available to all. Please reject the Comcast Time Warner merger. If you want to promote competition, you don't allow 02 of the 04 national broadband providers to merge.

DK Bolen

33709

=====

From: DK MALONE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DK MALONE

=====
From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: #FCCopeninternet Federal Communications Commission Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on HOW BEST TO PROTECT AND PROMOTE THE OPEN INTERNET

Mr. Daniel Lehane 01 NORTHWOOD DR Ballston Spa, NY 12020-3832 5188849258 xxxx@xxxx.xxx

#FCCopeninternet Federal Communications Commission Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on HOW BEST TO PROTECT AND PROMOTE THE OPEN INTERNET

09/04/14. Allowing Internet Service Providers to charge companies for priority access should not be considered an ethical choice. Allowing well funded companies to get an advantage over smaller start-up companies in essence enforces a monopolistic system by discouraging competition throughout the market.

----- sent via popvox.com; xxxx@xxxx.xxx; see HYPERLINK
"http://email.popvox.com/wf/click?upn=lzFpdhA-2BgdyXtTpeyYDJAeEQ0LWDMF1Usi8JEZwLqsyQCx3lzCf9-2BLbQ1V1Itdv8nAE41V0EZSZsIHlL4MfUww84T8AcbaI79ki-2BSI6nNxLlGLWlQuQsxbUoJ5MvE-2BNfTpDkY-2BeDwW55RRuRMBvXARqtYCYdKP784ddNCSi7PU-3D_CFWW2LiM8egNfp5WPKl72vck1Jm5GzqaOw5FucO4B5Ja80El-2BGrrLRXJGMAtWDP8WnrJvHT-2FamVi7jfYhOZJGw0H1y0HZMtR2JLOJ2czx98cnn9vsEz4DbY-2FipS6twsT4wDDqv4RkD-2FzWSb24iJn3vYPJSB1DSJM7wTnhEPSTq18lPkYqdn-2F4Kw1jS4v57s4wARLHeDvaf7Pt-2BpdR5YN8w-3D-3D"http://www.popvox.com/regulations/us/FCC/FCC-14-28/report

tracking info: organization: Public Knowledge (publicknowledge.org) topic code: HYPERLINK

"http://email.popvox.com/wf/click?upn=DjQU2Sd6eV3xLPiybLTkKSakAoy2vWV6viVtFnTMZ5yPNDzha8wlG3-2B-2BK6PmGcySpiy7vqqugEomGIx7AtOvmLiKfdeNbk0hkP28GGGcpw88NUBqz6OdTANKZTd99soM-2BtX23LZatSr0TQvN4GlmUw-3D-3D_CFWW2LiM8egNfp5WPKl72vck1Jm5GzqaOw5FucO4B5Ja80El-2BGrrLRXJGMAtWDP8a3ZKS4xrp5Wl5xN9tHS9URbWXElV0PR0SRredtSXgRCnmqxqKEUuLbzNq6Gqq27Ryz1iPoqii3CkRgajIU0ZnWxtIBci3813gGYeH5W-2FSEWe5Iick2ZsuxVjGQSpCUhvWmZg-2Fa5UIJ5xQWC0ZZT98Cg-3D-3D"http://popvox.com/orgs/publicknowledge

http://email.popvox.com/wf/open?upn=CFWW2LiM8egNfp5WPKl72vck1Jm5GzqaOw5FucO4B5Ja80El-2BGrrLRXJGMAtWDP8igwC28h2G1OBmXHX6MrFGWz6AtN2b2RtQibanfRjx7tbfrOLd5oHqZKRwnsF8ru-2FUYPuWwKkt26UdLybCMuqPYLWYVqM5b2uxMP0unuSc713P85kzKc57-2FWJ9RkAYG4D2YbDLtXRhAVrzmdLAVKCjA-3D-3D

=====
From: D Lewis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Net neutrality is vital. The internet is also infrastructure, and has to be regulated.

D Lewis

08648

=====
From: d maclean
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, d maclean

=====
From: D Michael FENNELLY
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

My name is Mike Fennelly. I am an Electrical engineer and the free and open internet has been a major factor in the economic engine of the United States. Restricting access will put the US at a competitive disadvantage with the rest of the world.

D Michael FENNELLY

05674

=====
From: D Michael Nowacki
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

If it was PRESS NEUTRALITY, would you get it then? You have to PAY to get news that is filtered of propaganda? Does that clear it up for you?

D Michael Nowacki

97128

=====
From: Dnorah Perez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Place country and innovation over big companies profits. The start-ups need a fighting chance in their infancy in order to become competitive companies in the future. Killing Net Neutrality cannot be good for creative, entrepreneurial Americans and therefore no good for the country.

Dnorah Perez

32908

=====
From: Dollie Anthony
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dollie Anthony

31206

=====
From: Dolly Anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dolly Anderson

=====
From: dollynel sevilla
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dollynel sevilla

=====
From: Dolores Avalos
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dolores Avalos

=====
From: Dolores Doty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dolores Doty

=====
From: Dolores Foscherari
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dolores Foscherari

20008

=====
From: Dolores Lasky
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dolores Lasky

=====
From: Dominic Bava
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dominic Bava

=====
From: dominic cappella
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

This is your big chance, don't blow it. We need more competition and better and faster internet. I live in a rural area, have few choices for internet service and I'm lucky if I can get above 01 Mbps. Paying for slow and fast lanes, restricting content and few provider choices is not net neutrality. We need more choices, increased competition, and faster and better service. Right now we are "over a barrel", being screwed by the little oversight and little regulation the FCC provides. Do not make it worse.

dominic cappella

21660

=====
From: dominic comer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dominic comer

=====
From: Dominic Martinelli
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dominic Martinelli

=====
From: Dominique McNEIL
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dominique McNEIL

=====
From: Dominique Nickens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dominique Nickens

=====
From: Dominique Spurling
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Net Neutrality!

Dominique Spurling

92029

=====
From: Dominique Tate
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dominique Tate

07305

=====
From: Donald A Meyer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald A Meyer

=====
From: [Donald and Betty Tharp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, [Donald and Betty Tharp

=====
From: Donald and Nancy Geis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald and Nancy Geis

=====

From: Donald Baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donald Baker

53158

=====

From: Donald Barlow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Barlow

=====

From: Donald Bauer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donald Bauer

63119

=====
From: Donald Beck
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Beck

=====
From: Donald Bolster
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Bolster

=====
From: Donald Burkhart
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Burkhart

=====
From: Donald Carpenter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Carpenter

=====
From: Donald Cates
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Cates

=====
From: Donald Charest
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler,
I am writing to you to express my support for an open internet. Once you open the door to ISP's controlling access speeds for different customers, and allow those who pay more to have priority you will create an unending series of price increases for consumers. We all know who ends up paying all these additional fees, and it is the individual consumer, not the content companies. We don't need another disaster like the cable companies of today, who have no regard for their customers and continually raise prices with little to no oversight and function as a monopoly in most markets. This is also another reason not to allow the mergers of Comcast/Time Warner and others - they are already too big and their baloney about their increased clout helping consumers is laughable - it simply creates a bigger monopoly, free to raise prices at will. Do not allow this to happen under your watch!

Donald J Charest

Donald Charest

85621

=====
From: Donald Chubb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Chubb

=====
From: Donald Clark
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Clark

=====
From: Donald Dodge
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Dodge

=====

From: Donald Donk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Donk

=====

From: Donald Edwards
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Edwards

=====

From: Donald Ferguson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Ferguson

=====
From: Donald Harrison
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Harrison

=====
From: Donald Heiman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Heiman

From: Donald Henkel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Henkel

=====

From: DONALD H HATFIELD
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DONALD H HATFIELD

=====

From: Donald Hillyer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Hillyer

=====

From: Donald House
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald House

=====

From: Donald Hughes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

"Big Brother" is real and it is not the government as we had feared: it is corporate america. The internet gave real hope to have a voice in our lives. Please do not take that away and do remember that ones that die with the most money are not the winners, especially when they restrict ordinary citizens to obtain their pelf.

Donald Hughes

55343

=====

From: Donald I Jackson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald I Jackson

=====

From: donald jacobson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donald jacobson

=====

From: Donald Jordan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Jordan

=====

From: Donald Kahler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Kahler

=====
From: Donald Kaufman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Kaufman

=====
From: Donald K Bare
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald K Bare

=====
From: DONALD KELSO
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DONALD KELSO

=====
From: Donald Kemp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Kemp

=====
From: Donald Lanoue
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Lanoue

=====
From: Donald Mackay
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donald Mackay

91031

=====
From: donald mcclintic
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donald mcclintic

=====
From: Donald Miller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donald Miller

32220

=====
From: Donald Moeser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

As a retiree, I still depend on the free, timely, access to the Internet and any attempt to "slow down" and/or block information is an infringement to the basic concept of Net Neutrality which has worked so successfully for millions of people around the world. Please do not permit cable companies to institute gate-keeping procedures that will cost subscribers additional fees to utilize the Internet.

Thank you for your consideration of this important issue.

Donald Moeser

45662
=====

From: Donald Morrison
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

All internet users should have equal access to the internet, not just big corporations with money.
The net should be free to all users.

Donald Morrison

5089

=====
From: DONALD NAFE JR
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DONALD NAFE JR

=====
From: Donald Paden
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donald Paden

80537

=====
From: donald PORTER
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donald PORTER

=====

From: Donald Ragsdale Sr.
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Ragsdale Sr.

=====

From: Donald Randall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Randall

=====

From: donald ratzel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donald ratzel

=====

From: donald rispinto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donald rispinto

=====

From: DONALD ROBINSON
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

AS IT IS TODAY, THE INTERNET IS A WONDROUS UTILITY AVAILABLE WORLD WIDE. PLEASE TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT IT. THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES ARE COUNTING ON YOU TO DO THE RIGHT THING, AND SAVE THE INTERNET FOR ALL OF US.

THANKS,

DONALD ROBINSON 77360

DONALD ROBINSON

77360

=====

From: Donald Rohrbacher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223 we need to keep net neutrality

Donald Rohrbacher

95123

=====
From: Donald R Tate
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald R Tate

=====
From: Donald Shipley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Shipley

=====
From: Donald Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear chairman Wheeler.

I along with millions of internet users urge you to keep the net neutral and mandate competition as is inspired by the ideals of the constitution and enshrined in the bill of rights.

Corporations are not people, and owners will press for profits ahead of public interest. So please protect the public from conglomeration and allow free market Capitalism to determine fair pricing and common use for all Americans.

Thank you and be well.

DLS

Donald Smith

32905

=====
From: Donald Staveley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donald Staveley

91208

=====
From: Donald Steele
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Steele

=====
From: Donald Stone
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Mr. Wheeler,

Thomas Jefferson once said a free press is a cornerstone of democracy. With the demise of the newspaper and the corporate control of the media, (think of all the people who do not believe president Obama was born here), the internet is the last bastion of a free press.

Let's keep our country free, make the internet a public utility. Be an American hero!

Donald Stone

18707

=====
From: Donald Stoneburner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Stoneburner

=====
From: Donald Sudholt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Sudholt

From: donald walters
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donald walters

=====

From: Donald Wells
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Wells

=====

From: Donald Wermske
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Wermske

=====

From: Donald White
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

With our changing lifestyles, most of us are spending less time reading the newspaper or sitting in from of TV's. The internet has become the medium not only for buying and selling, but also for communication. To lose net neutrality and be exposed to hidden biases of all sorts would introduce skewing factors of many sorts which could be crippling.

PRESERVE NET NEUTRALITY!!

Donald White

12148

=====
From: Donald Williams
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Williams

=====
From: Donald Wilson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Based on the internet's role in public communication, net neutrality is critically important, and I urge your support of it. The idea that the internet is not a public utility is, to say the very least, disingenuous.

Donald Wilson

98370

=====

From: Donald Wiltsie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content The free flow of information has been the heart and soul of the internet since it it's inception and must be preserved Commissioner Wheeler and you're plan to allow the big telecoms to charge for video streaming services seriously compromises the free flow of information and would essential end the internet as we know it. Please do not go forward with the plan you have put forward!

Donald Wiltsie

12477

=====
From: Donald Wood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donald Wood

=====
From: Donalee Nelson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donalee Nelson

=====

From: Dona Wilson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dona Wilson

=====

From: Don Berry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Berry

=====

From: Don Britt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

I oppose any mergers between giant media corporations such as Comcast, AT&T, Time Warner, and Verizon. I do not trust ANY corporation to have my best interests at heart, let alone in the vital area of communications and our modern-day free press. If those major corporations controlled all media access, they would control what that media says. The last thing a democracy needs is more corporate or government control of such an important source of information.

A free press is the last protection left to us citizens to receive the truth about what government and corporations are up to - especially as that relates to our individual, family and community lives. Take that free press away and we might as well live in China or Russia!

If media corporations have the rights to sell internet connection speeds in such a way that they control the speed in which information is available to everyone - only the richest citizens or corporations will have the best access to the net. Again, I do not trust corporations to have my best interest at heart, nor that of the citizens.

Please keep the internet free and unhindered by any decision that gives control to any one corporation or government. I believe that is the way it is now, so why change a good thing?

Don Britt

55371

=====
From: Don Bryant
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Bryant

=====
From: Don Burkhart
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don Burkhart

61550

=====
From: Don Burman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Burman

=====

From: don burroughs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, don burroughs

=====

From: Don Coleman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Mr Wheeler, please protect net neutrality. Make the use of the Internet (world wide web) level for all U.S. citizens by making it a public utility. And do not allow the merger of Comcast & Time Warner. Thank you. Sincerely, DJ Coleman

Don Coleman

60148

=====

From: Don Cornell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

If Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 gives the FCC the right to "regulate the internet as a public utility" then Big Telecom has no argument against it, but yet they seem to have been able to push the FCC around and get away with it. I read that the FCC lost to the telecommunications industry because the industry was able to stir up political outrage over the FCC "regulating the internet". Yet according to Title II, that is exactly what the FCC can do. Apparently the FCC failed to define broadband providers common carriers, even though the "rules were framed the right way and classified internet service providers as common carriers"

It is also in the FCC's power to to prevent merging of communications companies in order to not threaten competition. By merging, Comcast and Time Warner will reduce the amount of competition tremendously.

Please assert your right to regulate the internet as a public utility, as it is very much a necessity nowadays for virtually everything, but also because it has been an avenue for people to have opportunities otherwise nearly impossible.

Thank You.

Don Cornell

Don Cornell

80203

=====
From: Don Cox
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Cox

=====
From: Don Cramer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please do the right thing and act to save Internet Neutrality.

Don William Cramer

Don Cramer

=====

From: Don Cunningham
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Cunningham

=====

From: Don Curtis
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Curtis

=====

From: don desroches
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I urge you to protect net neutrality for our freedom. Corporatocracy must be stopped somewhere, please let it be on the "Net Neutrality" issue!!!

don desroches

=====
From: dondria piereira
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dondria piereira

=====
From: Donel Croy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donel Croy

=====
From: Don Ferber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Free communication is an essential component of democracy. We already have too much of pay to play. The internet should be an open playing field, not one where the highest bidder wins and can in effect shut out other voices.

Net neutrality is essential to the future of our country to ensure equal access. Please do not give in to corporate interests.

Thank you.

Don Ferber

Don Ferber

53716

=====
From: Don Fisher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet is like our country was when it was first founded, by the people for the people and of the people. Please don't let it become corrupt by big money grubbers who will take something beautiful and for everyone and turn it into something ugly and for just a few

Don Fisher

34990

=====
From: don furlong
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, don furlong

=====
From: Don Gibbs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Gibbs

=====
From: Don & Glenna Eenigenburg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don & Glenna Eenigenburg

=====
From: don glickman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Net neutrality is, in principal, the same as free speech, freedom of the press, etc.

don glickman

98221

=====
From: Don Goff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Mr. Wheeler, please protect net neutrality. The Daily Kos has pointed the way for you to protect this asset for the citizens of this country. Please take the necessary steps to do so.

Don Goff

62439

=====
From: Don Grierson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don Grierson

90046

=====
From: Don Hammalian
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Hammalian

=====
From: Don Hoffman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content We, " The People", not the corporations, need access to a free independent internet.

Don Hoffman

93036

=====
From: Don Holden

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Holden

=====

From: Donita Anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donita Anderson

07869

=====

From: Don Jarvis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Jarvis

=====

From: Don Kilcoin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Kilcoin

=====

From: Don Kreis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Kreis

=====

From: Don Lichtenberg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It is important to the ordinary citizen to preserve net neutrality.

Don Lichtenberg

47401

=====

From: Don Loughmiller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Loughmiller

=====
From: Don MacInnis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don MacInnis

=====
From: DON MARTE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DON MARTE

=====
From: Don Matlock
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I have written before and you kindly responded. But I am still concerned that there will be a negative change in how the open internet is allowed to function. There are many small non-profit (or for profit too) organizations that are dependent upon the open internet to effectively conduct their business. These small organizations do not have the resources to compete with large for-profit entities if there is a tiered internet. Please keep the internet open.

Don Matlock

59840

=====
From: Don Miller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Miller

=====
From: Donna Alcott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Alcott

=====
From: donna allshouse
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donna allshouse

=====

From: Donna Baxter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -
Cancel the merger between Comcast and time warner and leave the net as it is.

Donna Baxter

92553

=====

From: Donna Beilmann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Beilmann

=====

From: Donna Bookheimer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donna Bookheimer

19518

=====
From: Donna Bronsema
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Bronsema

=====
From: donna buseck
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please maintain net neutrality.

donna buseck

16508

=====
From: Donna Charlap
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donna Charlap

01450

=====
From: Donna Cinelli
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet does not belong to the cable companies, that is the bottom line fact. And as non-owners, they have no right to regulate it in any way including slowing site connection or giving faster connections to big companies that pay more.

It's the equivalent of me selling you something I don't own PLUS telling you how you can use it.

This is another outrageous ploy by big corporations and I hope you keep your oath of office and leave the internet as it is.

Donna Cinelli

12491

=====
From: Donna Ciolli
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content: net neutrality - Chairman Wheeler, Please consider the importance of Keeping the internet neutral. It is So easy to cave to the huge corporations.

Under your leadership I hope you will take the higher ground.

Staff recommendation: YES -- Prop 47 will move California toward a smarter, humane, and cost-effective justice system. Itâ\200\231s a critical step to rolling back the failed, racist â\200\234War on Drugsâ\200\235 in California and is in line with numerous legislative campaigns supported by Courage Campaign members. Historically, Californiaâ\200\231s budget was gobbled up by needless prison spending driven by the same scare tactics currently employed by opponents of Prop 47. This is a major opportunity to move our state back in the right direction.

Donna Ciolli

Donna Ciolli

91914

=====
From: Donna Cline
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Cline

=====
From: Donna Dollner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Please preserve net neutrality. This issue is very important to me.

Donna Dollner

30281

=====
From: donna endicott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Preserve net neutrality for fairness and common sense.

donna endicott

97086

=====
From: Don Naff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

A free and universally accessible internet is absolutely essential to maintaining the free flow of information necessary to keep America free. The internet is like radio waves and newspapers. In order for it to fulfill its role, there cannot be super users with faster service based on corporate status, and cannot be users who are blocked. Do not go down in history as the official who allowed corporatocratic greed to thwart the promise of this powerful tool for the betterment of humanity.

Don Naff

99504

=====
From: DONNA FRAZIER-BYRD
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

DONNA FRAZIER-BYRD

19151

=====
From: Donna Gourley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Gourley

=====
From: Donna Griggs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Griggs

=====
From: Donna Hagens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donna Hagens

89460

=====
From: donna hanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet should be treated in the same manner as electricity or telephony or water. It is a vital as these for all citizens of the 21st century.

Stop letting cable companies sell our country down the river. We are losing the global race because of their greed.

Why is it OK that a country like SOUTH KOREA has better, faster, cheaper, and ubiquitous internet connectivity and we the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA which used to be the greatest country on the planet, does not?

donna hanson

94803

=====
From: Donna Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donna Harris

90755

=====

From: Donna Hoak
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Hoak

=====

From: DONNA JORDAN
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DONNA JORDAN

=====

From: Donna Keil
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Keil

=====
From: Donna Matthews
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I have thought quite a while about this. I believe we must protect net neutrality because there are times when it is absolutely necessary in this complicated world.

Donna Matthews

69034

=====
From: Donna Miller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Miller

=====
From: Donna Mix
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Mix

=====

From: Donna Norton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Why isn't the internet system considered a public utility and regulated in the same way? Appears all that's needed is for it to be designated as such, which is what needs to happen.

I can't imagine the hardship and complications for ordinary people resulting from allowing a pay-to-play system to control internet communications priorities. Similar to telephone and other public utilities, critical services are provided to people through the internet. Very timely information--medical test results, appointments, medication orders, communications with medical providers, to touch on some examples, are not prioritized according to who can pay the most when telephone service is used. Why should large companies and corporations be given usage priority based on who can pay the most?

And my telephone server cannot dictate which calls I can receive and which I cannot based on the server's content preferences or advertising priorities dictated by income derived from those who pay-the-most-to-play. Issues of prioritizing, slowing down, and even blocking will clearly emerge. We don't need a fast lane and a slow lane, and we don't need advertiser content-control over the internet. It functions as a public utility, and it needs to be regulated and protected as a public utility.

It's not rocket science to forecast the outcome if the internet is not given the designation and same protections as a public utility.

Donna Norton

94952

=====

From: DONNA PARRISH
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DONNA PARRISH

=====

From: Donna Pearson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Pearson

=====

From: Donna Pickering
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Pickering

=====

From: Don Narigon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Narigon

=====

From: Donna Rouch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Rouch

=====

From: Donn Arrington
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donn Arrington

=====

From: Donna Rusciolelli
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am a retired former Librarian and educator. I use the Internet daily-- for news, for information, for research, for shopping, for entertainment. For me, it's an excellent value for keeping my mind sharp and providing information and entertainment on a fixed income.

Please defend net neutrality and don't let greedy Big Telecom change the rules so they can extract more money from websites by making them pay to be served to customers at faster speeds. Having worked in libraries and schools for decades, I can assure you that they will not be able to afford these "fast lanes." Neither will many ordinary families, students, or seniors. Small businesses would no doubt also be affected. If we allow slow lanes and fast lanes on the Internet, we essentially discriminate against those that can't afford the better access. How is that fair when Internet access is such a vital component of modern daily life?

I urge the FCC to assert the authority it already has under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility in order to protect net neutrality and prevent ISPs from controlling content speed and blocking websites.

Donna Rusciolelli

88220

=====
From: Donna shelton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna shelton

=====
From: Donna Sowder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Sowder

=====
From: Donna Steele
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
INFORMATION IS POWER!

Given the extraordinary and malevolent growing imbalance between corporate interests and people, it is crucial to maintain NET NEUTRALITY!!!

My sense is that a global revolution is underway between the Elites and everyday working populations in nearly every country on the planet. AND, if people's rights continue to be undermined by these Elites the people WILL EVENTUALLY USE THEIR WEILD THEIR POWER TO OVERTHROW THE CORRUPTION OF THESE ELITES. After all, the power of the 01% of the planet's population (Elites) pales in comparison to the power of 99% of the planet's population!!!

So you have a crucial choice to make. Will you allow people to have the power of info access, or will you side with the Corrupt Corporate interests to further undermine the people's power?

Viva la revolution!

Donna Steele

86001

=====
From: donna swanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donna swanson

=====
From: Donna Tho
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Tho

=====
From: donna thompson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donna thompson

=====
From: Donna Walter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donna Walter

=====
From: Donna Weeks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Donna Weeks

32811

=====
From: Donna Wooten
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net Neutrality has been one of the biggest boosts for democracy (which is why I'm pretty sure big corporations and despotic governments hate it) in modern times. The Internet needs to remain open and available - the big companies make enough damn profit.

Donna Wooten

32738

=====
From: Donnell Hurkman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donnell Hurkman

=====
From: Donn Fairbank
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We need to protect net neutrality. My experience with ISP's and the telecom providers is that I am not a priority to them. As a small consumer, I do not have much priority with my personal needs. People like me need our interests protected. Use your authority to protect our needs, not just the profits of the large telcoms.

Donn Fairbank

80540

=====
From: Donnie Kanehl
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donnie Kanehl

=====
From: Donnie Morris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donnie Morris

=====
From: Donnie Wood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donnie Wood

=====

From: Donnie WYATT
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donnie WYATT

=====

From: Don Norum
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Norum

=====

From: Don Nunneker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -

KEEP NET NEUTRALITY

Big Telecoms should not be allowed to make the rules. The USA is a democracy, not a plutocracy.

The ComCasts, Time-Warners, AT&T, Verizon have been indulged long enough by the FCC to become money-grabbing oligarchs and in many regions, monopolists.

Enough is enough. Too many people depend on equal access, equal speed on the internet for their daily functions. There should not be a separate class status given to the ISPs

KEEP NET EUTRALITY

Don Nunneker

45140

=====
From: Don OBrien
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don OBrien

14607

=====
From: Donovan Dixon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donovan Dixon

=====
From: Donovan Donovan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Donovan Donovan

=====
From: donovan wright
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, donovan wright

=====
From: Don Palese
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

My, it is so easy to see that the larger internet providers have purchased the FCC. Perhaps as a gesture to the American people who pay your salary and benefits -- maybe who could just donate them back .. after all .. you do work for the cable companies. As a government employee your title is: FCC Chairmen, but you really should be called by your private company description .. Maybe that should be something in the line of crook.

Don Palese

97504

=====
From: Don Penfold
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Penfold

=====
From: Don Peters
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don Peters

85749

=====
From: Don Pew
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don Pew

44420

=====
From: Don R Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don R Smith

=====

From: Don Standberry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Standberry

=====

From: Don Tibbits
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Tibbits

=====

From: don troy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, don troy

=====
From: Don Vergara
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don Vergara

06907

=====
From: Don Wafer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Wafer

=====
From: Don Weinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Mr. Wheeler, I know the FCC has received an unprecedented number of comments against your current plan to allow internet providers to establish "pay-to-play" arrangements to allow preferred providers faster service to consumers. However, I don't get the impression that your position has been altered by this outpouring from consumers.

As a public school educator, I know that true net neutrality is a vital component of the modern educational system. As a regular consumer of the internet, I am absolutely certain that pay-to-play deals will lead to worse service, higher prices, a much less open internet, and major obstacles to innovators and small internet businesses.

By pushing your plan, you are doing a disservice to all Americans, except the precious few at the top of the internet food chain. Do the right thing and scrap the currently proposed plan and establish true net neutrality to benefit the entire country.

Sincerely,
Don Weinger, MA, MS, CCC-SLP
Speech-Language Pathologist

Don Weinger

94602

=====
From: Don White
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don White

=====
From: Don Whitfill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Whitfill

=====
From: Don Wiechman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Don Wiechman

=====

From: Don Wilkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Don Wilkins

98274

=====

From: Don Wood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am writing to ask you to drop the proposed pay-to-play rule, which violates the principles of Net neutrality.

This video by Internet Citizens: Defend Network Neutrality <http://youtu.be/wtt2aSV8wdw> explains many reasons why Net Neutrality is important. It's just not important for a while; it's important for all time. For all generations.

Speaking of generations. There are two types of leaders, those who plan for one day of personal glory and those who plan for the welfare of generations. Please include yourself among those who plan for the welfare of generations.

Network Neutrality (or "net" neutrality) is the concept of online non-discrimination. It is the principle that consumers/citizens should be free to get access to - or to provide - the Internet content and services they wish, and that consumer access should not be regulated based on the nature or source of that content or service. Information providers - which may be websites, online services, etc., and who may be affiliated with traditional commercial enterprises but who also may be individual citizens, libraries, schools, or nonprofit entities - should have essentially the same quality of access to distribute their offerings. "Pipe" owners (carriers) should not be allowed to charge some information providers more money for the same pipes, or establish exclusive deals that relegate everyone else (including small noncommercial or start up entities) to an Internet "slow lane." This principle should hold true even when a broadband provider is providing Internet carriage to a competitor.

Net neutrality has made the internet the thriving economic, communication and democratic engine that it is. Please do not allow corporate pressure to ruin the internet. Uphold Net neutrality and classify broadband as a telecommunications service.

In sum, it's time to make a decision for the welfare of generations, not one day of personal glory for the cable industry that will have far more impact on generations than just one day.

Save net neutrality. For now and forever.

Don Wood

60611

=====
From: Donya Melanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am a small business and am horrified by the prospect of allowing Big Telecom to extract more money from companies that operate on the internet and allowing Internet Service Providers to make deals that would prioritize content consumers can access. This would be a financial disaster for my company and for any small business.

Donya Melanson

01860

=====
From: Dora Bell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dora Bell

=====

From: dora kolker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content i am a peon in this matter; who is protecting my rights and concerns; the money guys.yeah, sure.

dora kolker

63038

=====
From: Dorcas Hall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorcas Hall

=====
From: Dorcas Macinta
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorcas Macinta

=====
From: Doreatha Franklin

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doreatha Franklin

=====

From: Doreen Bosch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doreen Bosch

=====

From: Doreen Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net neutrality is important to me because, I use the internet on a daily basis to advertise my 100% Natural Weight Loss Product on Social Media sites. At the present time, I am able to do this for free. If at any point the Internet becomes a pay-to-play situation, I will no longer be able to do this. As I have no money at all for any type of advertising this would essentially put me and many others in my position OUT OF BUSINESS. It is important that everyone have equal access to information on the internet and that the internet remain neutral. The entire idea of a pay-to play internet arrangement with Big Telecom as gatekeepers is ridiculous. We have been promised for years that the internet would remain free, open and neutral. Why is it so hard for you to support us in this?

Doreen Harris

=====
From: Doreen Siracusano
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doreen Siracusano

87107

=====
From: Doreen Smidt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doreen Smidt

=====
From: Doretha Atkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doretha Atkins

53206

=====
From: Doreth Brown
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Congress, please do not give the big guys so much power over the rest of us... Please let us all have access to the same playing fields and rules

Doreth Brown

11727

=====
From: dorian alen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dorian alen

=====
From: dorian scott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Mr. Wheeler,

I strongly oppose a decision to end net neutrality. Allowing ISPs to charge companies more for faster access to their sites is the epitome of the corruption that has been plaguing this country and would be a huge blow to the First Amendment. Please, don't let these huge corporation take over the internet, the last bastion of true freedom of speech and the press. I assume there would be no limit to how much these ISPs could charge for a "fast-lane," so small businesses and non-profits would be left in the dust and the last bit of power that we the people still possess would be gone. I use the internet everyday to stay updated on current events because I do not trust television seeing how just 6 corporations, including Time Warner, control 90 percent of what we read, watch and listen to. I've had enough of these extremely corrupt political, economic and legal systems that cater to the 1% and huge businesses, and couldn't care less about everyone else. It is no longer a democracy when the opinions of average citizens no longer matters.

Sincerely,

Dorian Scott

dorian scott

=====

From: Doris A. Colomb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris A. Colomb

=====

From: Doris Belk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Belk

=====

From: Doris Chojnowski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Chojnowski

=====
From: Doris Dancy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Dancy

=====
From: Doris Elsesser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Elsesser

=====
From: Doris Falk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Falk

=====

From: Doris h %%
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris h %%

=====

From: Doris Lucas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It seems that everyone who has put themselves in charge by greed or whatever means they can manipulate has focused on the Internet. There is already prioritizing, blocking or slowing down access to information that should not be acceptable in the operation of the Internet. I have personally found things that have been blocked with Google that are strictly biased subjects. They have been proven to be accurate and useful, but they cannot be found on Big Brother Google. This country was founded upon freedom of speech!!! One of our greatest treasures, and now it is nearly gone. I thought the Cold War was over - but it is being waged here in our own country by our own countrymen. What is very disturbing to me now, is that I am concerned about what I have said in this letter. There was a time when I would not have had those thoughts. You have certainly gotten my attention - I only hope that I have gotten yours and you do the right thing concerning this issue. It's time to put Freedom back in America!

Doris Lucas

85335

=====

From: Doris Mace
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Mace

=====

From: Doris M<arie Morgan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris M

=====

From: Doris Prevost
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Prevost

=====

From: Doris Taylor

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doris Taylor

=====

From: Dorlaina Fabiano
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dorlaina Fabiano

07047

=====

From: Dorothea Akins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dorothea Akins

37129

=====

From: Dorothea Marcomb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please keep the internet open to everyone.

Dorothea Marcomb

97401

=====
From: Dorothy Cardlin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve net neutrality anything less would be unreasonable and unfair.

Dorothy Cardlin

19067

=====
From: Dorothy Caruso
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Caruso

=====
From: Dorothy Crowder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Crowder

=====
From: Dorothy Downing
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Downing

=====
From: Dorothy Faulkner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Faulkner

=====
From: Dorothy GAGLIANO
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy GAGLIANO

=====
From: Dorothy Gida
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Gida

=====
From: Dorothy Hunter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Hunter

=====
From: Dorothy Keehner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Keehner

=====
From: Dorothy L. Moody
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy L. Moody

=====
From: Dorothy Lynn Brooks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

An open internet, free from corporate control and manipulation, is most important. We need to maintain equal and equitable access for all parties, no favoring those with power and money. We have enjoyed net neutrality all these years and the system has flourished. Many individuals and small businesses depend on the internet and need to have swift and sure access to it.

Please protect net neutrality in the interest of freedom and fairness. Thank you.

Dorothy Lynn Brooks

76013

=====
From: Dorothy Malloy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please maintain net neutrality. Over the years, I have utilized Verizon, A T &T, Comcast, Continental, Time Warner, etc. After a few months, they have a pattern of slowing the service, (periodically), (late at night or peak hours), did not matter.

Constantly calling for Tech. Support to increase transmission speed was expensive and time consuming.

Thanks you.

Dorothy Malloy

90064

=====
From: Dorothy McIntosh
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy McIntosh

=====
From: Dorothy Merrow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Merrow

=====
From: Dorothy Nelson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dorothy Nelson

93065

=====
From: Dorothy Oneal
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Oneal

=====
From: Dorothy Petersen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Petersen

=====
From: dorothy prino
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dorothy prino

=====

From: Dorothy Roark
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Roark

=====

From: Dorothy Roeder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The airways belong to the public. Free communication is vital to a healthy society just as breathing is vital to life. The airway should not be just a cash cow for a few corporations to help themselves squirrel away more of the country's resources.

Please don't sell out to special interests. Please, represent the interests of the American citizens. We, the American citizens deserve the best and selling out to Big Telecom will further degrade the quality of life for most of us.

Dorothy Roeder

85050

=====

From: Dorothy Snider
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Snider

=====
From: Dorothy Swanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Swanson

=====
From: dorothy tarowsky
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

dorothy tarowsky

95118

=====
From: Dorothy Zjawin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dorothy Zjawin

=====
From: Dory Stewart
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Currently there are ads pushing to dump net neutrality....They're saying 'don't let Obama control the internet' - That's just NOT true.... This is 'big Money' trying to get its way....they don't care about me..or you or anyone else...Just the money that will be generated at the expense of people like me....

Please don't let that happen.... Don't be taken in by greedy corporatists who are without conscience...

Thank you,

Dory Stewart

Dory Stewart

44217

=====
From: Dot Morrow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dot Morrow

=====
From: Dottie O. Landry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dottie O. Landry

=====

From: Dotty Hollingsworth
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dotty Hollingsworth

=====

From: Doug and Jan Parker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doug and Jan Parker

81323

=====

From: Doug Belscher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doug Belscher

80303

=====
From: Doug Broquist
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Broquist

=====
From: Doug Buffalo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doug Buffalo

72212

=====
From: Doug Counts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Counts

=====
From: Doug Daily
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Daily

=====
From: Doug di Giovanni
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doug di Giovanni

94401

=====
From: Doug Dority
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Dority

=====

From: Doug Doyon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Doyon

=====

From: Doug Ellis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Ellis

=====

From: Doug Faron
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doug Faron

98296

=====
From: doug hawkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, doug hawkins

=====
From: Douglas Arndt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Letting companies become gatekeepers by throttling selected content is the exact opposite of "neutral". Please declare the internet to be a public utility and maintain the neutrality that is essential for current users and future innovators.

Regards,

Doug

Douglas Arndt

80921

=====
From: Douglas Baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Baker

=====
From: Douglas Beckstrand
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Beckstrand

=====
From: Douglas Benoit
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Benoit

=====
From: Douglas Bent
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am concerned about the first amendment implications of prioritizing, blocking, or slowing down access to information on the internet.

I want net-neutrality.

Douglas Bent

34997

=====
From: Douglas Berg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Corporations should not decide who is heard! Support net neutrality. Don't be a corporate stooge!

Douglas Berg

85207

=====
From: Douglas Goodloe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Goodloe

=====
From: Douglas Griffin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The idea of destroying Net Neutrality is clearly motivated not by the intention to promote a free and democratic state, but by an insatiable greed on the part of large telecom companies. To institute rules allowing some sites or users greater freedom while restricting the rights of others is akin to silencing free speech. While Citizens United equated money to speech, that decision is highly contentious and I'm sure you are aware that the Senate is considering voting on a bill to repeal this heinous decision.

Between the Comcast-Time Warner Merger, the intense lobbying to destroy Net Neutrality, and the civil suits being brought upon Chattanooga, TN, which established an extremely efficient gigabit ethernet connection as a public utility, the motivations of ISPs is clearly not in providing better service to consumers by being competitive in the marketplace, but instead in petitioning the government to allow them to silence any opposition, as a monopoly would allow them to force consumers to accept what, in my experience, has been poor service even under current conditions. If America is indeed strong as a result of its free market, then that market must remain free, and not dictated by select corporations. To view the effects this would have on our country, you would have to look no further than China, where the internet is heavily censored to control the message to the public and prevent them access to information that the state deems counter to its interests. The difference here is that instead of the government having control over that access, citizens' speech would be subject to the whims of companies more concerned with shareholders than speech.

Thank you for considering this letter. I feel fortunate to live in a society where such communication is not blocked or restricted; let's keep it that way.

Douglas Griffin

95758

=====
From: Douglas Hervey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Douglas Hervey

27705

=====
From: Douglas Hudson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Hudson

=====
From: Douglas Hunt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

``Leave the internet alone! It wouldn't be fair if the ones that could pay for it, isn't right. All people should have the right to visit the internet, the way it is now! Kepp your hands off! We are already being cheated at the ballot box with corporations getting to pay for their congressmen that they want. LEAVE THE INTERNET ALONE AND GET RID OF THE CHEATING AT THE BALLOT BOX. I KNOW ONE DOESN'T HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH THE OTHER, BUT THAT IS HOW ALOT OF PEOPLE ARE STARTING TO FEEL ABOUT HOW WE ARE POOR PEOPLE ARE BEING CHEATING OUT OF EVERYTHING THAT WE CAN'T AFFORD.

thank you for letting me vent a little bit,

Douglas Hunt

Douglas Hunt

41049

=====
From: Douglas Ishmael
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Ishmael

=====
From: Douglas Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Johnson

=====
From: douglas lloyd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, douglas lloyd

=====
From: Douglas Long
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Douglas Long

46250

=====
From: Douglas McIntyre
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas McIntyre

From: Douglas Nulik
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Nulik

=====

From: Douglas Pool
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Pool

=====

From: Douglas Proctor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Proctor

=====
From: Douglas Rasmussen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Rasmussen

=====
From: Douglas Rush
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I support net neutrality. Hopefully so do you.

Douglas Rush

80232

=====
From: douglas schwartz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, douglas schwartz

From: Douglass Merrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Douglass Merrell

98118

=====
From: Douglas Sterner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I have alarmed that, in spite of all the public outcry, you remain "neutral" on the issue of preserving the open usage of the Internet (which is to say without favoritism involving upfront fees which will unfairly advantage big business over individuals and smaller businesses).

The Internet was originally developed with the assistance of public funds. It is, and ought to be treated as, a PUBLIC UTILITY, and it needs to be regulated by the FCC to protect the public's use of it against the greedy, .profit-priorities of big business. Its free and open use ought to be preserved FOR the public, and not become a plaything of corporate America (God knows they already own enough of us!).

By the way, I am a schoolteacher, and classroom use of the Internet for educational purposes is only growing--we need protection too!

Please act to preserve the neutrality of the Internet against the ever-growing greedy grasp of corporate business interests!

Douglas Sterner

07016

=====
From: Douglas Tabor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Tabor

=====
From: Douglas Tyler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Tyler

=====
From: Douglas Vert
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Vert

=====
From: douglas WHITE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, douglas WHITE

=====
From: Douglas Wieboldt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Douglas Wieboldt

04039

=====
From: Douglas Wilkerson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Wilkerson

=====
From: Douglas Willett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Douglas Willett

=====
From: Douglas Williams
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Douglas Williams

12304

=====
From: Douglas Zimmer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I protest the proposed abandonment of net neutrality in favor of pay-for-play "fast lanes". This proposal benefits only the giant ISPs and the major media companies, at the expense of original and thoughtful websites, small businesses and consumers.

Here is an example of "fast lane" internet. A year or so ago, several of the Facebook pages I follow were complaining that Facebook was extorting them for money to show their posts in followers' feeds. Their posts seemed to be fewer and fewer, until I looked at their actual pages and discovered that they were being suppressed because they would not pay the premium fees. Some have even disappeared.

The same will happen if net neutrality is abandoned. The big ISPs will squeeze poorer content providers out in favor of Big Media who can easily pay for the extortion. I will lose access to my favorite sites because they can't pay to maintain access.

When the national TV Networks were taken over by international conglomerates, intelligent, original programming withered, replaced by sitcoms, police dramas, reality shows, and infotainment. I suspect many people were driven to the World Wide Web. Now you are contemplating doing the same to the Web, selling it to the highest bidder and dumbing it down to the lowest common denominator.

The Web needs diversity. Net neutrality preserves diversity. Already profitable ISPs do not need to be rewarded for strangling less popular, less corporate content. Free speech must be protected. Preserve net neutrality.

Thank you for your consideration.

Douglas Zimmer

98290

From: Doug Mansell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Mansell

=====
From: Doug Melaas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Net neutrality is critical to keep small businesses competitive online with the larger ones. It is a highway for free speech, invention, commerce and all manner of social communities and groups. Protect the internet, keep it open and free for all citizens, regardless of their carrier, economic status, geographic location, etc.

Doug Melaas

55423

=====
From: DOUG MERIWETHER
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DOUG MERIWETHER

From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: Douglas Nordling
Email: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Address: 237 Lorraine ave. Waukegan il
Zip: 60085

Dear Chairman Wheeler, please don't break the Internet. Don't abandon the "Hands off the Net" approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built today's broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title II's draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&T's government-created monopoly. They're a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We don't buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling today's bipartisan "Hands off the Net" approach. You can't have just enough Title II any more than you can be slightly pregnant.

Title II would hurt startups most: they can't cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCC's powers over the Internet. Remember, you won't be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you don't intend.

Yet, as you've noted, Title II wouldn't even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban "fast lanes."

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called "vigilant restraint." But remember Kennard's digital mantra, too: "First, do no harm." If you conclude that existing laws aren't adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCC's authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim whether that's Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: Doug Norwood

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Norwood

=====
From: Doug Scheele
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Scheele

=====
From: Doug Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Smith

=====

From: Doug Steinschneider
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Steinschneider

=====
From: Doug Swab
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Doug Swab

34761

=====
From: Doug Wozinski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doug Wozinski

=====
From: Doyle Fouquet
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doyle Fouquet

=====
From: Doyle Henderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doyle Henderson

=====
From: Doyle Hickd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doyle Hickd

From: Doyle Sorrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Doyle Sorrell

=====

From: D. Poynor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, D. Poynor

=====

From: Drachen Birch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Since I was first using the Internet. in 1992, it has grown exponentially. Most of that growth came from people and small businesses. Now that OTHERS have put in the effort to create the modern Internet, big business and the major telecoms evidently plan to hijack it. A LOT of people put in a LOT of time, unpaid, to make this thing work, with the shared understanding that it would remain open and free.

What the telecom giants are trying to do is the moral equivalent of taking over a charity at gunpoint, and turning it into a brothel.

The Internet has become a de-facto public utility. Imagine trying to look for work, or pay your bills, without it. Imagine having to write paper letters again. Business as usual has become nearly impossible without the Internet. It has been one of the quickest media transitions in history, and the most pervasive.

It would be far better in the long run, to simply RE-classify the telecoms as public utilities. They were first DE-classified as such during the Reagan Administration. I believe that to be the single greatest evil to beset this Nation in my lifetime. I may not have liked the messages allowed on the air during my youth, but they were necessary to insure Free Speech. Without it, we draw nearer to the closed media of a despotism.

You have the power to correct this flawed situation. I strongly urge you to re-classify the telecoms as public utilities.

I do not believe that your plan to enforce Net Neutrality on a case-by-case basis will work. The robber barons of the business world will never stop trying to steal what is not rightfully theirs, ever.

I believe that YOU would step in to prevent abuses of an "Internet fast lane". -But what about down the road? A "people-hostile" future administration could use the existing framework to quickly and utterly destroy Net Neutrality.

Any attempt to force a tiered Internet on the rest of the world will almost certainly backfire, and lead to chaos. It would likely kick off the cyber-Balkanizing of the Web. Europe has already had quite enough of our shenanigans, and has already seriously discussed starting up their own separate Internet. Some of their member States have already classified Internet access as a HUMAN RIGHT. Similar rumblings have issued from parts of Asia. They have tolerated the USA as defacto core of the Internet, but if we hand it over to the telecoms, I expect that tolerance to dissipate quickly.

On a less moral and more pragmatic note, easy access to a world-wide customer base over the Internet could very easily disappear, hurting many US businesses. Many internet businesses are only viable with a world-wide customer base. That could be a fine mess. Yet one more area where the USA could become a has-been country, rather than the central hub.

Marshal MacLuhan once observed that all media only become universally manifest at the moment of their demise. I'd like to think the Net has some years left in it, but without Net Neutrality, I doubt it. Telecom giants are artificial entities, and require regulation to prevent them from growing monstrous.

Please, Chairman Wheeler, use your authority to bring the telecoms to heel. Re-classify them as the public utilities they are, and enforce Net Neutrality. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Drachen Birch

Drachen Birch

49004

=====
From: Draco Malfoy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Draco Malfoy

=====
From: Drago Musa
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Drago Musa

=====
From: Dr. Alexander Henrich
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Pleaase ensure Net Neutrality at all costs because implementing and defending structural neutrality is the basis not only for an evenly levelled playing field for competing businesses, but also for democratic participation of the people.

Thank you.

Dr. Alexander Henrich

D-22457

=====
From: Dr. Charles D. Berry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler, Net neutrality IS a must have and the only thing that serves all the people of this country! You must uphold Net Neutrality! Dr. Charles D. Berry

Dr. Charles D. Berry

78610

=====
From: Dr David Epstein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr David Epstein

=====
From: Dre Bishop
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -
Preserve Net Neutrality.

Dre Bishop

72901

=====
From: Drew Dowdy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Drew Dowdy

=====
From: Drew Harbin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The Internet has become the next frontier in innovation and creativity, a whole new level for free enterprise and market competition to flourish and bring more prosperity to our country. And the one thing has protected and preserved these invaluable benefits of the Internet is Net Neutrality.

If Net Neutrality goes, so does free enterprise, and the only reason anyone would want that to happen is if they're interested in hoarding and monopolizing the Internet for themselves over free enterprise and market competition.

Indeed, instead of playing fairly and catching up with the times, the Big Telecom corporations want to control the Internet in any way they see fit and make it just as stale and unexciting as television or radio.

I urge you, Chairman Wheeler, to think about this and consider making a courageous choice in the face of these giant corporations, a historic choice that'll make you stand out admirably in the eyes of the people. Choose free enterprise and restore Net Neutrality.

Drew Harbin

45248

=====
From: Drew Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Drew Johnson

=====
From: Drew Wickham

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Drew Wickham

=====

From: Dr. George Gottleib
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Since the FCC has been defeated by big telecom companies in court twice, the FCC must assert authority it already has under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility.

There's no justification for allowing the creation of corporate fast lanes on the internet, where they can charge individual websites convoluted premium fees just to provide equitable access to their content.

The internet exists thanks to taxpayer money used by the government to create the internet. It's immoral to screw the taxpayers and give the internet away to corporations who dodge paying taxes by creating false headquarters, which are always just a post office box in a foreign country.

Dr. George Gottleib

93437

=====

From: Dr. George Jacobson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dr. George Jacobson

33138

=====

From: Dr. Glenn Eichenauer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

As a Physician with an extensive website and who uses the internet all the time to do research and to help my patient, it boggles my mind think that you would allow greedy companies. Allowing tiers of access that are charged will likely result in higher health care costs for everyone.

By the way I have an MBA and worked for Fortune 100 companies and can tell you that you cannot trust anything that corporations promise to do or not to do that doesn't increase their bottom line. They will maximize their profits at the expense of everyone else.

Let me ask you a question. Have the prices of cable TV ever come down. I have only seen increases no matter what the cable companies have promised or committed to publicly.

Do not allow this travesty to take place. Protect net neutrality.

Dr. Glenn Eichenauer

34275

=====
From: Dr. Janet Kierstead
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I helped my daughter start a little toffee manufacturing business in the California wine country. It is now still small, but flourishing. She'd never have been able to pay higher prices to have faster transmission online - the big boy candy manufacturers would have been able to drown her out even more than they already can now.

I have watched many new things be grabbed up by greedy "haves" over the 75 years I've been around. Please don't let the Internet go the same way.

Keep the Internet a level playing field!

Dr. Janet Kierstead

95448

=====
From: Dr. Jeanette Passty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please do all in your power to protect net neutrality!

Dr. Jeanette Passty

78203

=====
From: Dr. Kate & W. L. Massengale
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am concerned about the first amendment implications of prioritizing, blocking, or slowing down access to information on the internet! The internet was originally developed for the intercontinental ballistic (ICB missiles) With the development of desk top computers which virtually every one has now has desk top computer or mobile devise to access the Internet. Net Neutrality is critical to day's commerce, news distribution concerning the health and well being of the USA citizenry .

Dr. Kate & W. L. Massengale

87544

=====
From: Dr. L. Steele
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 Protecting An Open Internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

There is enough privilege for pay in our World.

Our people, our lands, our air, water and oceans are all dying out from the actions of bought and paid for legislators, public officials and tyrants everywhere.

Anything and everyone is up for destruction - as long as another buck goes in someon'e private pocket.

The Internet is the last hope of the free person - the one who can't be bought.

Don't sell out the Internet.

Dr. L. Steele

81425

=====
From: Dr Mrs Claude Lindquist
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr Mrs Claude Lindquist

=====

From: Dr & Mrs David Knick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr & Mrs David Knick

=====

From: Dror Schneider
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am self-employed, and I depend on my website to reach prospective clients. I cannot compete in the market if my website cannot be seen. Please, let me have a chance at making a living.

Dror Schneider

94112

=====

From: Dr. Richard Laiche
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr.Richard Laiche

=====
From: Dr. Robert D. Sutherland
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

As an educator, publisher, and citizen I urge you and the FCC to support Net Neutrality; the free flow of information is crucial to the health of a democratic society; the First Amendment requires that freedom of expression entails equality of access; the Internet should not be managed or controlled by corporate or special interests, but be freely accessible to all citizens.

Dr. Robert D. Sutherland

61761

=====
From: Dr Rocco Badenhorst
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr Rocco Badenhorst

=====
From: Dr. Russell Wood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dr. Russell Wood

49770

=====
From: DR STANLEY STACHURA
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The FCC must hold net neutrality as sacred. What are large corporations doing to cause the FCC to compromise this requirement? I believe an ethics investigation would be in order if the FCC caves to these corporate requests (or are they demands?).

DR STANLEY STACHURA

90292

=====
From: Dr Ted Ray Gee
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr Ted Ray Gee

=====
From: Dr. Theodora Tsongas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If you allow big users to prioritize content, you will make the internet inaccessible for millions of Americans who pay your salaries with their tax dollars. If you are honest and have integrity, you will listen to the millions of internet users who insist on real net neutrality, meaning, no preferential treatment for anyone regardless of their financial resources. The open internet is the greatest vehicle for learning, innovative thinking, coming up with solutions to the real problems we work on every day of our lives. DO NOT SQUASH this incredible asset. I recently was able to listen and watch a conference on health in real time that was taking place in Geneva, Switzerland. It was only open to the public through the internet. This is just one example of the learning experiences that are available to all via a free and open internet. A free and open internet is good for America. It saves our tax dollars and our precious natural resources. Do the right thing for America and for the taxpayers who fund your job. Don't betray our trust.

Dr. Theodora Tsongas

97215

=====
From: Dr. Wayne King
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dr. Wayne King

=====
From: D S
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
Net Neutrality: How did we get here and where do we go now, This 13-year-old wants you to help save the internet, John Oliver on net neutrality "Call it preventing cable company fery", and FCC Chair Wheeler's convoluted path to net neutrality
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

D S

90291

=====
From: DShace Driver
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DShace Driver

=====
From: d Snead
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, d Snead

=====
From: Duane Ames
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
All information on the internet should flow at the same rate depending on the users download/upload speed. It should not flow slower or faster because some company paid a provider more to have their content take priority over others.

Duane Ames

91306

=====
From: DUANE EISENZIMMER
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, DUANE EISENZIMMER

=====

From: Duane Fleming
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Corporations should not "rule over us", but rather serve the people for the common good.
Keeping a free flowing net neutrality is preserving the very core of democracy.

Duane Fleming

33418

=====

From: Duane Goding
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duane Goding

=====

From: Duane Goff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler,

Please do not destroy net neutrality and do not let Comcast swallow up Time Warner. Competition is the life blood of our economy and this will create a monopoly in my community and thousands more across /america.

If you allow the destruction of net neutrality you will be sentencing millions of poor children to automatic second class status and further encourage the destruction of America's middle class. With most school districts embracing the "Common Core" standards, any child who cannot afford access to the Internet is doomed to a life of menial jobs and all of the negative societal ills that go with poverty.

I remember when cable first came to be. I remember the promises of high quality service for a small monthly fee and the joy of not having to watch commercials. We were lied to then and we are being lied to now. Once you allow the setting of this precedent, there will be no stopping these service providers who have no competition and no need to provide quality service.

On behalf of thousands of America's veterans who depend on an affordable Internet to continue their education and in thousands of cases to maintain contact with the outside world because they are disabled and homebound, please do not allow Comcast to reserve the Internet for only those who can afford it. These veterans have preserved our freedom and deserve better than what Comcast is planning. The Internet is as vital to America as electricity and the telephone. Don't let Comcast buy the Internet for the benefit of the few.

Respectfully submitted,

Duane Goff, State Commander
American GI Forum of California

Duane Goff

94303

=====
From: Duane Matson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duane Matson

=====
From: Duane Maue
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duane Maue

=====

From: Duane Meador
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duane Meador

=====

From: Duane Watson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Duane Watson

12572

=====

From: Dudley Dobinson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dudley Dobinson

=====

From: Duffy Spies
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duffy Spies

=====

From: Duke Saucedo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duke Saucedo

=====

From: dukev vickery
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Duke Vickery

=====

From: dulce sifuentes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, dulce sifuentes

=====

From: Duncan Dow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

There are many essential reasons net neutrality has been the default state of the internet since its invention. Here are 03:

1. Leaving it up to the major service providers will kill innovation because their motive is only profit.
2. Leaving it up to the major service providers will load the internet with corporate drivel, like TV, which is for brain dead entertainment.
3. Leaving it up to the major service providers will cause us to find other means to the information we need to make informed plans and decisions, which will reduce internet usage in favor of the next free and open network.

Currently internet service providers load all websites at the same speed. This is one of the few level playing fields not controlled by the few.

If you screw it up we will move on, because we are the inventors, corporations are the leaches on our innovation.

Duncan Dow

94121

=====
From: Durwood Collier
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet has become vital to modern communication and business. It has grown so quickly because it is relevant and useful to everyone. It is absolutely vital for the well being of our society that it remain free and open to everyone. To give those who can pay more an advantage by allowing faster access to their websites is contrary to how we now use the internet, to our first amendment rights to equal treatment with regard to free speech and the dissemination of information, and to the open access that has made the internet so useful to everyone. Thank you for listening!

Durwood Collier

05679

=====
From: Dusty Hope
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is much much more than just a business. It is a global community. I want to be able to read any blog, anybody's web page -- across the board, with equal accesss and equal speed. Internet is about everything and everyone. Please keep the internet neutral. Advertisers and big business are always so hell bent to control every aspect of our lives and then of course make us pay for it. NOT THIS TIME. PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE keep the Internet NEUTRAL.

Dusty Hope

10036

=====
From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: Dusty Willis
Email: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Address: Nunya
Zip: 85532

Dear Chairman Wheeler, please donâ\200\231t break the Internet. Donâ\200\231t abandon the â\200\234Hands off the â\200\230Netâ\200\235 approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built todayâ\200\231s broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title IIâ\200\231s draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&Tâ\200\231s government-created monopoly. Theyâ\200\231re a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We donâ\200\231t buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling todayâ\200\231s bipartisan â\200\234Hands off the Netâ\200\235 approach. You canâ\200\231t have â\200\234just enough Title IIâ\200\235 any more than you can be â\200\234slightly pregnant.â\200\235

Title II would hurt startups most: they canâ\200\231t cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCCâ\200\231s powers over the Internet. Remember, you wonâ\200\231t be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you donâ\200\231t intend.

Yet, as youâ\200\231ve noted, Title II wouldnâ\200\231t even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban â\200\234fast lanes.â\200\235

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called â\200\234vigilant restraint.â\200\235 But remember Kennardâ\200\231s digital mantra, too: â\200\234First, do no harm.â\200\235 If you conclude that existing laws arenâ\200\231t adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCCâ\200\231s authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim â\200\224 whether thatâ\200\231s Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: Dwight Arnold
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Dwight Arnold

=====
From: Dwight Gardner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dwight Gardner

=====
From: Dwight Hall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dwight Hall

=====
From: Dwight McBain
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Real net neutrality is important to this country. Please stop avoiding this issue. Support full real net neutrality now!

Dwight McBain

18431

=====

From: Dwight Reese
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dwight Reese

=====

From: Dyan Gibson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Free and open internet access has become so ingrained in our day to day lives that it should qualify as a human right. Keep information free and accessible by defending net neutrality!

Dyan Gibson

39564

=====

From: Dyan Todd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Dyan Todd

=====

From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: Earl
Email: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Address: 705 yale drive apt.07
Zip: 47129

Dear Chairman Wheeler, please don't break the Internet. Don't abandon the "Hands off the Net" approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built today's broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title II's draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&T's government-created monopoly. They're a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We don't buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling today's bipartisan "Hands off the Net" approach. You can't have just enough Title II any more than you can be slightly pregnant.

Title II would hurt startups most: they can't cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCC's powers over the Internet. Remember, you won't be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you don't intend.

Yet, as you've noted, Title II wouldn't even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban "fast lanes."

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called "vigilant restraint." But remember Kennard's digital mantra, too: "First, do no harm." If you conclude that existing laws aren't adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCC's authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim whether that's Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: Earl Avera
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Avera

=====

From: Earl Boggs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Boggs

=====

From: Earl Earl
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Earl

=====

From: Earle Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earle Jones

=====

From: Earle Thompson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earle Thompson

=====

From: Earl & Evelyn Krug
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl & Evelyn Krug

=====

From: Earl Fesler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Fesler

=====

From: Earl Forrester
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please do not hand over the Internet to the cable companies to decide WHO and WHEN people or organizations get faster/slower service. Where is the line drawn? If a provider does not like an organization or web site, they will have the power to essentially cripple the site. Or, they will simply strong arm organizations for faster load times.

PLEASE PROTECT AN OPEN INTERNET FOR ALL!

Earl Forrester

22206

=====

From: Earl Green
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Preserve net neutrality. Save the internet.

Earl Green

79734

=====

From: Earl Hines
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Hines

=====

From: Earl Huff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Huff

=====

From: earl jaite
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, earl jaite

=====

From: Earl Minter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Earl Minter

74105

=====
From: Earl Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Smith

=====
From: Earl Sprague
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

PLEASE , do not attempt to "FIX" an Internet that , as of now is not broken. We see so much Basic Greed today it is everywhere. A lot of people took a lot of chances to develop the Internet as we have it now. It should continue to be available for all .. I was fortunate in being involved in the early 60s with the FIRST Commercial IBM 1401 Mainframe Computer in my state ..I was trained by IBM in Computer Programming. A LOT OF GOOD PEOPLE have poured there soul into Computing and the Internet , PLEASE don't let it be swallowed now by GREED ..

If anything , we need to increase the Internet connect speed across the board for all to use equally.. Thank You

Earl Sprague

46816

=====
From: Earl Starr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Earl Starr

=====
From: Earl Troglin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Earl Troglin

29306

=====
From: early mcwhorter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, early mcwhorter

From: Earnestine Simmonss
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler:

I am asking you to please preserve net neutrality. The U.S. government created the internet with our tax dollars. We taxpayers have no desire to subsidize large corporations who then go on to provide us inferior and costly service.

If we lose net neutrality, my provider, Comcast, will be even less user-friendly. I can anticipate even slower service at times, and more frequent instances of being dropped in the middle of my work online.

I urge you to use Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility. The internet should be available to the public without a hierarchy of service/use favoring big corporations. Please think of the common good and don't let these big telecom companies roll over you. Thank you!

Sincerely,
Earnestine Simmons

Earnestine Simmonss

88011

=====
From: Ebony Frank
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ebony Frank

=====
From: ebony williams
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ebony williams

=====
From: e d barber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

To: Chairman Wheeler and the rest of the Federal Communications Commission,

The modern economy would collapse without the internet and American life would be extraordinarily disrupted. Itâ\200\231s a simple fact that the internet is a public utility, not a private service. Itâ\200\231s time we regulated it as such.

We want action for democratic media, not platitudes as smokescreens for corporate domination of the Internet. We want net neutrality.

The internet was developed with money from the federal government (our money.) Verizon and AT&T and the others have enough money now from controlling this item. ALL consumers have a right to the same access as any other user. It should NOT be dependent upon money for access. The internet for information is becoming a requirement of life. No corporation should control it.

I support real net neutrality which bans pay-to-play by classifying the internet as a public internet. And, I urge you to schedule public field hearings across the country. Open internet rules should be covered in public forums everywhere, not in closed meetings.

Your response to comments submitted to FCC stands in stark contrast to your actions.

NET NEUTRALITY NOW!

e d barber
Main Street
Downers Grove, IL 60516
US

e d barber

60516

=====
From: Ed Beckmann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ed Beckmann

=====

From: Ed Blevins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Blevins

=====

From: Ed Bridgewater
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Bridgewater

=====

From: Ed Brown
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet is the purest form of Democracy on this planet. It is owned by no one and should definitely not be controlled by a Corporation whose only intent is to make money.

Use your goddamn head please!

Capt. Ed

Ed Brown

54246

=====
From: Ed Carr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Carr

=====
From: Ed Chester
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Chester

=====
From: Ed Chmielewski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I'm a net user, and have always believed internet access should be open and unfettered. The rest of the free world operates this way, and we in the US should as well.
Don't fold to the corporate lobby. Keep internet use available to all at the same standard.

Ed Chmielewski

49202

=====
From: Ed Colton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet is a common carrier. It should be free and open to all users, and not controlled by a corporate profit-driven agenda that impedes other users. The first amendment should not be regulated by corporations!

Ed Colton

80104

=====
From: Edd Barnes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edd Barnes

=====
From: Ed Devine
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Devine

=====
From: Eddie Byrn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eddie Byrn

=====
From: eddie canady
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eddie canady

=====
From: Eddie Edmundson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality has been the default state of the internet since its inventionâ\200\224internet service providers load all websites at the same speed. Now, Big Telecom wants to change the rules so they can extract more money from websites by making them pay to be served to customers at faster speeds.

I am totally against letting big corps to be allowed a fast lane

Eddie Edmundson

55771

=====
From: Eddie Leung
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Protect Net Neutrality!

Eddie Leung

95054

=====
From: Eddie Love
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We must have competition. If we give control of this tool to a few companies they will control what we can see and do with the information available. Free market should mean equal access to what we want not what an entity wants to funnel us into. If we give this up the freedom the United States represents will be a joke.

Eddie Love

79366

=====
From: Eddie Porter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eddie Porter

=====

From: Eddi Martinez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eddi Martinez

=====

From: ed donahoo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ed donahoo

=====

From: Ed DonFrancesco
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed DonFrancesco

=====
From: Eddy David
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

As a citizen and the owner of a small business I am very concerned that Net Neutrality and fair access to internet services not be compromised for all simply to serve the special interests of a few powerful businesses.

I might add that I am a military veteran who served honorably to defend the Liberty and Freedom that this USA has always stood for, not to forget "Liberty and Justice For All" as core beliefs of our Constitution and Bill of Rights.

Thank you Sir.

Eddy David
USAF 1966-1972

Eddy David

74063

=====
From: Eden Paepke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eden Paepke

=====
From: Edgar DeMeo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Pleas protect net neutrality. Thank you!

Edgar DeMeo

94306

=====
From: Edgar Furlow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edgar Furlow

=====
From: Edgar Lopez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edgar Lopez

85323

=====
From: Edgar Robert
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet is a form of free speech, granted by the first amendment of the United States, a pay for play or fast lane, slow lane Internet is oppression and a violation of that first amendment.

Edgar Robert

33012

=====
From: Ed Gehres
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Gehres

=====
From: Ed Gorentz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Gorentz

=====
From: ED GRIGGS
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ED GRIGGS

=====
From: Ed Hendrickson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am for net neutrality.

Ed Hendrickson

50010

=====
From: Edie Hanahan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I really think that you are not listening, or understanding the importance of this issue to the people, and the many who have objected to your not standing behind true net neutrality and an open internet. If you did, your actions would be evident. Instead you seem to support the masters from which you came before. Please change and support net neutrality.

Edie Hanahan

80104

=====
From: Edington Chase
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edington Chase

=====
From: edit guerra
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, edit guerra

=====
From: Edith Ladd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edith Ladd

=====
From: Edith Montgomery
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Mr. Wheeler, As a partially home-bound senior, the Internet is vitally important for me for information and shopping. I do not want big corporations who are only interested in their stock holders and bottom line telling me what I can watch or what I can buy. I want the Internet to remain open as it is now and than means using Title II authority to expand broadband and rejecting the further merger of any telecommunication companies and that includes the request from Comcast and TimeWarner. You have said the Internet should be free. Do the right thing and do not be pressured by the telecom industry to do something that will hurt the general public and people like me.
Edith Montgomery

Edith Montgomery

97520

=====
From: Edith Russell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We the people need to know that we will have an avenue in which we can vent our views without being censored by those same corporations that live because of our ongoing contributions. We should live knowing that even those who are supposed to serve the greater good have our best interest at heart and not the concerns of those who can buy politicians and public interest advocates

Edith Russell

10039

=====
From: Edith Swecker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edith Swecker

=====
From: Edit Snyder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edit Snyder

=====
From: Ed Kersten
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Kersten

=====
From: Ed Klimasauskas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve Net Neutrality. Corporations should not be allowed to dictate what speeds any website or user should have based on a pay-to-play system.

Ed Klimasauskas

99504

=====
From: Ed Lee
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Lee

=====
From: Ed Marino
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
How much more of the thing that belong to us or you going to take away
-- Please specify some content

Ed Marino

07874

=====
From: ed matney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please block the merger; we need competition to reach top internet speeds for ALL.

We did not have a tiered telegraph system, a tiered newspaper system, a tiered radio system nor a tiered television system.

Why should we have a tiered internet?

In a democracy education and information should be available to all citizens. A tiered internet is a serious step away from equal access for all.

Mergers do not promote competition and this merger especially should be blocked!

ed matney

94611

=====
From: Ed McQuality
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed McQuality

=====
From: Edmond G. Stephenson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edmond G. Stephenson

77080

=====
From: Ed Morse
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Please do not buckle to corporate pressure. Do the right thing and preserve net neutrality.

Ed Morse

53551

=====
From: Ed Mulhall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Mulhall

=====
From: Edmund Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edmund Jones

95129

=====
From: Edmund LoVerde
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edmund LoVerde

=====
From: Edmund Ludde
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edmund Ludde

=====
From: Edmund Miller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet has become a necessary part of today's society, and like electricity and water, it should be treated like a utility.

Edmund Miller

94301

=====
From: Edmund Paro
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edmund Paro

=====
From: Edmund Smedley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edmund Smedley

=====

From: Edmund Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edmund Smith

=====

From: Edmund Swiger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edmund Swiger

15044

=====

From: Edna Andreassi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edna Andreassi

10960

=====

From: edna gonzalez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, edna gonzalez

=====
From: Edna Hodges
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edna Hodges

=====
From: EDNA johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, EDNA johnson

=====
From: Edna Mbayo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edna Mbayo

21666

=====
From: Ed Potts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Potts

=====
From: ed reiner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Freedom of the press and freedom of speech should not be subject to corporate control. Please support net neutrality. The web is really the last bastion of freedom for the news (that and cell phones).

ed reiner

94132

=====
From: Ed Roth Jr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ed Roth Jr

=====
From: E. D. Schragg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
Designate the Internet as a public utility, which it is, and keep net neutrality.

E. D. Schragg

95060

=====
From: Ed Stevens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ed Stevens

60614

=====
From: ed straub
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ed straub

=====
From: Edward Acosta
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve an open internet.

Edward Acosta

66062

=====
From: Edward Acosta
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

You need to protect an open and equitable internet. Please do what you can to insure this. The average American cannot compete individually, financially, with the likes of Time Warner, Comcast, AT&T, etc.

Edward Acosta

66062

=====
From: Edward Annese
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The whole point of the expansion of the internet was that it was supposed to be a level playing field to allow both businesses and ideas to compete fairly. Free Speech and Free Enterprise. But now, powerful interests want to rig the game, as they often do, in their favor, to the detriment of the vast majority of people. It is in the Public Interest to treat the Internet as a Public Resource, keeping it open and accessible to all, not based on who can pay the most for access granted by a few providers. The purpose of Government, and it's agencies, is to help protect the Public Interest, and prevent the monied interests (ie corporations) from acquiring too much power. So, execute your function and prevent corporate hegemony with regard to the Internet.

Edward Annese

94118

=====
From: Edward Anthony Aldridge
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

> In 2014, access to government services is, increasingly, exclusively through the Internet... to be an active citizen, therefore, one must have unfettered access to the Internet...

> A tiered system of Internet access would, thus, create a tiered system of citizenship...one which would not, could not, meet Constitutional mandates for equality under Law...

> This former United States Marine (1967-1969) finds this intolerable and unacceptable...yje Internet MUST remain neutral with unfettered access to all!

Edward Anthony Aldridge

98026

=====
From: Edward Archbold
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Archbold

=====
From: Edward Armm
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Armm

07849

=====
From: Edward Barmakian
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Barmakian

=====
From: Edward Bernhoft
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Bernhoft

=====
From: Edward Bielik
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Bielik

=====
From: Edward Bisker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Bisker

47906

=====
From: Edward Blum
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

It is time for the FCC to decide whether the Internet will be a fairly-administered resource for the American public, or a service operating with its primary purpose to maximize profits for ISPs and carriers at the expense of the American public. As a citizen and voter, I strongly feel that FCC must take an active role in protecting "Net Neutrality" by ensuring that all users have access to the Internet at the same priority. I am strongly urging the FCC to take an active role in ensuring that the wealth of the large Telecom providers and ISPs does not allow them to buy access to "fast lanes" unavailable to users with resources more typical of the general public. Thank you for your consideration.

Edward Blum

06824

=====
From: Edward Brendel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Regarding Net Neutrality, please focus on the interests of the American people rather than the interests of corporations and their 01% owners. Please protect real Net Neutrality. Thank you.

Regards,

Ed Brendel
Canton, MA.

Edward Brendel

02021

=====
From: Edward Bryan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Bryan

=====
From: Edward Calabro
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Calabro

02169

=====
From: edward & carol langevin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, edward & carol langevin

=====
From: Edward Cohle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Information is a necessity for a free people. I believe net neutrality protects our freedom and democracy, as well as capitalism (a chance for the "little guy" to make it financially. Our citizens are rallying for a constitutional amendment to counteract the idea that money is speech and corporations are people. Don't make the same mistake. The people of the United States do not want corporations to control the internet. Please recognize and act on the will of the people. Preserve net neutrality.

Edward Cohle

19380

=====
From: Edward Costello
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net Neutrality is crucial to our democracy in the 21st century and beyond. No entity, be it a labor union, school, etc. should have priority traffic over anyone else (barring emergency.)Non-Internet media is already too concentrated. Giving mass media companies dominance over the Internet, too, would only drastically reduce sources of information and the speed with which citizens could communicate with their government and with each other.

Edward Costello

90402

=====
From: edward cutler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

edward cutler

15228

=====
From: edward dudley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, edward dudley

=====
From: Edward Dunn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Comcast is the worst co.to do business with. They treat the consumer with no respect and their service is not good. It took 05 days to get a repair o\percon to my home. They have a lock on tv and internet service in my complex. No competition. If they merge it will only get worse.No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Dunn

33433

=====
From: Edward Edward
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Edward

=====
From: Edward Fikani
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Unless you intervene with meaningful restrictions on the Corporate use of Fast Lane Pay to Play mentality the internet will become the personal domain of only those Corporate and Private interest with big money backing. We can see how Citizen United has corrupted the election process by allowing the richest to scream the loudest into our ear. Your "WRONG" decision will seal the internet to the same fate. Make the "RIGHT" choice and side with a free and open internet. We do not want to become North Korea where only money equals access.

Edward Fikani

87111

=====
From: Edward Finuf
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Finuf

71111

=====
From: Edward flanagan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward flanagan

03842

=====
From: Edward Forrest
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Forrest

=====
From: Edward F Styborski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet should remain neutral and if you have the best interests of the people it will remain neutral.

Edward F Styborski

92264

=====
From: Edward Good
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Good

11720

=====
From: Edward Grossheim
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Grossheim

=====

From: Edward Guerrrero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

This letter that I am writing about Net Neutrality is important because people like me use the internet as a way to communicate with people all over the world, create jobs, to make business where people buy and sell their stuff and good source of education and entertainment around. Everyone and I'm against this cable company takeover because it will damage the economy, it will lose a lot of jobs, it will be harder for people to look for information and everything else to see online including it's against the 1st amendment of the constitution and freedom of speech. So, please keep the internet free and open as it is which it's for the good and not letting these cable companies have their own greed to destroy it.

Edward Guerrrero

11429

=====

From: Edward Gunderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Gunderson

=====

From: Edward Haggard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I sign generic petitions that I have read, understand and agree with. That you, Chairman Wheeler discount their collective value seems baldly convenient and wrongheaded. That people, such as myself like the truth conscientiously expressed in the generic expression does not mean the petitions are lacking in sound, genuine statement value. But, since you prefer the personal statement, how's this: Do not compromise net neutrality, your argument that what you intend is not such a compromise is roundly rationalized nonsense. Does that satisfy, Chairman Wheeler? Signed: Edward Haggard

Edward Haggard

60657

=====
From: Edward Hanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Hanson

80022

=====
From: Edward Haverly
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Haverly

=====
From: Edward Herman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Herman

=====

From: EDWARD HORNBUCKLE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, EDWARD HORNBUCKLE

=====

From: EDWARD ICE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, EDWARD ICE

=====

From: Edward Jackson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Jackson

=====

From: Edward Jasiewicz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The very progress of humanity must not be thwarted by commercial exploitation. What we have today is a rampant, never imagined power structure of systemic profiteering! There has to be intelligent intervention in this predicament if we are to survive. These steps to avoid hampering the internet and stop succumbing to the whims of the wealthy are the correct direction.

Edward Jasiewicz

15208

=====

From: Edward J Dietrich
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward J Dietrich

92262

=====

From: Edward Jensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Jensen

=====
From: Edward Kern
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Protect a free internet for everyone, not just the well to do!

Edward Kern

78253

=====
From: Edward King
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward King

=====
From: Edward Kisielewicz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Kisielewicz

=====

From: Edward Knezek
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Knezek

=====

From: Edward Kuiper
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Kuiper

=====

From: Edward Lach
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -

Please protect net neutrality. There is too much at stake here!

Edward Lach

21214

=====
From: Edward Larkey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Among the industrialized countries, the service provided by Comcast and Time Warner is abysmal, with the slowest download speeds and the most expensive compared to European and East Asian (Japan, Korea) countries. This situation will only get worse when there is no competition. As it stands now, there is no competition in the market that is currently served by Comcast in Baltimore, MD, where I currently live. Verizon refuses to install its FiOS fiber optic system in our city because it thinks it can't extract enough profits from its pitiful service. It is already impossible for our area in Baltimore to obtain reasonable and reliable service through Verizon DSL, so the only recourse we have is Comcast. The pricing policies for Comcast service mean that the price for Comcast cable TV is almost as high as it is for its internet service. That means it is impossible to save money by refusing Comcast cable TV but subscribing to the internet service. Finally, the bundling of the Comcast cable TV offerings is a huge boondoggle that forces customers to subscribe to television stations that we would otherwise not subscribe to if given the choice. I feel that the cable television providers, especially Comcast and Time Warner, should be regulated like a government utility and should be stopped from their monopoly over people's use of cable TV and internet.

Edward Larkey

21209

=====
From: Edward Loredó
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Loredó

=====

From: Edward Mack
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Large Communication companies like Time-Warner and Comcast have a deplorable record as to customer service, with their virtual monopoly status (locality-by-locality), they focus only on increasing profits. Granting them major control of the "fast lane" of the internet will predictably be abused given their past record. Keeping the internet equally available to all does these giant entities no harm and maintains a major avenue of free expression for all.

Edward Mack

12208 3013

=====
From: Edward Maloney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The Net is public property and public property should be made to benefit the public and not to enhance the interests, power and line the pockets of private entities who seek to capitalize from inequality. Capitalism is GREAT, but it only works for the nation, for the majority of people and to better our society if it is regulated to do so, not if it is tossed to the parasites who will cash in by spreading the self serving and self righteous "fee market" mythology.

Edward Maloney

10075

=====
From: Edward Medalis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The Internet needs to be free of constraints and controls imposed by people or companies with special interests. FREEDOM will keep the Internet healthy and of maximum benefit for all the little guys and gals that use it.

Edward Medalis

28025
=====

From: Edward Montgomery
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edward Montgomery

11249

=====
From: Edward Morman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Morman

=====
From: Edward Morris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

K.I.S.S. (Keep It Simple...Let's not be stupid;)

Edward Morris

54911

=====
From: Edward Murphy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Big money is slowly but SURELY eroding our democracy. If you allow pay-to-play, it'll be one more step in the wrong direction.

Edward Murphy

12065

=====
From: Edward Noon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Noon

=====
From: edward novjanovski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Let's keep it fair and not create a monopoly!

edward novjanovski

48315

=====
From: Edward Ouellette
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I use the internet each and every day. I would hate it if large corporations such as AT&T, Time Warner, Comcast, and Verizon have their way and seized full control of my internet connection, limiting speed and access to sites. Modern telecommunications, web surfing, news, infotainment, gaming, and business depend on the availability of a growing, improving, faster internet that is open and freely accessible. Please help protect net neutrality and ensure the internet stays open and freely accessible to all Americans. Thank You.

Edward Ouellette

1432

=====
From: Edward Robinson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Robinson

=====
From: Edward Rockstein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It is time to put our electronic house in order. We need and demand a free, open, internet and not one where the highest bidder controls content. The U.S. is struggling to get back on the road to a real capitalist Democracy and move away from the trend toward an oligarchical, corrupting environment. A free, open, and equal-access internet will be key in this. Please, please listen to the U.S. consumers of internet services! Support Net Neutrality!

Regards, Dr. Edward D. Rockstein
Ph.D. Princeton '81
MS U.S. Naval War College '92

Edward Rockstein

21044

=====
From: Edward Rouse
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I fully support Net Neutrality. The internet is fine the way it is and doesn't need to be 'fixed'. The internet was initially created by the government and, while some private companies have made significant contributions to getting to the current state, they have been well compensated for those contributions already. They do not need further compensation in the form of high speed lanes that they charge more for. If anything, the speeds should be going up and the costs should be coming down.

The recent spate of mergers have been reducing competition and choice in the consumer market and need to stop. This reduction of choice will dovetail into a loss of net neutrality to drive prices, and corporate profits, up to the detriment of the consumer.

Edward Rouse

30047

=====
From: Edward Schaeffer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Schaeffer

=====
From: Edward Snyder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Snyder

From: Edward Stadler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Stadler

=====

From: Edward Stankowski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Stankowski

=====

From: Edward Starkey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Starkey

=====
From: Edward Thieme
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Thieme

=====
From: Edward Times
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners - Freedom of Speech still abides in this Country!!! Back Off!
Edward Times
70805

=====
From: Edward Timmons
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Timmons

From: Edward Walton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edward Walton

=====

From: Edward Westrick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

While I can not afford to have internet supplied to my apartment (I'm typing this at the senior Cntr.), I understand that a free and open internet is vital to the economy.

Edward Westrick

92240

=====

From: Edwazrd W. Loeckel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwazrd W. Loeckel

=====

From: Edwina Walior

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwina Walior

=====

From: Edwin Carlson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwin Carlson

=====

From: Edwin Conto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwin Conto

=====

From: edwin hoffman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, edwin hoffman

=====
From: Edwin Jackson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edwin Jackson

77045

=====
From: Edwin Joffrion
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwin Joffrion

=====
From: Edwin Martin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edwin Martin

55337

=====
From: Edwin McCready

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We cannot afford to let corporations steal away freedom of receiving informationâ\200|no hierarchy is acceptableâ\200| no two tiered systemâ\200|for the rich and poor it must be equal opportunity. Start regulating and creating competition in the USA Europe is cheaper and fasterâ\200|even Cambodia is fasterâ\200|and cheaper. Shame on you if you don't do the right thing for the people.

I was with Time Warner and also ATT and they are both horribleâ\200|and disrupt and try to force people into higher and higher costs. Same with Comcast where people cannot cancel??? what is that shit? come onâ\200|

Edwin McCready

90028

=====
From: Edwin Orr

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edwin Orr

95403

=====
From: Edwin Paulsen

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwin Paulsen

=====
From: Edwin Pfiffner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If you are FOR net neutrality, you MUST NOT ALLOW two massively large Capitalist Pig media companies, Comcast and Time Warner to combine. They only want to make money off the internet by establishing separate lanes of content and charging accordingly; more, much more, and alot more for access to the internet.

Are you a tool of large media companies or, are you an advocate of free access to the internet for all citizens. I guess we will find out soon enough.

.....A citizen and internet user.

Edwin Pfiffner

06060

=====
From: Edwin Stoddard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Edwin Stoddard

=====
From: Edwin Twiss
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edwin Twiss

12047

=====
From: Edy Rayfield

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Stop this already!!!! Haven't you taken over just about everything already. Leave us alone to travel the internet. Are you going to start reading our mail next and then let a letter take as long as it did when ships would leave them under a rock in Chile taking years to get to the recipient? Get over yourselves NOW

Edy Rayfield

95060

=====
From: Edythe Rose

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairpeson Wheeler,

As a high school teacher, I expect my students to utilize the internet especially for research. Allowing any corporate entity to compromise the current open status of the internet would be a serious detriment to the educational process. At our educational institution, we do have our own system in place to prevent students from accessing certain types of sources such as on-line games, other than games associated with course work such as math games, and any sites not suitable for academic reference. The internet is also the quickest means of providing information that enhances understanding. For example, in one class, no one had ever seen a nun wearing a traditional nun's habit. Without that visual representation, they did not have a clear picture for historical/literary reference. Where else but the internet would we find the immediate availability of such reference. When students need a review of math concepts and a teacher is not available, the internet provides lessons and additional problems for them to solve. History teachers use slide shows on the internet to add to discussions of historical events. To permit any interference with net neutrality would be devastating to student learning.

Thank you for your consideration.

Edythe S. Rose

Edythe Rose

06333

=====
From: Edyth Koch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Edyth Koch

98119

=====
From: Ed Zinkiewicz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler:

I'm a small business owner. Like many other small businesses, nearly all of my business comes through the internet. I value open and free (really low-cost) access to the internet. The folks that seem to be supporting additional charges are already collecting fees for me to stay in the game. Why increase these fees?

I need a level playing field to survive and thrive as a business. One internet for high rollers and another for people like me would throttle my ability to be seen by the audience I'm trying to reach.

I also welcome competition. Charging more for use would limit the number of players. I would hope new policies would enable more players with more diversity. Innovation requires this.

Please protect the open internet.

Ed Zinkiewicz
xxxx@xxxx.xxx-to.com

Ed Zinkiewicz

37205

=====
From: Ef Doyle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Allowing further consolidation of the Telecommunications Monopolies is a really bad idea. We already find too much influence by very bad companies that are terrible to their customers if not down right fraudulent in their dealings with them and all because there is little or no competition. Comcast is one of the very worst companies on the planet in regards to customer service more power and less diversity in the industry will only make them worse and more powerful.

Net Neutrality would be further threatened by larger and more influential players willing to do only what is good for them and completely ignore what is good for the public.

DO NOT LET WARNER COMCAST GO THROUGH!

Ef Doyle

87508

=====
From: Efrain Sanchez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Pleeese no more monopolies.

Efrain Sanchez

00660

=====
From: E Harrison
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

This merger would create an environment that would prevent almost all future innovaton, and would undoubtably cause increases in the costs for all customers. Please do not allow these companies to merge.e

E Harrison

10019

=====
From: Eileen Barayasarra
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eileen Barayasarra

=====
From: eileen goldman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We should have equality on the internet. Please keep net neutrality eileen goldman

44333

=====
From: Eileen Green
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eileen Green

=====
From: Eileen Levin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eileen Levin

55343

=====
From: Eileen Marum
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Eileen Marum
41 Mill Street
Marion, MA 02738

The issue is merely one of fairness. In our homes, ovens use vastly more power each day than light bulbs. Should, then, oven manufacturers pay electricity companies for all that burdensome work they have to do to keep ovens working â\200\223 especially when light bulbs are so low-strain? Generally, we'd see such a concept as ridiculous: the customer pays once, and that's enough.

Sincerely,

Eileen Marum

Eileen Marum

02738

=====
From: Eileen McCorry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If the FCC truly wants to expand broadband and increase competition, this is what must be done:

Use of Title II authority to promote broadband expansion and to prevent Big Telecom from creating fast and slow lanes on the internet.

Rejection of the Comcast Time Warner merger. If the FCC wants to promote competition, two of the four national broadband providers must not be permitted to merge.

Eileen McCorry

10024

=====
From: eileen riley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eileen riley

=====
From: Eileen Wood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am self employed and provide information to customers via the internet. My website has many photos, and a slow lane acct could ruin my sales. Being a small shop, I would not be able to afford fast lane internet.

Please protect net neutrality! Thank you.

Eileen Wood

80005

=====
From: E Jaramillo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please do not allow Comcast and Time Warner to merge, creating a monopoly that will grab consumers by the short hairs. The Net is a powerful tool for education and information discovery, and should be widely available to all citizens, not just the few with deep pockets.

E Jaramillo

06520

=====
From: e.j. boccuzzi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, e.j. bocuzzi

=====
From: EJ McMichael
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, EJ McMichael

=====
From: Elaine Abell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Abell

=====
From: elaine andrews
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

elaine andrews

21044

=====
From: Elaine Banman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elaine Banman

67063

=====
From: Elaine Botnen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Botnen

=====
From: Elaine Britton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Britton

=====
From: Elaine Cassata
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Cassata

=====
From: Elaine Coleman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Mr.Wheeler, when does the citizenry/consumer win? The consumer pays for the internet service via the ISP.I pay $25.90/per month.
Corporations profits aren't an issue in our country are they?

Elaine Coleman

11434

=====
From: Elaine Cribben
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Cribben

=====
From: Elaine Fitzpatrick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elaine Fitzpatrick

07871

=====
From: Elaine Garceau
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elaine Garceau

32817

=====
From: Elaine Harvel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Harvel

From: Elaine Hefner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Hefner

=====

From: Elaine Ikemoto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Ikemoto

=====

From: Elaine Mac Donald
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Mac Donald

=====
From: Elaine McAuliffe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elaine McAuliffe

11003

=====
From: Elaine McGough
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine McGough

=====
From: Elaine Moore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,
I find it necessary to write you regarding the internet and a request for you to protect net neutrality. More and more people are using the Internet school children from Kindergarten thru adults (Seniors) To allow large companies to merge takes away the rights of competition in the marketplace.
Given our current economy we need to be allowed to make choices. I just received notification from my internet provider of changes in speeds forthcoming Each persons needs are different.

Elaine Moore

Elaine Moore

24019

=====
From: Elaine Newell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Newell

=====
From: Elaine Niehof
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Niehof

=====
From: elaine peters
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content Net neutrality means I will receive the news as fast as anyone with money or any corporation. I am a teacher and want access to material in as fast a way as possible. Pay-to-play only favors companies with money. We deserve equal treatment.

elaine peters

11801

=====
From: Elaine Schena
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elaine Schena

=====
From: elbert Crary
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content The internet is for all the people, not just for those who can afford the fast channels.

elbert Crary

44023

=====
From: Elbert Gamble
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elbert Gamble

From: Elbert Richards
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elbert Richards

=====

From: Elbert Yaw
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elbert Yaw

=====

From: Eldon Blancher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The Internet isn't just for big business. The ISPs provide a crucial utility, just like water, sewer, garbage, electricity, or natural gas/heating oil. They should be regulated like one. Also, as utilities they should not be allowed to provide content as well, that is a conflict of interest (they'll favor their content over others who are not willing or able to pay their desired fees).

If we want to maintain a free society, we need to keep Net Neutrality.

Eldon Blancher

30080

=====
From: Eldon McMullen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content I think it is a waste of time to write this letter because I believe that Wheeler has already been bought and is just going to do what his masters say. If not I will be suprised. It is really becoming a major problem in this country . The Idea that we have excepted the notion that wealthy people can just step on everybody else and bear no responsability for their actions. when I was young A person and a corporation had stand by contracts and were punished if they didn't. now we just overpay and let big buseness go scott free when they break a contract. Heaven forbid we should punish some head of a big business that makes retirement pay disapear. Back to the subject. Make the desision and get it over with, and I hope if Wheeler makes the wrong one, he suffers in pain for the rest of his life. Now you have heard it from me. Mac

Eldon McMullen

97443

=====
From: Eldridge Breaux
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eldridge Breaux

=====
From: Eldyn Gendron
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eldyn Gendron

=====
From: Eleanor Anderson-Miles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eleanor Anderson-Miles

94804

=====
From: Eleanor Armes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Sir:

As a resident of Tazewell County, in Southwest Virginia, I am blessed to live in a beautiful, peaceful setting, but there are times when I feel as though I am being held hostage by geography. All "local" television stations, with the exception of one, are located out of state, and both "local" daily newspapers are as well. Staying informed on what is happening with our state legislature in Richmond, not to mention, having access to accurate weather information, especially when severe weather is predicted, is not always to easy when we have to rely on West Virginia and Tennessee based media. The internet is essential to staying connected to my own state.

So many of us rely on the internet, for any number of reasons. Our various needs for equal access to the net should not have to be sacrificed to accommodate greedy corporations. At this point, there are no defined rules for how Big Telecom can operate if Net Neutrality falls. What is to keep them from making their own rules should you side with their argument? How would I stay informed? How would the next up and coming entrepreneur succeed? Can that small business endure? Would students have access to the same online resources as before? AND, would information, view points, criticisms, blogs, etc., be censored or blocked if content disagrees with providers views?

Please stand up to these telecommunication corporations. Let them know that equal access to the internet belongs to us all. Net Neutrality must stand. Regulate it as a public utility.

Thank you for taking time to read this.

Eleanor Armes

24641

=====
From: Eleanor Cuevas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eleanor Cuevas

95476

=====
From: Eleanor Fox
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am distressed and disgusted by Big Telecom's impending destruction of genuine Net Neutrality. I taught Social Studies (including Anthropology, Political Science, and combined American and World History) to students in a private high school for many years, using the New York Times as a text, and in fact, creating my own texts, and requiring the students to think independently and do meaningful research. At my retirement, the school set up an annual prize in my name which is still presented yearly. Nowadays, keeping up with world events and domestic developments is impossible without free internet access to factual material and points of view beyond corporate propaganda. I can no longer recognize the democratic country I grew up in; corporate power and the monetization of everything have destroyed it. I don't want to see the FCC dancing on its corpse.

Eleanor Fox

10035

=====
From: Eleanor Friedl
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eleanor Friedl

07869

=====
From: Eleanor Goff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eleanor Goff

85711

=====
From: Eleanor Kaye
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eleanor Kaye

33009

=====
From: Eleanor Lanoue
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eleanor Lanoue

=====
From: Eleanor Mroz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eleanor Mroz

=====
From: Eleanor Stewart
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eleanor Stewart

=====
From: Elena C
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elena C

11360

=====
From: Elena Carlana
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
As a small business owner, the Internet is my lifeblood. But I can't afford to pay for Internet access on a level with big businesses. Still customers want fast service. If I'm reduced to the slow lane, that will be the death of my business. The same will be true of all small businesses. We are the backbone of American economic activity, but we will be unable to compete.

As an outspoken entertainer, I also can't have Internet service providers deciding whether or not my content is "worthy". We have to have real net neutrality. There is no aspect of modern life that is more a vital public utility than the Internet. Please keep service providers out of our businesses, and pass or administer laws that allow equal access and a level playing field for all. The Internet needs to remain the freewheeling marketplace of ideas that it has been. Thank you.

Elena Carlana

40502

=====
From: Elena Chernysheva
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elena Chernysheva

11235

=====
From: elena dominguez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elena dominguez

=====
From: Elena Joan Rebollar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Big telecom and cable should not have any more priority access to the internet than the average citizen or small business. We need to preserve net neutrality to assure that everyone continues to have equal access and equal speed. This is what the internet was based on from the get-go, and it should be preserved in this manner. Big telecom should not be the gatekeepers of the internet, since all they will do is provide themselves "fast lanes" at the expense of everyone else. This needs to be stopped!

Elena Joan Rebollar

60610

=====
From: Elena Vanko
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

As a student who depends on the internet to support my education, and a former non-profit employee who knows the importance of the internet for people and organizations other than rich companies, I urge you to preserve net neutrality.

Elena Vanko

21286

=====
From: Elen Terry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net Neutrality should be guaranteed under the First Amendment. Citizens United has already done unconscionable damage to the Free Speech guarantee and to one person-one vote. Allowing faster/better Internet access according to how much one pays further corrodes our Constitutional rights. This is still the United States, where we're supposed to be enjoying the fruits of a democratic republic, not an oligarchy or plutocracy. Further, educators are increasingly incorporating the Internet into lesson plans and for remote learners; for private schools, or even public schools in "better" or wealthier districts, to have better/faster access would be another erosion of the people's rights and be hugely detrimental to our country's wellbeing. Thank you for your consideration.

Elen Terry

29407

=====
From: ELEY HARRIS

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

PLEASE DO THE RIGHT THING.

ELEY HARRIS

30813

=====
From: Elfrieda Peninger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elfrieda Peninger

=====
From: Elga Layton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elga Layton

=====
From: Elida Horn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Defend net neutrality, not your next job.

Elida Horn

99664

=====
From: elida sosa
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elida sosa

=====
From: Eligio Ruiz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please insure that the internet stays at it is, a public space where all of its user are garaunteed equal access regardless of our income.

Regards,

Eligio Ruiz

Eligio Ruiz

94610

=====
From: ELI GLATSTEIN
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The Internet is the final resource of public interest, independent of the Koch Bros and other sources of Big Money. It should NOT be effectively ruled by Big Business or Big Media.

Mr. Wheeler, if you do not continue the Internet as an independent public resource, there will be a great interest into YOUR roots and prior links to media and other "dark" forces. There are many who already question how you were appointed to your present position. GD IT, DO YHR RIGHT THING. Is that asking too much??? ELI GLATSTEIN

ELI GLATSTEIN

19103

=====
From: Eli McDUFFORD
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eli McDUFFORD

=====
From: Eliot Pickel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eliot Pickel

=====
From: Eliot Schickler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The open internet has worked magnificently since we the people had an internet!
Changing the rules now just to benefit Verizon, AT & T, Comcast and Times Warner is morally reprehensible, thus, leave well enough alone and keep it the way it is! These four corporations make a lot of money that they don't need to own the internet so they could even further maximize their profits!

Eliot Schickler

02446

=====
From: Elisabeth Marshall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elisabeth Marshall

=====
From: Elisa Falk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,
I would like the FCC to fight for net neutrality! I personally view many grassroots, independent, small business, and art websites. Telecom and other giant companies would make it harder for these small companies to grow. America is about, should be, allowing a small start up company the chance to grow. How can a small company be expected to pay more when their budget is, most likely, already strapped. Please, please, please keep net neutrality!

Elisa Falk

89052

From: elisa flores
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elisa flores

=====
From: Elise Benson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elise Benson

87107

=====
From: Eli Stanfield
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eli Stanfield

33982

=====
From: elizabeth anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elizabeth anderson

=====
From: elizabeth arrazola
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elizabeth arrazola

=====
From: Elizabeth Bigas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler,
Net neutrality is very important to me because as a net user I depend on the Internet personally and professionally. I do not want to be put on a slow Internet because I cannot afford to pay for a faster service or I am not lucky enough to belong or own a large corporation. As it is I am already paying for data service that is expensive if I go over my data plan then I have to go to the next level of paying more. Now I have to worry about using service that might not go fast enough. I very much think that net neutrality is something that should be enforced. I am writing this for several people who do not have internet service.

Thank you,
Elizabeth Bigas

Elizabeth Bigas

88001

=====

From: Elizabeth Carvalho
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elizabeth Carvalho

91302

=====
From: Elizabeth Co
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is critical to a modern democracy. As a social worker, I see those with few means using the internet to improve their circumstances. As a grad student, I see hungry, passionate students using the internet to grow their knowledge and skills, which will be the basis of the country's future. As a mother, I see kids who are bombarded with electronic toys and devices turn to the internet for meaningful content.

Allowing Big Telecom to rob the 99% of the full capacity of the internet by capitalizing on the ability of huge corporations and the very rich to pay premiums for "the fast lane" would be devastating the rest of internet usersâ\200\224 those who will constitute the human resources of this country, as well as its spirit.

Prioritizing, blocking, or slowing down access to the internet has profound First Amendment ramifications. Big Telecom does not have the right to co-opt the voices of all Americans. Big Telecom did not invent the internet. Nor do they have the right to limits its benefit to all.

Elizabeth Co

10960

=====
From: Elizabeth Cobb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Cobb

=====
From: Elizabeth Cross
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am very concerned about keeping the net open and available to all - without tiering tethered to money!
We have seen what corporate greed does to us common folk....and the net belongs to ALL!
With no strings.
Please do not allow this to happen.
Please.

Elizabeth Cross

92270

=====
From: Elizabeth Czajka
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We pay top dollar and we demand top service!!

Elizabeth Czajka

08527

=====
From: Elizabeth Deogratias
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Big Telecoms. Must not control my and my family access to the internet. big money mmust not be able to control citizen access to the internet. Why should they take over a technology developed and paid for by our tax dollars. The people should control what the peoples money paid for...not greedy business who want only to make money off what they did not pay for.

Elizabeth Deogratias

22203

=====

From: Elizabeth Douglas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Douglas

=====

From: Elizabeth Eckler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It was bound to happen sooner or later. Put a dollar value on internet speed so only the big boys can play and we pipsqueaks can just go fly a kite. Another example of a creative enterprise outgrowing innovation. Except you can stop this inequality before it starts. Woe to democracy if you do not protect net neutrality. You are standing at a crossroads. Do not think for one moment that history will not judge you for this decision, no matter what else you have accomplished in your lifetime. This is the big one; the test of a lifetime. Do the right thing.

Elizabeth Eckler

81201

=====

From: Elizabeth Erbschloe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Erbschloe

=====
From: Elizabeth Evans-Iliesiu
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Evans-Iliesiu

=====
From: Elizabeth Gantt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Gantt

=====
From: Elizabeth Gillanders
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Gillanders

=====
From: Elizabeth Grous
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elizabeth Grous

78704

=====
From: Elizabeth Grovenstein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please assert your authority under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 and prevent telecom giants from seizing control of our internet - the internet that virtually all American citizens depend upon to communicate, bank, research - essentially to live in the 21st century.

The internet is used by more American citizens like a public utility than the land line is at this point.

The giant telecom monopolies that are referred to as "public" companies clearly do not have any concern for my best interests or those of any of the non-corporate people living here - actual people who outnumber corporate "people" significantly.

Please do your job and act in the best interests of the actual people your agency is charged with serving.

Elizabeth Grovenstein

28748

=====
From: Elizabeth Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Harris

=====

From: Elizabeth Hastings
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I support a free and open internet with no restriction or fast lanes and slow lanes. Don't limit startups from getting off the ground if they can't compete with the big guys.

Monopolies are bad for a healthy capitalism - people should have choices. And having a tiered system where wealthier established companies can afford the fast lane prices will prevent startups from taking off if they can't afford those prices. People won't use slow sites. Studies show it, they are impatient with slow internet, so they will just stay with the established fast sites - the ones that can afford to pay the price. Thus squashing the competition.

I also support broadband reclassification. I feel like the internet should be reclassified as Title II communications since information is going both ways.

Elizabeth Hastings

65201

=====

From: Elizabeth Hernandez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Hernandez

=====

From: Elizabeth Hull

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Hull

=====
From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: E. Jacobson
Email: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Address: Washington DC
Zip: 20011

Dear Chairman Wheeler, please don't break the Internet. Don't abandon the "Hands off the Net" approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built today's broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title II's draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&T's government-created monopoly. They're a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We don't buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling today's bipartisan "Hands off the Net" approach. You can't have just enough Title II any more than you can be slightly pregnant.

Title II would hurt startups most: they can't cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCC's powers over the Internet. Remember, you won't be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you don't intend.

Yet, as you've noted, Title II wouldn't even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban "fast lanes."

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called "vigilant restraint." But remember Kennard's digital mantra, too: "First, do no harm." If you conclude that existing laws aren't adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCC's authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim whether that's Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: Elizabeth Kinney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I rely on the internet for news, shopping, and keeping up with family and friends. To me it is a public utility and should be treated as such. It will only become more important in the future, not only to our economy but to our democracy. It must be protected from special interests. It must be treated the way we treat other public utilities--with regulations preventing excessive profit and, in the internet's case, regulation to prevent political or economic abuse. It must remain free so that minority opinions and small start up companies have a chance and are not relegated to such slow service --which is defacto censorship--that they fail.

Elizabeth Kinney

81101

=====
From: Elizabeth Koundakjian Koundakjian
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

To Mr. Wheeler:

Please protect free access to the internet from huge corporations monopolizing access and charging fees for what rightfully belongs freely to everyone...the airways.

Sincerely, Elizabeth Koundakjian,

Elizabeth Koundakjian Koundakjian

02138
=====

From: Elizabeth Kramer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is the air, and you can't charge some people more for oxygen than others or force some people to access a different level of oxygen than others.

Elizabeth Kramer

97415

=====
From: Elizabeth Leonardi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Leonardi

=====
From: Elizabeth Mayes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is key to the future of democracy. Net neutrality is also key to world peace and personal freedom. Don't waffle on this issue and go down in history as a weak sell-out to big business. Stand up for what's right and history will thank you.

Elizabeth Mayes

87501

=====
From: Elizabeth McLane
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth McLane

=====
From: elizabeth meni
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
Please protect net neutrality! And say NO to a Time Warner/Comcast merger. Thank you.
elizabeth meni
22182

=====
From: Elizabeth Mirto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Mirto

=====
From: ELIZABETH MOORE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some contentThe internet should be available and affordable to all and not just a few. Please help preserve affordable internet service for all U.S. citizens.

ELIZABETH MOORE

30904

=====
From: Elizabeth Olivas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Olivas

=====
From: Elizabeth Powell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Powell

=====
From: Elizabeth Ramirez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Ramirez

=====
From: Elizabeth Robechek
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Mr Wheeler,

As a college instructor, it is absolutely essential to present and future of life on earth that students have easy and quick access to information through the internet. Creating a better future is as stake. My students, studying Sustainable Landscape Practices (Vermont Technical College), need to research best practices and enter the exchange of ideas which affects clean water, air, soil cost effectiveness, public safety and health etc. Limitations of fast and slow lanes on the internet, established by corporations for their own gain, must not be allowed.

Through your role at the FCC, you have the authority to once and for all establish the internet as a public utility, held away from the reach of private corporations who seek to bend it toward there desired, self-serving outcomes.

Use Title II authority to promote broadband expansion and to prevent Big Telecom from creating fast and slow lanes on the internet.

Reject the Comcast Time Warner merger. If you want to promote competition, you donâ\200\231t allow 02 of the 04 national broadband providers to merge.

We are all watching and TRULY NEED TO SEE THAT THIS IS ACCOMPLISHED NOW FOR THE GOOD OF ALL.

Elizabeth Robechek, MLA
Vermont, USA

Elizabeth Robechek

05602

=====
From: Elizabeth Romain
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Romain

=====
From: Elizabeth Rowland
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Rowland

=====
From: Elizabeth Rudd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Rudd

=====
From: elizabeth samamo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elizabeth samamo

=====
From: Elizabeth seashock
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth seashock

=====
From: Elizabeth Selandia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Mr. Wheeler,

I write again as 15 Sept approaches. I again request that you stop big companies from usurping the power of the Internet to increase their profit margin because doing so will assure that Joe Blow from Anywhere, USA, has access to the Internet without having to show he's got huge bucks in his bank account and facing bills to decrease his savings just to use it.

I have a degree in Library and Information Science, fyi, and rely upon ready and easy access to do my online research, quickly. My usage includes watching videos online for entertainment, such as Borgen and music videos.

Generally, I am for ma and pa small businesses and oppose the mergers of large corporations--who are not baptized because they have no souls so should not be considered "human" as the recent ruling erred in judgment--if only because it puts so many people out of business.

This is what allowing a few to dictate the domain concerns of the Internet will do and, in the end, many who could have made a living off online ventures will be in the streets, begging, all because YOU failed to stop this from happening by not standing up to big business and protecting the rights of individuals to net neutrality.

Wishing you a good nights sleep before the meeting on 15 Sept, because if you fail to uphold the premise of net neutrality in ALL ways on 15 Sept, your nightmare in public relations has just begun. Just telling you how it is ...

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Selandia, MLIS, MAIA, MAMS, OMD, CA

Elizabeth Selandia

94977

=====
From: Elizabeth Shonk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Mr. Wheeler.

The first amendment under the Bill of Rights guarantees the right of free speech to every citizen. If corporations can hinder or control access to means of communication, then we no longer have free speech. Please don't allow corporations to violate our first amendment right to communicate by limiting our access to the net. Please keep the net neutral.

Thank you.

Registered Voter

Elizabeth Shonk

80123

=====
From: Elizabeth Soellner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please do not allow the internet to be divided into a "fast lane" for those with deep pockets and a "slow lane" for everyone else. Net neutrality safeguards innovation, creativity, communication, business, and education, to the benefit of everyone, not just the privileged few.

Elizabeth Soellner

53714

From: Elizabeth Taraba
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Taraba

=====

From: elizabeth taveras
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

One hundred years ago the United States economic landscape was manipulated by big company mergers and crippling its socio-economic growth. I ask that you vote no to a return to big business chokehold on the lives of everyone in the US.

elizabeth taveras

10039

=====

From: Elizabeth Wham
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elizabeth Wham

=====

From: Elizabeth Zenker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Now a Grandmother, I will never forget visiting Williamsburg, Virginia as a teenager, and learning more clearly about our Freedom of the Press. Taking that tour which included the first printing press ever used that was not British-owned. The Guide spoke of how our Freedom of the Press was such a key element in our ability to declare Independence.

Now that it is over 200 years later, that printing press has 'evolved' to the internet. Saving our trees and moving more quickly. Just as TV has so many channels to choose from, the internet has many ways we can interact.

So to have this become dominated by a single Voice - that of corporate manipulation - this would be just like that pre-Williamsburg lack of independent dissemination of information. And would manipulate who gets to see, and use, both what they can and can not, without any ability to know.

Or having it cost more money to use than it now does - actually widens the existing gaps between the rich and the poor. Newspaper stands charge the same amount for everyone!

This would be too similar to our British-ruled past, making this country's information manipulated by Corporate Interest, that has migrated into Political Interest. That also, in our Constitution, declares would give citizens the rights to "abolish" what hampers our inalienable rights.

Please do what is ethically right, which may be quite different from what is financially beneficial, as so many depend upon this ruling.

Respectfully,
Rev. E. Zenker

Elizabeth Zenker

95521

=====
From: ELLA DAVIS
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Are you among so many federal employees such as Representatives and Senators who have sold out to the highest bidder? No net neutrality means Big Brother is watching you. DO YOU UNDERSTAND THAT UNDERMINES OUR FREEDOM? THE FREEDOM OF SPEECH. IF YOU CANNOT UNDERSTAND THE SIGNIFICANCE, PLEASE GO BACK TO THE 6TH GRADE WHERE THEY TEACH YOU ABOUT FREEDOM OF SPEECH AS WRITTEN IN THE CONSTITUTION.

ELLA DAVIS

45209
=====

From: Ella Garcia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ella Garcia

=====

From: Ella Holtzman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ella Holtzman

=====

From: Ellan Murphy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I don't like mergers. They rob us of choice and cause monopolies to raise prices since they're the only game in town. NOT fair to regular people with actual lives.

Ellan Murphy

20904

=====

From: Elle Harlan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elle Harlan

=====
From: Ellen Baumgartner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

This is a democracy - or so I thought! It seems to me it's quite obvious that in a democracy, all should have the same access to the internet. It is anathema to me that it is even up for discussion.

Rather, I urge you in the strongest terms to make the internet part of the commons - like the air and water.

Please do the RIGHT and DEMOCRATIC thing!

Respectfully,
Ellen Baumgartner

Ellen Baumgartner

43085

=====
From: Ellen bell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellen bell

=====
From: Ellen Casteel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Do not give in to the greedy corporations. Keep Net Neutrality so that we all have access to the internet.

Ellen Casteel

84116

=====
From: Ellen Collom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellen Collom

=====
From: Ellene Busby
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellene Busby

=====
From: Ellen Ewing
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content Do not allow the cable companies to "steal" the internet from the American People. PROTECT it NOW and preserve it for us!!!

Ellen Ewing

49249

=====
From: Ellen Garza
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: FCC Should Hold Hearings Across the Country on Net Neutrality

To the FCC Commissioners

It has been more than five years since all five FCC commissioners left Washington, D.C., in an official capacity to hear how the agencyâ\200\231s policies affect real people. The public is invested in the future of the Open Internet where there is equal access for all and no discrimination. The American public wants to have a voice in this debate. The public has provided more than one million comments, a record number of public comments, on the Open Internet rulemaking and prior to the rulemaking more than 03 million took action for Net Neutrality. The FCC was unable to handle all the phone calls it received from the public and the comments on the rulemaking crashed the FCC's system. Reclassification of the Internet so it is a public utility where there can be no discrimination is an issue where the public wants to be heard.

Give the public a real opportunity to meet with you face to face. Please schedule meetings in communities throughout the country before you vote on this plan.

--
Ellen Garza
xxxx@xxxx.xxx

=====
From: Ellen Greenwood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ellen Greenwood

=====
From: Ellen Hagood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I strongly urge you to aggressively protect the rights of the average American citizen by fiercely protecting net neutrality. I am a 68 year old retiree living on a fixed income and should not be subjected to the greedy financial whims of large corporations. Not only for myself, but for my children and grandchildren as well, I adamantly oppose corporations being given the right to arrogantly censor the wealth of information currently available. The American public needs readily available, cost-free access to multiple opinions in order to make well-informed decisions. We do not need an internet that merely parrots the corporate party-line which leads only to furthering that corporation's self-serving agenda.

Ellen Hagood

37601

=====
From: Ellen Hanley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I support net neutrality and strongly oppose any merger that will eventually lead to and limitations on net neutrality and any politicians who vote to allow those mergers.

Ellen Hanley

95945

=====
From: ellen hargrave
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Once again the playing field is tilted...The wealthy get faster internet to get better housing ahead of others, better jobs first, more information quicker...the poor get what is left and never get the chance for "the American dream", and are only told to work harder...now, how are they going to do that with only dregs of opportunities left to them...the field must be kept level...Everyone deserves to get free access to Internet with no manipulation

ellen hargrave

28409

=====
From: Ellen Hogarty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content Please protect Net Neutrality--it is for the good of all.

Ellen Hogarty

44240

=====
From: Ellen Lauber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ellen Lauber

45459

=====
From: Ellen McCrindle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellen McCrindle

From: ellen p
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

To the FCC and Chairman Wheeler:

Please keep the corporate money out of our internet!! The internet must maintain neutrality so that every citizen has equal opportunity to benefit from it's windows to education, job opportunities, communications, and information.

Don't be like all the other Washington bureaucrats! Don't succumb to being "bought" by the corporations!

Don't allow this wonderful system to become another case of the "haves" against the "have-nots".

I'm counting on you to do the right thing, Ellen Patterson ellen p

94515

=====
From: Ellen Posel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please protect the internet as a public utility, available to all at a minimal price. In this society, EVERYONE, regardless of their ability to pay a high fee, must have easy, fast access to the internet for every aspect of modern life: to communicate with employers, schools and teachers, medical providers, and many more. And ALL students, at every level, are expected to have rapid access to the internet. Please keep this part of the "playing field" level for all. Please keep the net neutral and equally available to all.

Thank you.

Ellen Posel

98225

=====
From: Ellen Rosten
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The FCC needs to ban Big Telecom from creating these so-called â\200\234fast-lanesâ\200\235 which only large companies could afford and thereby maintaining Net Neutrality.

Ellen Rosten

Ellen Rosten

14850

=====
From: Ellen Sadowski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please preserve Net Neutrality. Keep the Internet an open forum, not one that is rigged in favor of large companies that can afford to pay. In a time when so much of the media is owned by wealthy individuals, we desperately need Net Neutrality.

Ellen Sadowski

12061

=====
From: Ellen Scaruffi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ellen Scaruffi

21146

=====
From: Ellen Slack
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am a Library Bibliographic Assistant at the University of Pennsylvania, and my colleagues and I depend heavily on the Internet; for access to Library of Congress cataloging information, publishers' websites (some obscure or foreign), and general fact-checking. The Reference Librarians here are in many ways even more dependent on the Internet. I fear that loss of net neutrality would negatively impact the work of this important research library.

Additionally, I am a labor activist; I use the Internet to research labor issues and sometimes to disseminate information. I am VERY concerned that the kinds of information I seek--or compile--would be especially likely to fall victim to corporate control of Internet traffic.

Thanks you for considering my thoughts on this matter.

Ellen Slack

19147

=====
From: Ellen Zimmermann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellen Zimmermann

=====
From: Ellie Brown
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellie Brown

=====
From: Elliot Fritz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elliot Fritz

=====
From: Elliot Shamis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elliot Shamis

32725

=====
From: Elliott Vincent
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elliott Vincent

=====
From: Ellis Greiner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellis Greiner

=====
From: Ellis Watson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ellis Watson

=====
From: Elma Hernandez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elma Hernandez

=====
From: El Mehdi Dahni
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, El Mehdi Dahni

=====

From: Elmer Anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -

Do Not Sell Out Common American Citizens by monetizing internet performance speeds and therefore, information flow, and again favor Big Business over People.
Are you a Business or a Citizen/Person??

Elmer Anderson

90016

=====

From: Elmer Fleagle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elmer Fleagle

=====

From: Elmer Shelton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elmer Shelton

=====
From: Elna Countryman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elna Countryman

=====
From: Elsa Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

It is critical that our internet remain open and equally accessible to all rather than privileged to those who can afford to pay. Please do not allow large corporations to stifle entrepreneurs and limit democratic communication.

Elsa Johnson

97266

=====
From: Elsa Ramos
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Elsa Ramos

94804

=====
From: elsy valenzuela
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, elsy valenzuela

=====
From: Elvin Battaya
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elvin Battaya

=====
From: Elvin Pettet
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

FCC Chairman Wheeler,
Net neutrality has been the default state of the internet since its invention, with internet service providers loading all websites at the same speed. Now, Big Telecom wants to change the rules so they can extract more money from websites by making them pay to be served to customers at faster speeds.

In order to legally prevent Big Telecom from destroying net neutrality, the FCC should assert authority it already has under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility.

Net neutrality should always be protected by the FCC, as you are the only thing standing between big Telecom business, and the people who depend on you to regulate them.

Thank you for giving this your serious consideration!

Elvin Pettet

Elvin Pettet

64063

=====
From: Elvis minaya
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Elvis minaya

=====
From: emerald cook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, emerald cook

=====
From: Emery Harman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emery Harman

=====
From: Emery Zapata
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emery Zapata

=====
From: em han
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

em han

97205

=====
From: Emil Ghiurau
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emil Ghiurau

=====
From: Emil Salas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emil Salas

=====
From: Emily Baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily Baker

=====
From: emily bradsher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: i support net neutrality

Please keep the internet neutral. Do not allow fast or slow lanes.
Thank you,

Emily Gonzales

=====
From: Emily Burns
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily Burns

=====
From: Emily cabiad
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily cabiad

=====
From: emily cinicola
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, emily cinicola

=====
From: Emily Garcia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily Garcia

=====
From: Emily Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Emily Harris

11210

=====
From: Emily Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily Johnson

=====
From: Emily Marshall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily Marshall

=====
From: Emily Meyer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Emily Meyer

55410

=====
From: Emily Moody
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emily Moody

=====
From: Emily Ogle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Emily Ogle

18058

=====
From: Emily Reynolds
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear FCC,

The Internet has become more than a tool to so many Americans. It is inspiration, it is information, it is interaction with people, ideas and stories that have only been possible with net neutrality. I know you have the intelligence to understand exactly what commercializing the speed and access to select websites will mean for all of us. It will effectively kill everything good about the Internet. Please protect net neutrality.

With appreciation,
Emily Reynolds

Emily Reynolds

81122

=====
From: emily salaun
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, emily salaun

=====
From: Emily West
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Democracy is completely dependent on an unfettered media. The internet is our primary source of information for the population of this country - and the world - and it's becoming more and more important that this media source remain open and equal in all regards. Thank you for recognizing how imperative this issue is!

Emily West

01002

=====
From: Emina Mathis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emina Mathis

=====
From: Emma Alvarez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emma Alvarez

=====
From: Emma Bogdan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet was created to better the world, to share information with everyone equally. It is incredibly important in education. Everyone has a right to education and everyone has a right to the internet. I was recent undergraduate student at UNC Wilmington getting a BS in Marine biology, and I was on the internet every day the last year, combing through online databases for good papers to cite in my thesis. Having that access on the internet meant I could find and read papers much more efficiently and correctly than physically going through the stacks in the maze of the library. It is an incredible tool. I reiterate, the Internet is tremendously important in education, and it means people who cannot physically be in good schools or universities can still access classes and information. Hurting the internet hurts the people. We cannot grow without an educated public. And taking away net neutrality is favoring big businesses and corporations, yet again; it is not right to slow down the net for everyone and only let the people who can pay have good access. That's not democracy. When will the government remember their commitment to the people?

Emma Bogdan

28211

=====
From: Emma Justes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Emma Justes

45322

=====
From: Emma Lou Witt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emma Lou Witt

=====
From: Emmanuel mora
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emmanuel mora

=====
From: Emmanuel Niwemuramuzi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emmanuel Niwemuramuzi

=====
From: emmett norris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, emmett norris

=====

From: Emmett Purvis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emmett Purvis

=====

From: Emmett Tucker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Emmett Tucker

=====

From: E. Mothershead
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

It is very important to maintain an open, free, fast internet for everyone. The internet should be regulated as public utilities are, not by private corporations that are only interested in their own financial well being.

I not only use the internet to stay in touch with relatives and friends around the United States, but I also use it to help my students understand concepts they're learning in reading. For example, I recently found internet pictures showing green onions because none in a reading group had ever seen them. It is this access to the internet that will enable the students at my school and every school in the nation to gain full access to all of the possibilities available to them. Please don't allow a few corporations to limit internet access to those who can afford to pay for it. By allowing that, you will be slamming the door on hundreds of thousands of children's access to an improved education.

E. Mothershead

85202

=====
From: EnChante LeMieux
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Allowing net neutrality to end is basically putting an nail in the coffins of nearly every small business out there, which is going to hurt the economy even more and is going to piss anyone trying to access certain sites at the proposed slower speeds. We already pay an arm and a leg for internet. Companies shouldn't have to pay extra to use what is already there. We need to stop giving in to the greed of big business and start thinking about what is best for the general public.

EnChante LeMieux

83202

=====
From: English Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am opposed to stopping net neutrality. the Internet should be just as open as our free market economy.

English Jones

13204

=====
From: Enid Havens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Enid Havens

98106

=====
From: ENRIQUE Caballero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ENRIQUE Caballero

=====
From: Ephraim Calbert
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If we find that you took money form the industry for your position, I will only remind you of the fate of the former governor of Virginia.
Proceed, Sir.

Ephraim Calbert

94112

=====
From: era byrd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, era byrd

=====
From: Erica Benjamin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erica Benjamin

=====
From: erica campbell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, erica campbell

=====
From: Erica Field
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Erica Field

95536

=====
From: erica gilliam
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, erica gilliam

=====
From: Erica Himes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Erica Himes

33709

=====
From: Erica Neff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erica Neff

=====
From: Eric Arn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is important to me. I am very concerned about the possibility of a "pay-to-play" internet with Big Telecom acting as gatekeepers. I am very concerned about allowing large Telecom companies to extract more money from companies that operate on the internet, and about allowing Internet Service Providers to make deals that would prioritize content consumers can access. I am also concerned about the first amendment implications of prioritizing, blocking, or slowing down access to information on the internet.

Eric Arn

03055

=====
From: Erica wurm
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erica wurm

=====
From: Eric Beaver
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Chairman Wheeler,

We the people will remember you as the one that killed a free internet for all and equal access for everyone. These telecom corporations have received millions of dollars from the government in order make an internet for all with speeds comparable to other countries who have surpassed the United States. Yet they have squandered it for profit, they only want to see how much money they can make off it. Is it really worth it to have 99% of the population mad at you because of your actions? All for what, a few favors, some shady back room deals? Take the high road, show these telecoms that the people rule this country, NOT the corporations!

Sincerely,

Eric M. Beaver

Eric Beaver

91320

=====
From: Eric Burr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Burr

98833

=====
From: Eric Burtz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is a public utility, and must be regulated as such.

Eric Burtz

53704

=====
From: Eric Cockrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Cockrell

48184

=====
From: Eric Cockrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Please protect true internet neutrality!

Eric Cockrell

48184

=====
From: eric Creasy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eric Creasy

=====
From: Eric Crouch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Please protect net neutrality and keep the telecom companies from being allowed to control, or to charge for access to the Internet. The net must remain neutral, and free to all comers.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Eric Crouch

Eric Crouch

50010

=====
From: Eric Danielson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet shoujld be classified as a Title II communications service. Allowing providers to filter content and sites or to lower the level of access to sites is in no way good for the users of the internet. A free and open internet is essential for business and economic growth.

Large internet providers are already making a ton of money. They don't need legislation in order to make even more.

Eric Danielson

55330

=====
From: Eric Dawson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Dawson

=====
From: Eric D Stockmaster
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric D Stockmaster

=====
From: Eric Ducharme
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Ducharme

=====
From: Eric Faul
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Faul

=====
From: Eric Finley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Finley

=====

From: Eric Goshorn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Goshorn

=====

From: Eric & Grace Read
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric & Grace Read

=====

From: Eric Haskins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Haskins

96720

=====
From: Eric Hixon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Hixon

=====
From: Eric Hoffsten
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please, PLEASE protect net neutrality. We cannot hand over such a vital lifeline to large cable companies to do with what they will. We all know how that will end -- the suppression of access to information and higher prices for all of us. I urge you in the strongest possible way to protect a free and open internet!

Eric Hoffsten

04032

=====
From: eric hoppe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Hoppe

=====
From: Eric Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Johnson

=====
From: Eric Johnson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: We Reject Your "Net Neutrality" Proposal

Your proposal is awful. Allowing ISPs to dictate which internet sites their customers have faster access to is a horrible idea. How is that net neutrality? Stop trying to trick us with your euphemisms.

=====
From: Eric Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Chairman Wheeler:

The proposed merger of Comcast and Time Warner must be viewed primarily through the lens of current US antitrust law. The proposed merger will severely limit Americans choice for broadband providers, giving one very large corporation 50% of the US market for broadband services.

The two-tiered broadband solution plays right into the hands of Comcast, Verizon and Time Warner, allowing these providers to charge higher fees to content providers that will ultimately have the effect of stifling content provider competition. I currently enjoy equal access to ALL content providers on the Internet. A two-tiered internet will give Comcast, Verizon, Time Warner and others the ability to decide which websites I see based on the fees they charge content providers. This seems like a pay to play arrangement, in an almost monopolistic market of service providers. Allowing Comcast and Time Warner to merge will only strengthen their current market monopolies. This merger and the proposed two-tiered internet rules not only threaten net neutrality but in essence free speech, that first amendment right we enjoy today.

I ask you to consider using Title II of the telecommunications Act of 1934, designating these monopolistic service providers to be common carriers under that act, ensuring equal internet access for ALL content providers and preserving the concept of net neutrality.

Eric Jones

25425

=====
From: Eric Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Jones

=====
From: ericka washington
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ericka washington

=====

From: Eric King
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric King

=====

From: Eric Klinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Anything short of net neutrality opens the internet up to manipulation by corporations and wealthy individuals and groups. We have already seen the mischief this creates in areas outside the internet. It would open up users and providers to extortion and the equivalent of semi-censorship. Please support and advocate for net neutrality. Anything else will further undermine our democracy and hamper constructive uses of the internet.

Eric Klinger

56267

=====

From: Eric Kolb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Kolb

=====
From: Eric LÖve
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Make this right.

Don't be stupid.

You know how this works.

Neutrality for all, or for all to fall.

FIX THIS.

Eric LÖve

32806

=====
From: Eric Messer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Messer

=====
From: Eric Montgomery
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Montgomery

=====
From: Eric Morris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Morris

=====
From: Eric Neubauer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Neubauer

=====
From: Eric Nisonger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Nisonger

85143

=====
From: Eric Pearson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Do the right thing, Wheeler!

Eric Pearson

30316

=====
From: Eric Peterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Peterson

94114

=====
From: Eric Pinero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Pinero

=====
From: Eric prado
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric prado

=====

From: Eric Rosen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Rosen

95131

=====

From: eric schickendantz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

eric schickendantz

44313

=====

From: Eric Schindler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Schindler

=====
From: Eric Scott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Scott

62948

=====
From: Eric Soto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Soto

=====
From: Eric Stordahl
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I support net neutrality - NOT the FCC proposal.

Eric Stordahl

49855

=====

From: Eric Straub
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Straub

=====

From: Eric Taylor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Taylor

=====

From: Eric Thiessen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Thiessen

=====
From: Eric Toft
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Toft

=====
From: Eric Treasure
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eric Treasure

=====
From: eric vidal
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eric vidal

=====

From: Eric Voorhies
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eric Voorhies

96746

=====

From: Eric Weber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Comments on Open Internet

Dear FCC:

As a small business owner, consumer, and IT professional, I strongly encourage the FCC to regulate Internet services as utilities. Why?

Internet access has become essential to both business and consumer communications. Frankly, it is impossible to run a business without Internet access these days, and consumers depend on it more every day. This has not always been the case, but it is time to recognize the essential nature of Internet access to both businesses and consumers.

Over the past two decades, the free-market approach to Internet services has produced expensive and spotty Internet access in the U.S. compared to other countries. This is a shame in the country that invented the Internet. Fair-priced and fast Internet access is essential to the future of the United States, and it is far more important than a few companies making a few extra dollars at the expense of everyone.

The only solution is to recognize the essential nature of Internet access, which is on par with power and phone services. In fact, many of our phone services run over the Internet. This is why Internet services should be regulated as utilities to give us the control necessary to ensure that everyone and every business has a level playing field. It also ensures that ISPs receive a fair price for their services as opposed to the obscene prices they are currently demanding compared to the rest of the world.

Allowing fast lanes for some because they have deep pockets will only result in additional and perverse market manipulations that drive the price we pay up and quality of service down. Don't let the lobbyists and money drive this process the citizens of the United States of America deserve better.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Eric Weber
720 Birch Street
Denver, CO 80220
303-517-9633
HYPERLINK "mailto:xxxx@xxxx.xxx" xxxx@xxxx.xxx

=====
From: Eric Wiener
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is the reason the open internet has grown exponentially as a force for innovation and economic growth, while provider controlled systems like prodigy and AmericaOnline went nowhere.

The growth in the internet is the reason our economy is still moving forward. Subtract that back out, and see what GDP contraction we would be in the midst of.

Allowing Net neutrality to be ended will result in unpredictable consequences for the Internet's future, and is therefore very dangerous.

Furthermore, corporations are legally required to maximize shareholder value, not maximize industry innovation, or economic growth. You simply cannot put our economic future in hands of self interested corporate entities (some of whom are also content providers) and just "hope for the best".

Eric Wiener

90404

=====
From: eric wilson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eric wilson

=====
From: Erika Macias
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erika Macias

=====
From: Erika Mack
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erika Mack

=====
From: Erik Anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Net Neutrality

Please keep the internet open to all providers equally. Money should not dictate speed on the internet.

=====
From: ERIK DEPALO
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ERIK DEPALO

=====
From: Erik Emerson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erik Emerson

=====
From: Erik Fredrickson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Erik Fredrickson

87106

=====
From: Erik Wolfner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The Internet is a vital communication vehicle for Americans. Big telecommunications companies already have too much influence and power, resulting in poor and expensive service for consumers. I am opposed to allowing companies to sell preferred access to their customers. Broadband communication should be regulated as a utility, with performance requirements and pricing limits to ensure fair business practices. We need a level playing field, not "skyboxes" for the large an influential corporations.

The proposed merger between Time Warner and Comcast should not be permitted. Comcast, Time Warner, Verizon and AT&T already have too much power. If the Congress does not act to break up these monopolies, the FCC should at least closely regulate and limit their control of the communications market.

Municipalities should be permitted to establish their own broadband infrastructure when large telecom companies fail to meet the needs of residents. Rural areas suffer from a lack of interest by big telecom companies and everyone suffers from the lack of competition in urban areas.

I hope that the FCC will truly represent the interests of ordinary citizens and voters.

Erik Wolfner

33436

=====
From: Erin Barrera
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erin Barrera

=====
From: erin cheek
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Free speech and open access have made the internet the wonderful tool and meeting place that it is today. Prioritizing and blocking access will hurt educational institutions, non-profits, small businesses, and anyone else who does not possess the means to pay. Cable companies should not control what we see.

erin cheek

11201

=====
From: erin conrad
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, erin conrad

=====

From: Erin Farley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

To whom is concerned about Democracy,

American is supposed to be a Democracy. The word Democracy and America to me inspires mental pictures of pioneers who worked and fought for equal rights.

Giving corporations faster speedways than others will no doubt lead to more uneven groundwork, if not CRIME, in Wall Street.

The extraction of more money from small businesses in a climate where the economy has not recovered yet is counter intuitive to what the people of this country need to survive as a people and a country.

Worst of all to me is the infringement of our first amendment rights to free speech and press. More and more I see the blocking of press that seems unpleasant to those with the power to do so. It causes me to grow less fond of the powers which try to steer us as individuals. The internet is also a great place for new invention and innovation. If our GDP is to grow, an investment will need to be made in our people over exploitation of diminishing resources. Not to mention the level of control attempted to pass over us as people is becoming less and less a Democracy ... The one my father, uncles, and grandfathers fought for.

Please throw in your hat and do the right thing. I'm aware of the strong influence of money. It is not more significant than a fair life.

Erin Farley

07420

=====

From: Erin McGill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erin McGill

=====

From: Erin Milstead
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erin Milstead

=====

From: Erin Perry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erin Perry

=====

From: erin stone
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, erin stone

=====

From: erle benson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is for people and belongs unfettered to the People of the World.
To all elected officials.....remember the meaning of "public service"and who it is you serve.Please be wise, be honorable, please.

Thank you,
Erle P. Benson

Content Found -- Please specify some content

erle benson

80304

=====
From: erling bangston
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: The American Internet.

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is the product of federal investment of the tax payers money and the use of the internet represents the return on that investment. The neutrality of the internet provides the continuing return on the tax payers investment and should not use or given to any private entity and FCC has a duty to the owners(the public)not to block or convert the internet,but,to protect the neutrality of the internet for all Americans.I am therefore requesting you to honor your commitment to protect our public interests,PLEASE PRESERVE THE INTERNET NEUTRALITY.

erling bangston

98249

=====
From: Erma Corbitt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erma Corbitt

=====
From: Ernest Beer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content America is losing it. The FCC wants to prove the Court is right. Money can by anything. Money=Speech.
No net neutrality goes and that proves it.
Humbug!

Ernest Beer

01752

=====
From: Ernest Bennett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I am a 78 year old retired person and I use the internet on a daily basis in my life. It has become crucial. I get most of my prescriptions online, I get medical information online, I shop online, I get my news and a large part of my entertainment online, I keep in touch with my extended family online, etc. and I know I'm not alone. Anything that limits my internet experience affects my life at a very basic level.

The internet needs to become a public utility and free from the threat of the providers dividing it up for profit. They already make too much money off the backs of their subscribers and provide marginal service, as well, for the "privilege". You have the power to fix it, for the people, and if you care for us at all you will.

Ernest Bennett

98563

=====
From: Ernest Bronson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernest Bronson

=====
From: Ernest Burrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernest Burrell

=====

From: Ernest George
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ernest George

06418

=====

From: Ernestina Cabral
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernestina Cabral

=====

From: Ernest Montoro
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ernest Montoro

44134

=====
From: Ernest Mulich
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernest Mulich

=====
From: Ernest Natiello
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ernest Natiello

19335

=====
From: Ernest Pava
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Please don't let corporations decide who has equal/free speech on the internet according to who can afford to pay more for that freedom. Should the wealthy have more freedom than others only because of their wealth? That seems counter to what our country has always stood for. Please help us preserve net neutrality.

Thank you for your consideration,
Ernest and Melanie Pava
323-259-0972
xxxx@xxxx.xxx

Ernest Pava

=====

From: ERNEST PECHE
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ERNEST PECHE

=====

From: ERNEST POTTER
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

ERNEST POTTER

48846

=====

From: Ernest Trussell
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernest Trussell

=====
From: Ernest Wiltsey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernest Wiltsey

=====
From: Ernie Cosenza
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Chairman Wheeler,
The internet has a history of open net neutrality. I feel that this should continue and I ask you to spearhead the drive for Net Neutrality. Why do I request this?
1. I am sure as a consumer you have felt the unending rise in Cable and Internet Service Providers layering, packaging and raising the monthly cost of their services. The faster speeds that will have to be bought will follow this pattern as it's the same Big Telecom providers Comcast, AT&T, Verizon, Time Warner for examples.
2. If these Big Telecom and Cable are the gatekeepers prioritizing, cutting off, or slowing down access to the full spectrum of the net, what about Freedom of Speech?
3. I am a hearing impaired person who use the net for many business and personal functions as my hearing losses are much worse in the spoken voice ranges. I want to have full net neutrality to enjoy as much of human life as other non hearing impaired citizens.
Thank You,
Ernie Cosenza

Ernie Cosenza

32164

=====
From: Ernie Hoff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Ernie Hoff

80631

=====
From: Ernie Yarbrough
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ernie Yarbrough

=====
From: Erwin Robertson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Erwin Robertson

=====
From: Esmeralda Gonzalez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Esmeralda Gonzalez

=====
From: e smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Use Title II authority to promote broadband expansion and to prevent Big Telecom from creating fast and slow lanes on the internet.

Reject the Comcast Time Warner merger. If you want to promote competition, you don't allow 02 of the 04 national broadband providers to merge.

e smith

06320

=====
From: Esperanza Guerrero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Esperanza Guerrero

=====
From: E.S. SCHLOSS
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

E.S. SCHLOSS

=====

From: essence williams
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, essence williams

=====

From: essex mason
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, essex mason

=====

From: Essie Perry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am a senior citizen, 73 years old needless to say my income is "fixed". Charging a fee would for internet service would not only be a hardship for us, my husband and I, but it would decrease our quality of life. The internet provide recreational activities without costing money that we do not have.

Please let this service remain something that even poor folks can enjoy.

Essie Perry

70127

=====
From: estela herrera
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, estela herrera

=====
From: Estelle Gibb
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Estelle Gibb

=====
From: Estel Oberschlake
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Estel Oberschlake

=====

From: ester carrion123
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Re: Do Not Regulate the Internet

thank you we have the right of freedom of speech and write

On Tue, Sep 02, 2014 at 04:56 PM, OpenInternet <HYPERLINK "mailto: xxxx@xxxx.xxx" xxxx@xxxx.xxx> wrote:

Thank you, we have received your comments and will review them.

=====

From: Ester Norris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ester Norris

=====

From: esther baumgardt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, esther baumgardt

=====
From: Esther Cook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Esther Cook

=====
From: E T
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Keep the Internet fair and free..Net Neutrality

E T

90008

=====
From: Etan Harwayne-Gidansky
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Etan Harwayne-Gidansky

10009

=====
From: Ethan Mercier
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ethan Mercier

=====
From: Ethel Hurlow
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ethel Hurlow

=====
From: Ethel Messuri
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

My spouse and I are retirement age although we cannot afford to retire. We spend most of our "entertainment" budget for cable television and cable internet services. We would really love to see the cost of cable come down. I like to watch old movies from the 30's and 40's. He likes the premium channel movies and series. And every year the price of cable goes up. Our income does not go up. In fact, his small one-man business of 35 years is down to 02 customers generating $400.00 gross income a month. I make good money but we owe a lot due to his long term health issues related to epilepsy. Now Time Warner wants to merge with Comcast. Will I get better service? NO. Will the price of cable TV or internet go down or provide more options? NO. We are already well aware of the control "big" business holds over Wall Street and Congress.

It's big business who will profit from this merger. And how many more people will lose their jobs if the two become one?
Neither of us see any benefit to giving more control to business RE cable TV or "pay to play" internet fees. Stop finding new ways to make us pay more for less. Say NO to this interference to the internet and NO to the merger of Comcast and Time Warner.

Ethel Messuri

44035

=====
From: etta heller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, etta heller

=====
From: Eugene Anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugene Anderson

=====
From: Eugene Antonov
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugene Antonov

=====
From: eugene braud
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

eugene braud
70737

=====
From: EUGENE BUXTON
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
DONT GIVE IN TO BIG COMPANIES. SAVE NET NEUTRALITY. IT IS THE AMERICAN THING TO DO.

EUGENE BUXTON
66441

=====
From: EUGENE BUXTON
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
PLEASE PROTECT THE OPEN INTERNET. NET NEUTRALITY IS GOOD FOR AMERICA. BIG COMPANIES
TAKING ADVANTAGE OF CONSUMERS IS NOT. IN FACT WHAT THEY ARE TRYING TO DO IS UNAMERICAN.

EUGENE BUXTON
66441

=====
From: Eugene Fetherman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Stop the Merger! Stop the Crooks!

Eugene Fetherman

53211

=====
From: Eugene Gill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugene Gill

=====
From: Eugene Hill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The future lies in the balance, you have it in your power to do something decent that will live way beyond you.

Vote to achieve real net neutrality, this is extremely important the our democracy and to the further survival of the internet.

Telecom companies should not be allowed the freedom to produce tiers of service. This is important. Please regulate the internet as a public utility!

Eugene

Eugene Hill

=====

From: Eugene jones Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugene jones Jones

=====

From: Eugene Mariani
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eugene Mariani

15217

=====

From: eugene o. swartz sr.
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners leave our internet alone. forget the rich getting richer. the freedom and the internet.

eugene o. swartz sr.

36576

=====

From: Eugene Sanders

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugene Sanders

=====

From: Eugene Schmitigal
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please keep "Network Neutrality". The internet has worked just fine. If there is a concern from the "Big Carriers" then they should increase the internet capacity instead of trying to charge for a priority. Other countries already have faster internet speeds. If there is a slow down has it been artificially created to get approval to increase charges. I can foresee several priority levels each with their own increase in charges that will be passed along to the end consumer.

We need to have an attitude and goal of providing the most benefit to the most individuals and not just to a select wealthy few.

Thanks you for hearing me.

Eugene Schmitigal

Eugene Schmitigal

49048

=====

From: eugene schneider
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eugene schneider

=====
From: Eugene Scott
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugene Scott

=====
From: Eugenie Parrish
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Mr. Wheeler,

Hello again! This makes the third time, that I have written a response, or letter to you concerning net neutrality. I am not going away, anytime soon, so you can do the right thing, or you can have folks like me continue to write about our concern on the issue. I don't like any of it, or what could happen to the internet, if the right thing isn't done soon! The internet is a public thing, not a private one!!! PERIOD!!!! Do you get it, I refuse to give up, and as long as I can I will continue to make my voice heard, loud and clear! Get It?? Hope So!

Eugenie Parrish

98374

=====
From: Eugenio LeCompte
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eugenio LeCompte

=====

From: Euladia Rosado
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Euladia Rosado

=====

From: Eula Lewis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eula Lewis

=====

From: eureka rogers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eureka rogers

=====
From: eva gadzinski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, eva gadzinski

=====
From: Eva-Genevieve Scarborough
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Ne Neutrality is important. In this day and age free access to the Internet ought to be considered a basic right since so many people depend on it. Allowing various service providers - especially large telecom companies to control access by prioritizing, blocking, or slowing down access to information is simply a very bad idea. Access should remain low cost and free of corporate (or government) control.

Thanks and Regards,
Eva-Genevieve! Scarborough

Eva-Genevieve Scarborough

92506

=====
From: Eva Greenwood
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eva Greenwood

=====

From: Eva Harris
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eva Harris

=====

From: Eva K.
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eva K.

02891

=====

From: Eva Klein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler and FCC Commissioners,

I am a small business owner working in the field of higher education. To me, the open, neutral Internet means that education and communications are open to all on an equal basis, and this is important for our economy, our society, and our democracy.

We have seen, in the last two decades, far too much consolidation in several industries--for example, airlines, banks, power utilities, and telecommunications. Now, we have our lives as consumers totally controlled by companies that are "too big" to care about their customers. It used to be necessary to "win" customers. Now, if they want more customers, these mega-corporations just "buy" them via mergers. They never have to concern themselves with consumer issues, fairness, or quality of their products or services and they get to charge whatever they wish. Ours is no longer a "free market" economy.

Now, the FCC has the opportunity to keep the Internet as the open, equal access "infrastructure" of modern life that it has become, or you can let it be just another way in which mega-corporations crush small players.

This would be a travesty. Please interpret that the Internet is a public utility. Please regulate it under the Telecommunications Act of 1934. Please do not succumb to the pressures you are getting from big corporations to "control access to free, open communications." Democracy is already under enough threats; it doesn't need this additional one.

For all the above reasons, the FCC also must reject the merger of Comcast with Time Warner Cable. The few providers already have a stranglehold on their customers. This awful merger would only make things much, much worse.

Eva Klein

22066

=====
From: Evalyn Baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Mr. Wheeler,

I'm a retired educator and feel strongly that the internet needs to remain free and open to all, with no fast lanes owned by the non-competitive companies who are now seeking the pay -to-play advantage. I also use free, over-the-air antenna devices for my television access and don't wish to see that blocked by the big cable companies. Monopolies aren't good for consumers.

Please protect the open internet of today. If designation of the internet as a public utility would help protect it from Big Telecom, then that is what you should do.

I have signed an earlier petition and received a courteous response. Please carefully consider this important request.

Evalyn Baker

98662
=====

From: Eva lynn DellaGuardia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please keep the Internet neutral so we can ALL benefit from it.

Eva lynn DellaGuardia

32725

=====
From: Eva McGilvery
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Stop messing around. Keep the internet neutral. Now.

Eva McGilvery

92014

=====
From: Evan Christensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Evan Christensen

95949

=====
From: Evan Kaplan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Evan Kaplan

=====

From: Evan Murphy
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: please keep net neutrality safe.

From what I understand, the rules and regulations that preserve equal internet speeds for all websites out there are in jeopardy. This worries me as an entrepreneur, creative and artist. Part of how we understand the internet is through the immediate access to any information out there. A small town's public pool hours are just as easily accessible as cnn's homepage.

We've also recently seen the dissemination of information, news, and support to oppressed groups of people, refugees, and otherwise ignorant populations. Someone in the middle of rural Idaho can access articles from activist bloggers in France, informing their opinion--something crucial to their awareness and thus how they might exercise their right to free speech, for example. Another example that comes to my mind is the sheer amount of ideas, projects, and solutions that come from tinkerers and DIY'ers around the globe, publishing their creative solutions to a broken object, or simply demonstrating the use of a complicated application.

And on that note, throttling smaller sites, bloggers, writers, thinkers, will only hurt our country, our democracy and our freedom. For a country that was founded on the back of the printing press--publishing ideas and spreading them far and wide--I find it gross and unfortunate that the concept and philosophy of net neutrality is even being challenged. In fact, I took the concept so for granted, that I was confused at first that it was even at risk.

Anything but Net Neutrality is censorship, oppression and smothering.

Evan Murphy
 New York, NY

=====

From: Evan Waddell
 Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
 Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Affordable, fast and universal communications networks are essential to our individual, economic and political futures. The Internet shouldn't be a walled garden. It should remain a forum for innovation and free expression. Without Net Neutrality, ISPs like AT&T, Comcast, Time Warner Cable and Verizon will be able to block content and speech they don't like, reject apps that compete with their own offerings, and prioritize Web traffic (reserving the fastest loading speeds for the highest bidders and sticking everyone else with the slowest). Without Net Neutrality, ISPs will be able to devise new schemes to charge users more for access and services, making it harder for us to communicate online and easier for companies to censor our speech. Please ensure that the Internet we love won't simply become a platform for corporate speech or another tool for government spying. We must protect the Internet that lets us connect and create, that rejects censorship and values our right to privacy.

Evan Waddell

=====
From: Eva Schonfeld
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eva Schonfeld

=====
From: Eve Eskew
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Being disabled, I depend on the internet as my contact with the outside world, my children, and my grandchildren. I also order a lot of stuff that I need from the internet, rather than have someone drive me to the store, and try to get through those large stores.

PLEASE! Continue to keep the internet as it is, and as it was intended to be!! I can't afford to pay more to access the internet, and it is a very important part of my life.

Thank you!!

Eve Eskew

30117

=====
From: Evelena Dorman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please consider the end results if the internet doesn't retain a sense of neutrality....the internet will become a commodity that eliminates participation for people that can't pay. To many the internet is their only connection with those outside their homes...elderly have come to rely on the internet too.

Evelena Dorman

04027

=====
From: Eve Loudenback
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Eve Loudenback

22066

=====
From: Evelyn Cheney
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evelyn Cheney

=====
From: Evelyn Christensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evelyn Christensen

=====
From: Evelyn Fraser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Net neutrality has been the default state of the internet since its invention. ISPs load all websites at the same speed. Now, Big Telecom wants to change the rules so they can extract more money from websites by making them pay to be served to customers at faster speeds.

In order to preserve net neutrality, the FCC must ban Big Telecom from creating these so-called "fast-lanes" which only large companies could afford. Start-ups and independent sites like Daily Kos would be left behind and crushed.

The FCC has tried protecting net neutrality twice before, and been defeated by Big Telecom in court both times. In order to legally prevent Big Telecom from destroying net neutrality once again, the FCC has to assert its under Title II of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 to regulate the internet as a public utility. This legal argument offers the most protection for real net neutrality to prevent ISPs from controlling content speed and blocking websites.

It is also vital that the FCC reject the Comcast Time Warner merger. If you want to promote competition, you don't allow 2 of the 4 national broadband providers to merge.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Fraser

20018

=====
From: Evelyn Friberg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evelyn Friberg

=====
From: Evelyn Fuentes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evelyn Fuentes

=====
From: Evelyn Funderburk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evelyn Funderburk

=====
From: Evelyn Gaston
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evelyn Gaston

=====
From: Evelyn Haas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

An open internet is democratic.

Evelyn Haas

19152

=====
From: Evelyn Mickevicius
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Evelyn Mickevicius

94707

=====
From: evelyn middlebrooks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, evelyn middlebrooks

=====
From: Everett Baute
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Everett Baute

=====
From: Everett Hawkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Everett Hawkins

=====
From: Everett Kelley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Everett Kelley

=====

From: Everett Woods
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

We are American teachers who believe that the internet should be available to all citizens on equal terms. Already, the wealthy users have advantages in reaching us and propagandizing us. They can afford to find ways of using the internet t their advantage already. So, we are all in favor of maintaining "n et Neutrality".

Everett Woods

48638

=====
From: Everly M Keenan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Everly M Keenan

77031

=====
From: Eve Robinson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Eve Robinson

=====
From: Evonne Hedrich
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Evonne Hedrich

=====
From: E Weiner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

E Weiner

03301

=====
From: Ezequiel RODARTE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ezequiel RODARTE

=====
From: EZZARHOUNI RACHID
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, EZZARHOUNI RACHID

=====
From: fabrienne akee
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fabrienne akee

=====
From: F. A. Gallagher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please retain NET NEUTRALITY and avoid the specialized "fast lanes". I am a retired clergyman who depends on the best possible internet service for me and my commoner cohorts. Thanks for taking this issue seriously in the best interests of justice and the common good. Tony Gallagher

F. A. Gallagher

43615

=====
From: Faith Harmer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Faith Harmer

=====
From: Faith Lough
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Faith Lough

=====
From: Faith Lowe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Faith Lowe

=====
From: Faith McDaniel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear FCC,

Thank you for taking the time to read my comment. Past experience, especially during the 90's show that America is a country that individuals with an idea can create a product or service in this country and make a business of it. This is what makes our country so great. The way this comes to be is that there is a level playing field where everyone has an equal chance to turn their vision into reality. Technology or web based business should be no different. We should maintain a level playing field where everyone has the same access.

And if it is possible to maintain the same speeds, but Comcast just able to access even faster speeds, why not allow everyone these "Super fast speeds." Why are these super fast speeds being held back now?

Net neutrality is important to me. I don't think major corporations should get any further preferential treatment. That goes against the American way.

Faith McDaniel

77401

=====
From: falguni patel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, falguni patel

=====
From: Fali Engineer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

This merger will make it "Too big to fail". A threat to all smaller companies without which a market economy becomes a mockery.

Fali Engineer

77072

=====
From: Fallon Bucher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fallon Bucher

=====
From: Farrell Didio
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

For heavens sake, haven't we given up enough for the corporate high money rollers. Keep net neutrality...we should all have the same access to the internet. Money should not be the issue.

Farrell Didio

22124

=====
From: Farron Coursey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Farron Coursey

=====
From: Father William Connor
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Father William Connor

90803

=====
From: Fatima Madriz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fatima Madriz

=====
From: fatima roman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fatima roman

=====

From: fatuma robertson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fatuma robertson

=====

From: Faye Buckner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Faye Buckner

=====

From: Faye Cook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I cannot believe you have allowed this situation to continue to this point !!!!!
What about NO do you people ot understand?
How many millions of protests have you received?
Count 01 more.
Faye Cook

Faye Cook

78502

=====

From: Faye Kozelka
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Faye Kozelka

=====
From: faye maness
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, faye maness

=====
From: Fay Todd
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fay Todd

=====
From: F Bair
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, F Bair

=====
From: F.Carlene Reuscher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

New neutrality is important to me because everyone should have the same access speed without additional fees being collected for speedier service. It is already hard enough to get service from big corporations without excessive charges and inconvenience. Let me give you an example.

My husband and I recently moved 10 miles from one city to another in the same area. We have used AT&T for our local home phone service and Sprint for long distance service in our prior home for 20 years. In signing up for the same service in our new home, which took way too many phone calls and mistaken billings, AT&T now requires that we must dial 01 before EVERY call including the ones in our own area code. In trying to find out why this change has occurred all we get is circuitous talk that makes no sense.

I can only imagine what will happen when internet service companies start charging for different speed service depending on price. This is just one more way to disadvantage and bilk the average citizen. And just try to get reasonable service if you should want to change what is needed to meet your needs. If companies are people, as the Supreme Court has decided, then they should not be able to disadvantage citizens unequally.

Please maintain net neutrality and do not let Telecom companies control pay-for-play internet use.

F.Carlene Reuscher

92626
=====

From: FCC- xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Spam Quarantine Notification

Spam Quarantine Notification

The message(s) below have been blocked by the SPAM Quarantine System as spam.

There are 28 new messages in your Email Quarantine since you received your last Spam Quarantine Notification. If the messages below are spam, you do not need to take any action. Messages will be automatically removed from the quarantine after 30 day(s).

If any of the messages below are not spam, click the Release link to have them sent to your Inbox. To see all quarantined messages view HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Search?h=f17ea4a0dd722971731062b472cd3230&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"your email quarantine.

If you have any questions or problems please contact the Service Desk at service-xxxx@xxxx.xxx or 418-1200.

Quarantined Email

From	Subject	Date
HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4589227&h=730dc0bc868830a3bb173e2c627b487d&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "dhl door to door" <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4589227&h=730dc0bc868830a3bb173e2c627b487d&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) RE:RE:RE:ups 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588975&h=fe7fe6d34ac889ac39a0c07aa797ef17&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Binhamad Investments" <henrysmith0...> HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588975&h=fe7fe6d34ac889ac39a0c07aa797ef17&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Investment Funding (Binhamad Investments) 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588915&h=c1b4871ffd9b09133845ecdd70a15354&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Avery Deal" <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588915&h=c1b4871ffd9b09133845ecdd70a15354&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) ADP Invoice for week ending 09/05/2014 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588840&h=be85db8d96d4124e953424b5e36afe5c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Your trusted hosting company" <sup...> HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588840&h=be85db8d96d4124e953424b5e36afe5c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Deploy your servers and get free managed services 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588660&h=e162f55aa1add49c5b9bda94cc17beb9&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "¿Aprende otro Idioma!/ Learn a new ...> HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588660&h=e162f55aa1add49c5b9bda94cc17beb9&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Learn a New Language/ Aprende otro idioma 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588592&h=c73b60dc937aea06207b08d9cdc92c8e&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release Shun Jun <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK "http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588592&h=c73b60dc937

aea06207b08d9cdc92c8e&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Business Proposal. 05

Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588286&h=9409410d27366f3868a11129bff4a0e3&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Alma Mendoza" <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588286&h=9409410d27366f3868a11129bff4a0e3&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet

05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588244&h=949b4959d099b17e39b379f8d9525f42&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Paypal"<

xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588244&h=949b4959d099b17e39b379f8d9525f42&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Your account has been limited until we hear from you 05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4588237&h=aa873d695f13c3a07ee90a80be337583&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "John Truman" <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4588237&h=aa873d695f13c3a07ee90a80be337583&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet

05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4587471&h=a0577a5ffb77760a5057c4a46a24568a&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Paypal"<

xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4587471&h=a0577a5ffb77760a5057c4a46a24568a&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Your account has been limited until we hear from you 05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586645&h=d0da8bb9fa21fb9a4bc3ada6cab0b8d7&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Enterprise Insurance

Group" <xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586645&h=d0da8bb9fa21fb9a4bc3ada6cab0b8d7&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) 07 Steps to Lowering Your

Workers Comp 05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586542&h=6a6f58e338720130c3739e48b548a233&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Margaret Williams" <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586542&h=6a6f58e338720130c3739e48b548a233&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet

05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586535&h=7a712cb38090d17d36a57485c53c4825&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "sherlyn bringas" <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586535&h=7a712cb38090d17d36a57485c53c4825&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) this is sherlyn 19 05

Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586470&h=196d66b6d1fc27797f6ee77843751474&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release Adeline Ogah <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586470&h=196d66b6d1fc27797f6ee77843751474&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Greetings From Mrs Adeline

Ogah 05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586365&h=b48946fb468894ce44aaac9bbb9b37de&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Henri jean Erwin"

<bullfroglovesme... HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586365&h=b48946fb468894ce44aaac9bbb9b37de&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet

05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586158&h=d17f88416c c51e068379c3d2e31962f6&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Sandro" <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx-supply.com... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586158&h=d17f88416cc 51e068379c3d2e31962f6&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Attn: openinternet---Provide tags printing and specif... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4586153&h=940c09a5f9 133b6af3acc69b4felf33a&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Jeffery Neigum" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4586153&h=940c09a5f91
33b6af3acc69b4felf33a&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet
05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585920&h=ad6e6553ce 5ad66795b09a481c60a158&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Daniel Rodriguez" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585920&h=ad6e6553ce5 ad66795b09a481c60a158&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Ahora es mÃ¡s fÃ¡cil financiarse 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585863&h=c5a213b7a5 e9d9533bbdc3f99104245c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Verna Stroud" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585863&h=c5a213b7a5e 9d9533bbdc3f99104245c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet
05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585759&h=a01e95dbb3 b1742fcb77fc455f3a5cda&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Ecommerce Designing" <EcommerceDes... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585759&h=a01e95dbb3b 1742fcb77fc455f3a5cda&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) 08 reasons why your business
NEEDS a professional webs... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585728&h=4b09efcf2b 24c29d13a97e1386936839&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Keith" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585728&h=4b09efcf2b2 4c29d13a97e1386936839&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Accept Your Payment
($15,304.22) 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585668&h=862a789aad 2b8cd43697408c27370fa6&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Wanda McCoole " <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585668&h=862a789aad2 b8cd43697408c27370fa6&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet
05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585185&h=9302e02ca7 fdfd36c618037e5b5556ff&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release Allison Cluade <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585185&h=9302e02ca7f dfd36c618037e5b5556ff&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Dear Good Friend, Greatings to you. My name Miss Alli... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585178&h=3c99146666 943ca41377668d0ec5ae01&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Frank Potras" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585178&h=3c991466669
43ca41377668d0ec5ae01&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet
05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585139&h=2fa4e794db c896b58e29f1a402307250&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Al Malikiyah Group
Bahrain." < xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585139&h=2fa4e794dbc 896b58e29f1a402307250&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: Excellent Credit 05

Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585100&h=084ec2f089c4436881d4b225bdac0ec9&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Sarah" <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585100&h=084ec2f089c4436881d4b225bdac0ec9&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Do you accept card payments? 05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4585094&h=160e3950303f843d2dddf2fe50283757&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Jim Laughner" <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4585094&h=160e3950303f843d2dddf2fe50283757&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Do Not Regulate the Internet 05 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4584678&h=fb5b03296bf8dd8511bbdc0a853d1254&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Julia Love" <xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4584678&h=fb5b03296bf8dd8511bbdc0a853d1254&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) my new photo ;) 05

Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Search?h=f17ea4a0dd722971731062b472cd3230&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"View All Quarantined Messages(1665)

Note: This message has been sent by a notification only system. Please do not reply

If the above links do not work, please copy and paste the following URL into a Web browser:

http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Search?h=f17ea4a0dd722971731062b472cd3230&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov

From: FCC- xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Spam Quarantine Notification

Spam Quarantine Notification

The message(s) below have been blocked by the SPAM Quarantine System as spam.

There are 30 new messages in your Email Quarantine since you received your last Spam Quarantine Notification. If the messages below are spam, you do not need to take any action. Messages will be automatically removed from the quarantine after 30 day(s).

If any of the messages below are not spam, click the Release link to have them sent to your Inbox. To see all quarantined messages view HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Search?h=f17ea4a0dd722971731062b472cd3230&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"your email quarantine.

If you have any questions or problems please contact the Service Desk at service-xxxx@xxxx.xxx or 418-1200.

Quarantined Email

Ã	From	Subject	Date
---	------	---------	------

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4583051&h=86dd55b0cad4c9e8a27403c5331a66ff&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release	????	< xxxx@xxxx.xxx
--	------	-----------------

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4583051&h=86dd55b0cad 4c9e8a27403c5331a66ff&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) ?????? ?????????? ??????

05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4582981&h=54e98dc57b06e6e5120d2ce2475ee70f&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Turk Telekom
E-Fatura Servisi" <ef... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4582981&h=54e98dc57b06e6e5120d2ce2475ee70f&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) 2150038277 nolu hattiniza ait Agustos-2014 Donemi Tur... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4582743&h=ae0c5e758942f872b1c016c1615cc567&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "22222222" <Great shipping-Nick> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4582743&h=ae0c5e758942f872b1c016c1615cc567&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) re:Booking cooperation
05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4582377&h=0fca20d4781f6e24aa06253538bcf3b5&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "U-Bot" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4582377&h=0fca20d4781f6e24aa06253538bcf3b5&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) ?????? ???? ?? ?????????? ??
?????????? ???? ?? ??????????... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4582094&h=bb8dbd04a0f1fe18d16536cb67aff1d0&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release Mis Leo Massoumeh <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4582094&h=bb8dbd04a0f1fe18d16536cb67aff1d0&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) hi 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4582060&h=afbdb6ba80780bb1008294ee2dd73957&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "alan startway" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4582060&h=afbdb6ba80780bb1008294ee2dd73957&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Car Battery Charger 12V 220V
Emergency Starter Car Ju... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581790&h=cc715120035c45ec52ffb0fb3aab7cba&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release ??? < xxxx@xxxx.xxx>
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581790&h=cc715120035c45ec52ffb0fb3aab7cba&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) openinternet:??????
???????????? 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581742&h=2d03c9efa61906a3b33efdb080414955&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "alan startway" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581742&h=2d03c9efa61906a3b33efdb080414955&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Lithium polymer battery multi-function car jump start... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581709&h=8c6d85d8f7de774d51c5a4ada10574ca&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "GRAACC" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581709&h=8c6d85d8f7de774d51c5a4ada10574ca&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Reference number 2661428
(UPS DELIVERY) 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581625&h=1f73765f253d3eb3bd701c86e626ff44&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "
xxxx@xxxx.xxx-cloth.oicp.net" < xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581625&h=1f73765f253d3eb3bd701c86e626ff44&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Attn:
openinternet---Professional produce Labels and ... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581604&h=8a91b82993743d2a5d299c696aa2eb2c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Hema" <

xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581604&h=8a91b82993743d2a5d299c696aa2eb2c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Deploy your servers and get free managed services 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581559&h=333d7881b79249f813f1d516559e7588&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581559&h=333d7881b79249f813f1d516559e7588&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Consta em nosso sistema uma pendencia em seu NOME e C... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581498&h=12fba252726f3607a3bf16233cebae2c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581498&h=12fba252726f3607a3bf16233cebae2c&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open inter... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581367&h=724fd1c3ea86242aaa4da4a86f526379&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581367&h=724fd1c3ea86242aaa4da4a86f526379&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open inter... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581300&h=32fceff560ad004176e06faccae9e4d0&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581300&h=32fceff560ad004176e06faccae9e4d0&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open inter... 05 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4581141&h=3825e83ba9c3ea3cf39a5bf913b2ddf2&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release ??? < xxxx@xxxx.xxx>
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4581141&h=3825e83ba9c3ea3cf39a5bf913b2ddf2&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM)
openinternet:???????????????????? 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4580940&h=8c8af749e862eef87c9d712efa74b07d&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Mrs.Clanzo Amaki"
<marilobouabre14... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4580940&h=8c8af749e862eef87c9d712efa74b07d&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) From Mrs. Amaki Clanzo.
04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4580858&h=66ed9045f912b7810204c7ca23473f10&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Freda" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx-oversea.com> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4580858&h=66ed9045f912b7810204c7ca23473f10&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Attn:
OpenInternet---Professional produce Corporate l... 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4580694&h=2673ed3daabc35a9da6967e505878126&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release ??? < xxxx@xxxx.xxx>
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4580694&h=2673ed3daabc35a9da6967e505878126&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4580531&h=405e9189d2f20fadf6c200d0926ff6ed&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "
xxxx@xxxx.xxx-rack.vicp.cc" < xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4580531&h=405e9189d2f20fadf6c200d0926ff6ed&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Attn:
openinternet---Printing Calendars service 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4580058&h=ca6889faad ad6d2c1a759464b1e55167&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release ???< xxxx@xxxx.xxx>
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4580058&h=ca6889faada d6d2c1a759464b1e55167&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) ?????????????????? 04
Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579934&h=0c1d829343 7d1f8b1bce80040cd51f31&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Sandro" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx-supply.com... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579934&h=0c1d8293437 d1f8b1bce80040cd51f31&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Attn: openinternet---Major in printing service 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579904&h=bfac6ffdbc 98539d01cb13378c44f034&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release ?????? <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx> HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579904&h=bfac6ffdbc9 8539d01cb13378c44f034&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: ?????? ?????????? ??????????
- ????? 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579650&h=cf1aa01771
471f4ab3b4ab13e8e0f461&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579650&h=cf1aa017714 71f4ab3b4ab13e8e0f461&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open inter... 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579543&h=d673d1342d 51a80abf1d311fa73e5a0e&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "tony" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579543&h=d673d1342d5 1a80abf1d311fa73e5a0e&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Reports: NSA hacked into servers at Huawei headquarte... 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579488&h=eaa3269e30 ce806b9fbe3b72d3aca792&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579488&h=eaa3269e30c e806b9fbe3b72d3aca792&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open inter... 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579435&h=49608306b2 d516eef7f4aec8e4aad623&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release xxxx@xxxx.xxx
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579435&h=49608306b2d 516eef7f4aec8e4aad623&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open inter... 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579386&h=b1e873e529 0468e89a4bb85875fa42f9&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release "Sandro" <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx-supply.com... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579386&h=b1e873e5290 468e89a4bb85875fa42f9&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Attn:
openinternet---Printing Labels and specific inq... 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579180&h=6bb91152c5 637cb2c4489dc0da73e253&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release August Jacques <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579180&h=6bb91152c56
37cb2c4489dc0da73e253&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov" (SPAM) Re:My Letter, 04 Sep 2014
HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Release&mid=4579135&h=315eed20d2 fe93108f6f4d8f990dcdcc&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"Release Carylton Alexander <
xxxx@xxxx.xxx>... HYPERLINK
"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Message?action=Detail&mid=4579135&h=315eed20d2f e93108f6f4d8f990dcdcc&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"(SPAM) Social Media Business Connections 04 Sep 2014

HYPERLINK

"http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Search?h=f17ea4a0dd722971731062b472cd3230&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov"View All Quarantined Messages(1637)

Note: This message has been sent by a notification only system. Please do not reply

If the above links do not work, please copy and paste the following URL into a Web browser:

http://DC-IPM-01.fccnet.win.fcc.gov:82/Search?h=f17ea4a0dd722971731062b472cd3230&email=openinternet%40fcc.gov

=====
From: Fecilia Ashton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fecilia Ashton

=====
From: Federico DiCicco
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Federico DiCicco

02919

=====
From: Federico Hernandez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Federico Hernandez

=====
From: Felecia Murray
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felecia Murray

=====
From: Felicia DiSalvatore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Felicia DiSalvatore

02919

=====
From: Felicia Garcia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felicia Garcia

=====
From: felicia griffis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, felicia griffis

=====
From: Felicia Lance
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felicia Lance

=====
From: Felicia Lewis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felicia Lewis

=====
From: Felicia Sanders
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am submitting this comment as I believe that the loss of net neutrality would be a HUGE blow to the average American. I know that our so called "democracy" at this point in time could care less for the average American, but nonetheless, I will continue to make my voice heard as long as I am able. Doing away with net neutrality would put all the power in a few corporations hands and would be another nail in the coffin in this so called "land of the free." DO THE RIGHT THING AND DO NOT ALLOW THIS MERGER TO HAPPEN!!

Felicia Sanders

97434

=====
From: Felicia Townsend
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felicia Townsend

=====
From: Felicity Christensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Without a doubt the Internet is in this modern world a necessary utility and an essential tool to most people. Without Net neutrality and the competitiveness which that engenders between providers I see a similar scenario arising where we have an elite 01%. Those who can afford to have the best access and speed and the rest of us making do.

This freedom to compete is what has earned this country a reputation for cutting edge business practice. Please do not limit us and allow price gouging to reign unchecked. Many people depend entirely on the Internet, ranging from medical necessity to home business. In today's America when jobs are scarce and money is limited people need all the help they can get.

Felicity Christensen

Felicity Christensen

98320

=====
From: Felicity Christensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: The internet isn't a private service

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear Mr. Wheeler;

Without a doubt the Internet is in this modern world a necessary utility and an essential tool to most people. Without Net neutrality and the competitiveness which that engenders between providers I see a similar scenario arising where we have an elite 01%. Those who can afford to have the best access and speed and the rest of us making do.

This freedom to compete is what has earned this country a reputation for cutting edge business practice. Please do not limit us and allow price gouging to reign unchecked. Many people depend entirely on the Internet, ranging from medical necessity to home business. In today's America when jobs are scarce and money is limited people need all the help they can get.

Yours Sincerely

Felicity Christensen

Felicity Christensen

98320

=====
From: Felisha Garcia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felisha Garcia

=====
From: Felix Basulto
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Felix Basulto

=====
From: FELizabethriend Foster
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FELizabethriend Foster

=====
From: Fellow American Bystrom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fellow American Bystrom

=====
From: Fel Ordonia
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fel Ordonia

9811798117

=====
From: ferguson justin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, ferguson justin

=====
From: FERNANDO CELAYA
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FERNANDO CELAYA

=====

From: Fernando Geliga
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am a verizon customer in New York and I am concerned that a merger would be the starting point to big company hiking prices again.

Fernando Geliga

11004

=====

From: Fernando Rodriguez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fernando Rodriguez

=====

From: Fern Rivers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fern Rivers

=====
From: Ferrell Beagley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Ferrell Beagley

=====
From: F H
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I respectfully request that you maintain net neutrality using public utility regulations.

Thanks.

F H

87120

=====
From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: Gabriel Segarra Roman
Email: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Address: 2807 Osprey Creek Ln
Zip: 32825

Dear Chairman Wheeler, please donâ\200\231t break the Internet. Donâ\200\231t abandon the â\200\234Hands off the â\200\230Netâ\200\235 approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built today's broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title II's draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&T's government-created monopoly. They're a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We don't buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling today's bipartisan "Hands off the Net" approach. You can't have just enough Title II any more than you can be slightly pregnant.

Title II would hurt startups most: they can't cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCC's powers over the Internet. Remember, you won't be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you don't intend.

Yet, as you've noted, Title II wouldn't even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban fast lanes.

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called "vigilant restraint." But remember Kennard's digital mantra, too: "First, do no harm." If you conclude that existing laws aren't adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCC's authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim whether that's Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: Fil Fina Jr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fil Fina Jr

=====

From: Finhas Benyam
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Finhas Benyam

22204

=====

From: Finn Passaro
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Finn Passaro

=====

From: Fiorella Weaver
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fiorella Weaver

=====

From: FIRMILIAN ORMISTON
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

KEEP THE INTERNET FREE !!!!!!!!!!!

WE AS TAXPAYERS AND THE PEOPLE HAVE PAID FOR A FREE INTERNET.

KEEP IT FREE !!!

FIRMILIAN ORMISTON

95928

=====

From: [-FIRSTNAME-]Charlie [-LASTNAME-]Koch
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely,
[-FIRSTNAME-]Charlie [-LASTNAME-]Koch

=====

From: [-FIRSTNAME-]John [-LASTNAME-]Schmitz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, [-FIRSTNAME-]John [-LASTNAME-]Schmitz

=====

From: [-FIRSTNAME-]ronald [-LASTNAME-]kaker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, [-FIRSTNAME-]ronald [-LASTNAME-]kaker

=====

From: fitzroy brann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fitzroy brann

=====

From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Re: RE: Do Not Regulate the Internet

I apologize for this automatic reply to your email.

To control spam, I now allow incoming messages only from senders I have approved beforehand.

If you would like to be added to my list of approved senders, please fill out the short request form (see link below). Once I approve you, I will receive your original message in my inbox. You do not need to resend your message. I apologize for this one-time inconvenience.

Click the link below to fill out the request:

<https://webmail.pas.earthlink.net/wam/addme?a=xxxx@xxxx.xxx&id=11e4-350e-3a4a6132-9b2f-002128149ec2>

=====
From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Open Internet Reply Comment

Name: Adam Hanrahan
Email: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Address: 03 Acorn Grove
Zip: 12019

Dear Chairman Wheeler, please donâ\200\231t break the Internet. Donâ\200\231t abandon the â\200\234Hands off the â\200\230Netâ\200\235 approach begun under President Clinton, which unleashed staggering innovation. That bipartisan approach made possible the $01.03 trillion dollars of private investment that built todayâ\200\231s broadband networks. Imposing Title II would hurt all Americans by slowing broadband deployment and creating a cloud of uncertainty over all Internet services.

Title IIâ\200\231s draconian rules were designed in the 1930s for AT&Tâ\200\231s government-created monopoly. Theyâ\200\231re a poor fit for the Internet. FCC Chairmen Bill Kennard (D, 1997-2001) and Michael Powell (R, 2001-2005) knew that. So they wisely drew a clear, bright line between Title II and the Internet. We donâ\200\231t buy claims that the FCC can maintain this firewall if it re-opens Title II. Nor do we trust that the FCC can quickly whittle Title II into something resembling todayâ\200\231s bipartisan â\200\234Hands off the Netâ\200\235 approach. You canâ\200\231t have â\200\234just enough Title IIâ\200\235 any more than you can be â\200\234slightly pregnant.â\200\235

Title II would hurt startups most: they canâ\200\231t cope with regulation as easily as big companies. Title II would protect incumbent broadband companies from new entrants like Google Fiber. Title II would hurt the underserved by slowing deployment and upgrades in minority and rural communities. And Title II would vastly increase the FCCâ\200\231s powers over the Internet. Remember, you wonâ\200\231t be Chairman forever, and the powers you claim over the Internet today could be used to control it in ways you donâ\200\231t intend.

Yet, as youâ\200\231ve noted, Title II wouldnâ\200\231t even allow the FCC to do what its proponents demand: ban â\200\234fast lanes.â\200\235

We urge you to carefully focus regulation on real problems, what Chairman Kennard called â\200\234vigilant restraint.â\200\235 But remember Kennardâ\200\231s digital mantra, too: â\200\234First, do no harm.â\200\235 If you conclude that existing laws arenâ\200\231t adequate to protect consumers, you should ask Congress for legislation that clearly specifies the boundaries of the FCCâ\200\231s authority. No government agency should be trusted with a blank check to regulate the Internet at whim â\200\224 whether thatâ\200\231s Title II or the vast powers the FCC has claimed under Section 706 to do anything it thinks will promote broadband.

Most of all, we want continually better, faster broadband and more competition. Instead of imposing Title II, we urge you to identify regulatory barriers at all levels of government that could be removed to help existing companies keep upgrading their networks, but also help Google Fiber, wireless providers and other private companies to compete.

Competition, not endless litigation and political bickering over Title II, should be your legacy.

=====
From: Fletcher Cossa
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fletcher Cossa

10009

=====
From: Flint Sitton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Flint Sitton

=====
From: FL Jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FL Jones

=====
From: Florante Pascual
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Florante Pascual

94503

=====
From: florence browne
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, florence browne

=====
From: Florence March
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please don't take internet neutrality away from us. In a free society, we need the ability to communicate without having our content screened by corporations. In a competitive business environment, we need to be able to promote our business to everyone who may be interested in our product without having to compete with large businesses who can shut us out by making our online advertising unaffordable. My business success has depended on a free and available internet.

Florence March

17325

=====
From: Florence R. Ontko
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

WE NEED TO KEEP THE INTERNET THE WAY IT IS BECAUSE EVERYONE SHOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO USE IT!!!J I DONT WANT TO SEE THE PAY TO PLAY ARRANGEMENT BECAUSE MOST PEOPLE WOULDN'T BE ABLE TO AFFORD IT. PLEASE PROTECT REAL NET NEUTRALITY!!!!

Florence R. Ontko

43701

=====
From: Florence Stewart
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,
I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf
for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government
didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Florence Stewart

=====
From: Florence Summergrad
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

If we want to have a democratic society, we must have an open internet! Net neutrality is critical.

Florence Summergrad

07306

=====
From: Florence Wagner
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is a basic freedom of speech item. If we allow FCC Chair Wheeler to start playing games...like slowing down or speeding up our access to the internet..we're going to find ourselves in deep trouble concerning access..and higher charges for what we already have! it's a no win situation for the user...to give Mr Wheeler's bank account a little boost.
Let's just say no! Unless he can prove his path will bring faster service to all users, I'm not interested.

Florence Wagner

98261

=====
From: Floyd Bishop
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Floyd Bishop

96032

=====
From: floyd cooke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, floyd cooke

=====
From: Floyd Slayton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Floyd Slayton

54912

=====
From: Floyd White
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Net neutrality is imperative to protect We the People. Use Title II authority to promote competition as well as reject the Comcast Time Warner merger to further promote competition. We the People are depending upon you to protect our interests, not just those of business and industry.

Floyd White

65109

=====
From: F Michael Hemmer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet MUST be maintained as a NEUTRAL conduit of communication and commerce. Please keep the playing ground level and equally open to all with NO FAVORITISM for those with greater resources and means.

F Michael Hemmer

11963

=====
From: Fode Diane
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fode Diane

80525

=====
From: fonta Gholson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fonta Gholson

=====
From: xxxx@xxxx.xxx
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Re: RE: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

This is an automatic reply from xxxx@xxxx.xxx

I apologize for this automatic reply to your email.

To control spam, I now allow incoming messages only from senders I have approved beforehand.

If you would like to be added to my list of approved senders, please fill out the short request form (see link below). Once I approve you, I will receive your original message in my inbox. YOU DO NOT =
=3D
NEED TO RESEND YOUR MESSAGE. I apologize for this one-time inconvenience.

Click the link below to fill out the request:

Click the link below to fill out the request:
<https://webmail.atl.earthlink.net/wam/addme?a=xxxx@xxxx.xxx&id=11e4-34c1-539c7c8a-aca7-002128142564>

=====
From: forrest armentrout
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Sir,

I wanted to let you know my opinion concerning net neutrality. I think the internet should remain the way it was originally implemented and I also think that permitting the merger of time warner and comcast would be the first step to a monopoly and have a very negative impact on its customers in the long run.

forrest armentrout

27292

=====
From: Forrest Douthat
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Forrest Douthat

=====
From: Forrest E. Leighton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Forrest E. Leighton

=====
From: forrest frank
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Forrest Frank

=====

From: forrest leatherman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Forrest Leatherman

=====

From: Forrest Patterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Forrest Patterson

=====

From: Frances Arnone

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Arnone

=====

From: Frances Boffo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Boffo

=====

From: Frances Camarata
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Camarata

=====

From: Frances Crain
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Crain

=====

From: Frances Cruz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am self employed and depend heavily on accessible and affordable internet service. After all of the comments and public outcry I've witnessed in support of preserving net neutrality, it really makes me wonder whose pocket the FCC is in because it seems that it is not serving the PUBLIC'S interests.

Frances Cruz

00674

=====

From: Frances Koepele
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Koepele

=====

From: Frances Lampi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Lampi

=====
From: Frances Lucas
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Please allow individuals and small businesses to have equal access to the internet.
Fran Lucas

Frances Lucas

27106

=====
From: Frances Luzynski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Luzynski

=====
From: Frances McCandless

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances McCandless

=====

From: FRANCES MINKOWITZ
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FRANCES MINKOWITZ

=====

From: Frances Morfin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frances Morfin

10023

=====

From: Frances Perkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality is critical to the continued success of our democracy. Please, NO FAST LANES for the richest among us. As it is now, I have to piggyback a nearby church's open wifi signal to get internet at all. If you have 02 internet lanes, one for the haves and another slower one for the rest of us, it will really just screw up the country even worse than it is already.

Frances Perkins

63555

=====
From: Frances Smith
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Smith

=====
From: Frances Strong
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is an invaluable resource to me precisely because of the very wide variety and scope of information it contains and the ease of accessing it. Its value lies in its freedom, its diversity, its equality. Please do not diminish its value by diminishing its freedom, its diversity, its equality . As a person with a severe disability, I experience daily the implications and value of equal access. And I appreciate having the "world at my fingertips." Freedom, diversity and equality have strong, deep meanings for me personally.

I don't want to see access based on ability to pay, or content based on censorship (as an effort to try to control me or my beliefs or behavior.) Let me consider all sides. I believe in the encouragement of small business and the pursuit of the American dream, in equality of opportunity.

I know there's probably money to made, or minds to be manipulated but I hope your decision will be made on the basis of these very American values and will not undermine the value of the internet to everyone.

Thank you.

Frances Strong

Frances Strong

55104

=====
From: Frances Tarnstrom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frances Tarnstrom

=====
From: frances vizier
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frances vizier

=====
From: Francine Atkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Francine Atkins

23513

=====
From: Francine Goldman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francine Goldman

=====
From: Francine keezer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francine keezer

=====
From: Francine Kubrin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Francine Kubrin

90049

=====
From: Francis Ashton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Net neutrality must be preserved, partly as it is a matter of free speech, and because big (greedy) corporations should not have the advantage of faster data transfer, when compared with small companies and individuals. The Internet is one of the few areas where the individual, or the small group, can freely express ideas, ideas that may be not to the liking of big, powerful groups and commercial concerns. Personally, I want to have access to a wide range of ideas and philosophies, so therefore I stingily support net neutrality.

Francis Ashton

19436

=====
From: Francisca Owusu
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francisca Owusu

=====
From: Francisco Gonzalez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francisco Gonzalez

=====
From: Francisco Rodriguez
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francisco Rodriguez

=====
From: Francis Cummins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francis Cummins

=====
From: Francis Furmanek
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francis Furmanek

=====
From: FRANCIS MENEZES
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Chairman Wheeler:

Retaining an open internet will require you to:

1. Use Title II authority to promote broadband expansion and to prevent Big Telecom from creating fast and slow lanes on the internet.
2. Reject the Comcast Time Warner merger. If you want to promote competition, you don't allow 02 of the 04 national broadband providers to merge.

Thank you for considering these strategies.

Frank Menezes

FRANCIS MENEZES

02720

=====
From: Francis Parfitt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Francis Parfitt

48236

=====
From: Francis Roberts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Francis Roberts

=====
From: Fran Curtis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fran Curtis

=====
From: Fran Gravgaard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fran Gravgaard

=====
From: Fran Howe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fran Howe

=====

From: Frank Abate
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Abate

=====

From: Frank Agiato
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Agiato

=====

From: Frank Alliet
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Please do NOT let the internet become the media of haves and have-nots, controlled by and for corporate profits and interests. Already the nation that brought the internet to the world has the most expensive, slowest internet available to the public. Even as the FCC allows wired telephone service to be retired, and allows little regulation of wireless phone service, and there is little competition to provide incentives for good service and low prices (again, the US has the most expensive wireless service in the world), the internet needs to be for Americans what it is in other countries, open and affordable. Why does America always have to come in last, and corporate interests always top the needs and wishes of the American people? Net neutrality, and internet open and available to all at a reasonable cost, is the right thing to do for the future of our country and our people. Without it, America will fall behind in yet another way. The only way America is number one any more is in the minds of uninformed believers! This really matters.

Frank Alliet

54911

=====
From: Frank Anderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Anderson

30019

=====
From: frank austin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frank austin

=====

From: Frank Barras
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Barras

=====
From: Frank Bochinski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Bochinski

=====
From: Frank Boyle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Boyle

97080

=====
From: Frank Brown
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Brown

=====
From: Frank Cropanese
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The internet is a tool of the people and is paramount to ensuring first amendment protections in the modern era. The internet must remain neutral and free from corporate and commercial interests. Big Telecom and ISPs should not be prioritizing and tailoring the content that reaches users by catering to the highest bidder. The content that the user demands MUST be what is delivered without delay or throttling.

Frank Cropanese

97205

=====
From: Frank Damaso
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Damaso

=====
From: frank delarosa

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frank delarosa

=====

From: Frank Doyle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Doyle

=====

From: Frank Durland
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Durland

=====

From: Frank Elkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Elkins

=====

From: Frank E. Minelli % (?)
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank E. Minelli % (?)

=====

From: Frank Eremit
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Eremit

=====
From: Frank Francis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Francis

=====
From: Frank Frank
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Frank

=====
From: frank galasso
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

frank galasso

34232

=====

From: Frank Giordano
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

The internet is too important for every citizen's use. It should not be a commodity that only the big corporations can manipulate for their own profit. If you really intend to promote competition in the industry, why on earth would you create a powerful Goliath of a company to dominate the field?

Frank Giordano

28374

=====
From: frank graham
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frank graham

=====
From: Frank Gregory II
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Gregory II

48083

=====
From: Frank Harrison
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Harrison

=====
From: frank hartman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frank hartman

=====
From: Frank Hill
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Is it your intention that the mega corporations control and censor the internet?
Are those your orders from the President?

Frank Hill

91601

=====
From: Frankie Bidwell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frankie Bidwell

=====
From: frankie lewis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content Please do your job and protect the public interests..meaning the citizens who are powerless against big telco and cable companies. Dont get in their pockets like a politician. you are a public servant appointed to protect the people.

frankie lewis

28352

=====
From: FRANK IOVINO
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FRANK IOVINO

=====
From: Frank J. Locicero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank J. Locicero

=====
From: Frank Leccese
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Leccese

1864

=====
From: frank linares
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some contentIF IT IS NOT BROKE DONT FIX IT frank linares

01902

=====
From: franklin bolth jr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

franklin bolth jr

17403

=====
From: FRANKLIN BROWN JR
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FRANKLIN BROWN JR

=====
From: Franklin Clyburn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Franklin Clyburn

=====
From: Franklin Fuller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Franklin Fuller

=====
From: Franklin Hall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Franklin Hall

=====
From: Franklin Hamilton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Franklin Hamilton

32789

=====
From: Franklin McKenzie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Franklin McKenzie

=====
From: franklin moates
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, franklin moates

=====
From: franklin nelson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners everyone should have open & equal access to internet franklin nelson
60628

=====
From: Franklin Pohle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Franklin Pohle

=====

From: Franklin Saxton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Franklin Saxton

=====
From: Frank Lovato
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Lovato

=====
From: Frank Lucketti
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Lucketti

=====

From: Frank Maynard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Maynard

=====

From: FRANK MEYERS
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Mr. Wheeler,
My internet fees have steadily risen to the point that if they continue on this course I will have to cancel this service. I would like you to give this a lot of thought, because I fear that if we lose NET NEUTRALITY and create yet another monopoly the rates will be out of most viewers reach. I would like to see the internet become and function like a utility like the Water Utility or the Electric utility etc. and have the FCC regulate the rates so that the American People can be charged a fair and predictable rate. Many students rely on the internet to do research, Doctors use it and depend on it daily for many reasons.
I sincerely thank you for your time and hope that Net Neutrality is preserved.

Kind Regards,

Frank J Meyers

FRANK MEYERS

53717

=====

From: frank michalovich
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frank michalovich

=====
From: FRANK MLODIK
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FRANK MLODIK

=====
From: Frank Moore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Moore

=====
From: Frank Morant
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners -

Please make the net neutral for all data- The big internet users can buy their own connections separately. Please deny the Comcast-Time-Warner merger- this is not helping competition, indeed will calcify diversity and alternative viewpoints. Right now I. am stuck with Comcast as my provider, as there is some monstrous monopoly regarding Mercer Island service, where I live.

Frank Morant

98040

=====
From: Frank Patterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Patterson

=====
From: Frank Read
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I am very concerned about the First Amendment implications of prioritizing, blocking or slowing access to information on the internet. I am even more concerned about a pay to play internet arrangement with big telecom companies as the gatekeepers since we know they are only concerned about their profits.

Frank Read

10022

=====
From: Frank Romo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Dear FCC Chairman Wheeler,

The Internet is part of the infrastructure of this country, like the interstate highway system; a public utility, if you will. It is unfair, un-American, and downright totalitarian, to permit a few big private corporations -- e.g., Time Warner, Comcast -- to control our American infrastructure; to extract more money from companies such as mine to operate on the Internet; to make deals that would prioritize the content that Internet users can access. Now that the Supreme Court has given corporations the right to act on religious views, will religion become a factor in the content that users can access? What happens to the core freedoms of speech and of the press that are constitutionally guaranteed by the first amendment? Will the imbecilic religious views of some Big Telecom-Big Cable CEO obstruct my first amendments rights? What happens to non-profit services like Wikipedia that can't afford to pay to play?

I am an entrepreneur, and the Internet, like the highway system, has been vital to the success of my business. But I'm a little guy, hiring around 100 employees. However, there is a multitude of people like me out there that crucially depend on the Internet for success, and we are growing. We are the real job creators, the real makers, the rising part of the economy that is lifting everyone. Are you really willing to trash this vital and growing part of the economy so that a few private fat cats can make even more money and have more intrusive control over the lives of ordinary citizens? Do you want to go down in history, along with George W. Bush, Dick Cheney, and the current Republican-dominated House of Representatives, as one of the meat heads that vandalize the American economy and toppled this great nation?

I implore you to PRESERVE NET NEUTRALITY. For my business, it's a matter of life or death.

Sincerely,
Frank P. Romo

Frank Romo

28584

=====
From: frank romph
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, frank romph

=====
From: frank savel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

frank savel

44024

=====
From: Frank Sharkozy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Sharkozy

=====
From: Frank Silagy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Silagy

10027

=====
From: Frank Sims
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

As the proposed rules stand, Big Cable and Telecom providers will be able to control the speed at which different websites load including creating a fast lane for big corporations that can pay more, and slowing-down service to independent sites.

This is unacceptable.

Frank Sims

19713

=====
From: FRANK SMITH
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FRANK SMITH

=====
From: Frank Snapp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

Fascism will not win...Do not allow the merger of Comcast and Time Warner. Ridiculous! You're going to fail soon because the greediest and the most dishonest are all slated for extinction. Yeah boy!!!

Frank Snapp

94609

=====
From: frank spyksma
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Spysma

=====
From: Frank Summit
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

I would like to know how we even got to this point. It always is about money, so I'm sure the big guys are buying this privilege also. When does it stop? It just doesn't make sense to allow this to even be debated and passed into a law. We should all have the same rights when it comes to electronic abilities. This is just so absurd that our leaders would even be spending time on this. We have so many more pressing issues that we are faced with, and this privilege should be equal to all.

Frank Summit

14225

=====
From: Frank Swanson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along -- no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frank Swanson

=====
From: Frank Valenti
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Valenti

98826

=====
From: Frank Villemeur
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Dear Sir:

It 2014 and the internet is as important now and in the future as was the telephone was in 1914 . It is important that it be regulated as was the the telephone back then . Thank You

Frank Villemeur

70065

=====
From: Frank Zachary
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frank Zachary

27012

=====
From: frank zoccola
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

frank zoccola

29483

=====
From: fran malsheimer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

fran malsheimer

11757

=====
From: Fraser MacKinnon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fraser MacKinnon

=====
From: Freda Henderson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Freda Henderson

10032

=====
From: Fred Almy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Almy

=====
From: Fred Barton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

What would the world be like without an open internet? It seems that once again our government doesn't care about the citizens of our country only their corporate robbers. As for the Comcast merger, I'm already held prisoner of Comcast. This company can't solve simple customer problems now, what will it be like after the merger? I started with them in Jan and my problems are yet to be fixed to this day. I have spent my time being put on hold and my cellphone minutes really added up. Did Comcast offer me any compensation? NO! They treat the customer like crap, they insult you and try to blame the customer for all of their mistakes. And I think there is a scam built into their payment system. When I pay my bill my money is instantly gone from my account, but takes 04-or 05 days to be to be listed in theirs, causing all kind of late fees. They change the due date at a whim. The modem agreement with them is a racket, like Bell telephone leases for phones were. Comcast is rude doing business, and it should not be given the largeness of our country. Are they even an American company? Hard to tell with all their customer service people needing English lessons

Mr. Frederick M Barton Jr.

Fred Barton

19365

=====
From: fred bell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fred bell

From: Fred & Bernie Infield
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred & Bernie Infield

=====
From: Fred Bonnell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Bonnell

=====
From: Fred Bushu
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Bushu

=====
From: fred clark
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fred clark

=====
From: freddie reddick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, freddie reddick

=====
From: freddie tate
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, freddie tate

=====
From: Frederica Steller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frederica Steller

48910

=====
From: Frederica Steller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederica Steller

=====
From: Frederic Donour
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

PRESERVE OUR INTERNET!

Frederic Donour

23518

=====
From: Frederich Mcilwain
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frederich Mcilwain

29732

=====
From: Frederick Albert Reeves U.E.
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Albert Reeves U.E.

=====
From: Frederick Bigden
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Bigden

=====
From: Frederick Dahl Jr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frederick Dahl Jr

91733

=====
From: Frederick DeVeau
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick DeVeau

=====
From: Frederick Farnsworth
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Farnsworth

=====
From: Frederick Goepfert
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Frederick Goepfert

32583

=====
From: Frederick Hoenke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Hoenke

=====
From: Frederick Hyser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Hyser

=====
From: Frederick Reckman II
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Reckman II

=====

From: Frederick Sargent
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Frederick Sargent

=====

From: Fred Fred
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Fred

=====

From: fred glass
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fred glass

=====
From: fred gray
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fred gray

=====
From: Fred Haenchen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Haenchen

=====
From: Fred Harvey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

Leave the internet alone . It's fine the way it is. Is there nothing that money can't buy.

Fred Harvey

48238

=====
From: Fred Henry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Henry

=====
From: Fred Holstein
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Holstein

=====
From: fred jones
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fred jones

=====
From: Fred Kaspar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Kaspar

=====
From: Fred Kiehl
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Kiehl

=====
From: Fred Kormos
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

I grew up during the Cold War and remember learning in school that a FREE PRESS was what set us apart from the USSR. The Russian people had only a single source of news and were, therefore, kept in the dark about current events. Here in the USA, our free press kept us informed about everything. The American press was far superior to the soviet one.

So are we going to have a Soviet-style internet? Without net neutrality, that's exactly what will happen: a few big guys will be able to silence all the little guys and the American people will get only one side of every issue -- just as the Russians got only one side of everything during the Cold War.

Without a free and open internet, the USA will no longer be a democracy!

A "pay-to-play" internet is totally UNACCEPTABLE!!

Fred Kormos

80918

=====
From: Fred Martin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fred Martin

28208

=====
From: Fred Meyer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Meyer

=====
From: Fred Mueller
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Mueller

=====
From: Fred Mursu
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners - Cable companies - or millions upon millions of anti fkery pissed off voters?

Fred Mursu

48462

=====
From: Fred Palombi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Palombi

=====
From: fred peterson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

fred peterson

21801

=====
From: Fred Ponte
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Ponte

=====
From: fred quatmdan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, fred quatmdan

=====
From: Fred Rehhausser
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223

No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fred Rehhausser

95030

=====
From: Fredric Hedinger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fredric Hedinger

=====
From: Fredrick Roberts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fredrick Roberts

=====
From: Fred Riley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Riley

=====
From: Fred Rouse
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Fred Rouse

=====
From: Fred Sayre
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fred Sayre

95825

=====
From: Fred Stevens
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissioners

The current cash flow generated from internet advertising already provides a significant payback. Sure, charging customers for internet access would mean more profits, but do you really want to go that route? Please regulate the internet for freedom by taking it's sale off the auction block.

Truly,
Fred

Fred Stevens

30032

=====
From: Fred Thompson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
No Content Found -- Please specify some content

Fred Thompson

97116

=====
From: Fred Thompson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Docket number: 14-28 protecting an open internet

To Chairman Tom Wheeler and the FCC Commissionersâ\200\223â\200\223â\200\223â\200\223
Why are you so interested in selling access to the internet to the highest bidder?
Since the beginning, the internet has belonged to the people. LETS KEEP IT THAT WAY!

Fred Thompson

89515

=====
From: freedom ore
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, freedom ore

=====
From: freezei popp
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, freezei popp

=====
From: Friend Charles Waldrop
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Charles Waldrop

=====
From: "Friend " xxxx@xxxx.xxx-web1-ORD.convertresponse.com
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend ">

=====
From: Friend Abb Ansley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Abb Ansley

=====
From: Friend Abercrombie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Abercrombie

=====
From: Friend Adams
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Adams

=====
From: Friendadam wehab
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friendadam wehab

=====
From: Friend aiello
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend aiello

=====
From: Friend Akers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Akers

=====
From: Friend akumrie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend akumrie

=====
From: Friend Alan L. LaBar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Alan L. LaBar

=====
From: Friend alexander
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend alexander

=====
From: Friend Alexander
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Alexander

=====
From: Friend Altfeder
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Altfeder

=====
From: Friend Alvin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Alvin

=====

From: Friend Anders
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Anders

=====

From: Friend Anders Borgeson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Anders Borgeson

=====

From: Friend ANDERSON
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend ANDERSON

=====
From: FriendAndre Stathos
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FriendAndre Stathos

=====
From: FriendAnn B. Gross
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FriendAnn B. Gross

=====
From: FriendAnnette Tindol
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Annette Tindol

=====

From: Friend Apicelli
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Apicelli

=====

From: Friend Artale
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Artale

=====

From: Friend Asaff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Asaff

=====

From: Friend Asher
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Asher

=====

From: Friend Ashmead
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Ashmead

=====

From: Friend Averina Paskalik
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Averina Paskalik

=====

From: Friend Ayers
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Ayers

=====

From: Friend b
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend b

=====

From: Friend bailey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend bailey

=====

From: Friend Baker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Baker

=====

From: Friend Baldo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Baldo

=====
From: Friend balling
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend balling

=====
From: Friend Banasiak
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Banasiak

=====
From: Friend Bancroft
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bancroft

=====

From: Friend Barberino
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Barberino

=====

From: Friend Barbour
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Barbour

=====

From: Friend BARKET
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend BARKET

=====
From: Friend Barnes
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Barnes

=====
From: Friend Barnett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Barnett

=====
From: Friend Barone
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Barone

=====

From: Friend Barr
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Barr

=====

From: Friend Bateman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bateman

=====

From: Friend Bates
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bates

=====

From: Friend Bauer
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bauer

=====

From: Friend BAUER
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend BAUER

=====

From: Friend Baum
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Baum

=====
From: Friend B Caprioli
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend B Caprioli

=====
From: Friend Beall
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Beall

=====
From: Friend Beaver
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Beaver

=====
From: Friend Bechtel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bechtel

=====
From: Friend Beeber
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Beeber

=====
From: Friend Begosh
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Begosh

=====
From: Friend behrend
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend behrend

=====
From: Friend beisel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend beisel

=====
From: Friend Beisley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Beisley

=====

From: Friend Bell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bell

=====

From: Friend bemis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend bemis

=====

From: Friend Bennett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bennett

=====

From: Friend Benz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Benz

=====

From: Friend Bergmann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bergmann

=====

From: Friend Bergstrom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bergstrom

=====

From: Friend Berk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Berk

=====

From: Friend Bernadette HSIEH
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bernadette HSIEH

=====

From: Friend Bertram
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bertram

=====

From: Friend Bertrand
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bertrand

=====

From: Friend Bethea
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bethea

=====

From: Friend betty
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend betty

=====

From: Friend Bettye Snell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bettye Snell

=====

From: Friend Betty Titus
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Betty Titus

=====
From: Friend Bharwada
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bharwada

=====
From: Friend Bielanski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bielanski

=====
From: Friend Bill Hager
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bill Hager

=====
From: Friend Billie Jo Richards
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Billie Jo Richards

=====
From: Friend Bill Saxon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bill Saxon

=====
From: FriendBill Saxon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FriendBill Saxon

=====
From: Friend Bionik
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bionik

=====
From: Friend Bird
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bird

=====
From: Friend Bishop
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bishop

=====
From: Friend Bitler
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bitler

=====
From: Friend Black
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Black

=====
From: Friend BLACK
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend BLACK

=====
From: Friend Blackwell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Blackwell

=====
From: Friend Blake
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Blake

=====
From: Friend Blanchard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Blanchard

=====

From: Friend BLANCHARD
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend BLANCHARD

=====

From: Friend blanche
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend blanche

=====

From: Friend Blankenstein

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Blankenstein

=====
From: Friend blann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend blann

=====
From: Friend Blier
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Blier

=====

From: Friend Bloedel
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bloedel

=====

From: Friend Boarts
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Boarts

=====

From: Friend Bob
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bob

=====
From: Friend Bobeck
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bobeck

=====
From: FriendBob Ross
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FriendBob Ross

=====
From: Friend Bob Wallstrom
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bob Wallstrom

=====
From: Friend bogle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend bogle

=====
From: Friend Bohannon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bohannon

=====
From: Friend Bohlen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bohlen

=====

From: Friend Boldrrick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Boldrrick

=====

From: Friend Bolich
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bolich

=====

From: Friend bolton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend bolton

=====
From: Friend booth
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend booth

=====
From: Friend Boren
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Boren

=====
From: Friend Bouurn
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bouurn

=====
From: Friend Bowen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bowen

=====
From: Friend Bowles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bowles

=====
From: Friend Brace
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brace

=====

From: Friend brad Gandee
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend brad Gandee

=====

From: Friend Bradley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bradley

=====

From: Friend Brad Van Buskirk
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet,

I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brad Van Buskirk

=====
From: Friend Brady
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brady

=====
From: Friend Brafford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brafford

=====
From: Friend brais
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the

FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brant

=====
From: Friend Brandenburger
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brandenburger

=====
From: Friend Brant
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brant

=====
From: Friend Braswell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Braswell

=====

From: Friend Bratt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bratt

=====

From: Friend Breen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Breen

=====

From: Friend Brehm

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brehm

=====

From: Friend breuggeman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend breuggeman

=====

From: Friend Brian T. Bell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brian T. Bell

=====

From: Friend Bridges
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bridges

=====

From: Friend Brisbin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brisbin

=====

From: Friend Britt
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Britt

=====

From: Friend Brooks
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brooks

=====

From: Friend Brownlee
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brownlee

=====

From: Friend BRUCE
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend BRUCE

=====
From: Friend Bruce Fry
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bruce Fry

=====
From: Friend Bruce M. Pierce
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bruce M. Pierce

=====
From: Friend Bruffy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control

and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bruffy

=====
From: Friend Brummond
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brummond

=====
From: Friend bruscemi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend bruscemi

=====
From: Friend Brusman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free

is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Brusman

=====
From: Friend Bryan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bryan

=====
From: Friend Bryant
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bryant

=====
From: Friend Buck
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Buck

=====

From: Friend Buff
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Buff

=====

From: Friend Bullard
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bullard

=====

From: Friend Bundy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bundy

=====
From: Friend Bunnell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Bunnell

=====
From: Friend Burdick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Burdick

=====
From: Friend Burgjohann
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Burgjohann

=====
From: Friend Burke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Burke

=====
From: Friend Burkman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Burkman

=====
From: Friend burton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Burton

=====
From: Friend Burton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Burton

=====
From: Friend Buth
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Buth

=====
From: Friend Byrum
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Byrum

=====

From: Friend Caballero
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Caballero

=====

From: Friend Caguimbal
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Caguimbal

=====

From: Friend Cairns

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cairns

=====
From: Friend caldwell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend caldwell

=====
From: Friend Callucci
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Callucci

=====

From: Friend Camarano
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Camarano

=====

From: Friend campbell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend campbell

=====

From: Friend Campbell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Campbell

=====
From: Friend Cannella
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cannella

=====
From: Friend Cantrell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cantrell

=====
From: Friend Card
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Card

=====
From: Friendcarl bebar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friendcarl bebar

=====
From: Friend Carle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carle

=====
From: Friend Carleton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carleton

=====
From: Friend Carl Griffin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carl Griffin

=====
From: Friend carlo
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend carlo

=====
From: Friend carlson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend carlson

=====
From: Friend Carlson
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carlson

=====
From: Friend Caroline Summerlin
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Caroline Summerlin

=====
From: Friend Carol Longdon
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carol Longdon

=====

From: Friend carolyn Storey
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend carolyn Storey

=====

From: Friend Carolyn Wheelright
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carolyn Wheelright

=====

From: Friend carrol pigg
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're

enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend carrol pigg

=====
From: Friend Carter
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Carter

=====
From: Friend casanave
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend casanave

=====
From: Friend case-jacobs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend case-jacobs

=====
From: Friend Cass
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cass

=====
From: Friend Cassar
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cassar

=====
From: Friend Cassoni
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cassoni

=====

From: Friend Castoral
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Castoral

=====

From: Friend CAUDILL
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend CAUDILL

=====

From: Friend Cauthon

Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cauthon

=====

From: Friend Cepeda
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cepeda

=====

From: Friend chapple
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend chapple

=====

From: Friend charles
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend charles

=====

From: Friend Cheesman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cheesman

=====

From: Friend CHENIER
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend CHENIER

=====

From: Friend Chernick
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Chernick

=====

From: Friend cheryl Kauffman
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend cheryl Kauffman

=====

From: Friend Cheryl Meeker
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cheryl Meeker

=====
From: Friend Cheyenne Ritenour
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cheyenne Ritenour

=====
From: Friend Chriceol
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Chriceol

=====
From: Friend Chris Rousselle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like

many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Chris Rousselle

=====
From: Friend Christensen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Christensen

=====
From: Friend Christie
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Christie

=====
From: Friend Church
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government

didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Church

=====

From: Friend Churchwell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Churchwell

=====

From: Friend Claire
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Claire

=====

From: Friend Clampett
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Clampett

=====

From: Friend Clarence Perkins
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Clarence Perkins

=====

From: Friend Clare Rothi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Clare Rothi

=====

From: Friend Clarke
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge

of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Clarke

=====
From: Friend Cloud
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cloud

=====
From: Friend cohen
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend cohen

=====
From: Friend Colaizzi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Colaizzi

=====

From: Friend cole
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend cole

=====

From: Friend Collet
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Collet

=====

From: Friend Colorossi
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00

Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Colorossi

=====
From: Friend Colwell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Colwell

=====
From: Friend Combs
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Combs

From: Friend Connie Chappell
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Connie Chappell

=====

From: Friend Conroy
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Conroy

=====

From: Friend cook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend cook

=====

From: Friend Cook
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cook

=====

From: Friend cooper
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend cooper

=====

From: Friend Cooper
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cooper

=====
From: Friend corley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend corley

=====
From: Friend Cotton
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cotton

=====
From: Friend Cox
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cox

=====

From: Friend Cramm
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Cramm

=====

From: Friend crawford
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend crawford

=====

From: Friend Crawley
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Crawley

=====
From: Friend Crean
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Crean

=====
From: Friend cronkite
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend cronkite

=====
From: Friend Dafoe
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded

with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Dafoe

=====

From: Friend DAILEY
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend DAILEY

=====

From: Friend Dameron
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Dameron

=====

From: Friend Danelz
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCCâ\200\231s crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf

for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Daniel

=====

From: Friend Daniel Dunstan
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Daniel Dunstan

=====

From: FriendDaniel Kopetski
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before they're enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will change and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didn't regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along - no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulation just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCC's dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, FriendDaniel Kopetski

=====

From: Friend Daniel Lewis
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

Dear Mr. Wheeler, As an American citizen, I wanted to voice my opposition to the FCC's crippling new regulations that would put federal bureaucrats in charge of internet freedom, and urge you to stop these regulations before theyâ\200\231re enacted. If the federal government goes through these plans to regulate the internet, I know that the internet will changeâ\200\224and not for the better. The Internet is not broken, and does not need to be fixed. Left-wing extremists have been crying wolf for the past decade about the harm to the Internet if the Federal government didnâ\200\231t regulate it. Not only were they wrong, but the Internet has exploded with innovation. Do not regulate the Internet. The best way to keep it open and free is what has kept it open and free all along â\200\223 no government intervention. Like many Americans, I believe that the internet should remain free of government control and unnecessary regulationâ\200\224just as it has for the last twenty years of unprecedented growth. Please stop the FCCâ\200\231s dangerous new regulations, and protect the future of internet freedom here in America. Sincerely, Friend Daniel Lewis

=====
From: Friend dan kyle
Date: 09/05/2014 00:00:00
Subject: Do Not Regulate the Internet

